VOL. XXXXIII. OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 9, 1897. NO. 129.

HUDELSON'S ANSWER.

A Denial of the Charges Made by His Alleged Wife.

SAYS HE NEVER MARRIED HER

The Maritial Relations of the Plaintiff in the Case.

HOW THE MATTER STARTED.

Some Strange Admissions Made In Cora's Cross-Examinations.

This morning a larger lobby was in attendance at the Hudelson trial. The plaintiff, "Mrs. Hudelson," as Attorney Terry will have it, "Cora Webster," as the defendant's attorney calls her, was recalled to the stand for cross-examination. The features of her past life were extensively gone into and then a number of depositions from persons in San Jacinto were introduced to show that she had married a man named Willem in the town, by contract. With the establishment of this fact the defendant sought to prove bigamy.

The common law marriage with a man named Sanborn was also tried to be proven. A long deposition from Sanborn has been filed, ready to be introduced by the defense.

The cross-examination then took a wider scope and brought into the testimony the relation with many men, whom witness admitted knew her as Cora Webster.

Attorney Hatton introduced a letter in evidence. It was written by the plaintiff to defendant on February 20th, 1896, from Modesto. It read as follows:

"Modesto, Cal., Feb. 20th, '96. Mr. E. F. Hudelson—Dear Sir: I hope you will pardon me for thus addressing you, but times have been more than quiet and one piece of hard luck after another compelled me to return to this town. Of which I regret, as there are so many making enquiries in regard to the time we first became acquainted and our relationship to each other.

"It makes it very unpleasant for me so much so that I wish to get away from it all.

I am financially embarrassed and know no one that will assist me, unless they are recompensed and I am like the general in the army.

"To make a long story short, will you assist me to get away from here. It will take a hundred dollars to say the least.

"Hoping to get a speedy reply that I will know what move to make, I am as ever, yours truly, Cora Webster."

Another letter, following the preceding one, a month later concluded with:

"Thinking to avoid trouble for yourself and family as well as for myself, I most sincerely hope this may receive a speedy reply. Cora Webster."

MANY NAMES.

Questions as to the happenings since the plaintiff has been in San Francisco brought out a vigorous objection but this was overruled. The testimony on this line of cross-examination brought out the fact that the woman has resided at a great many places in San Francisco under a variety of different names. At all of those places Detective J. J. Butler paid the expenses. First she stopped at 408 Haight street under the name of Mrs. Johnson, and next at the Russ House. At 431 O'Farrell she went under the name of Mrs. Jackson. At 518 Taylor street she was known as Mrs. Lake. Mrs. Martin was the name she chose when she resided at 629 O'Farrell street, and on returning to the Russ House later, she was known as Mrs. J. J. Jackson.

The witness frankly admitted Butler paid all her expenses and was helping her in the case, though she had known him but three days prior to the time he took such interest in the matter. She did not know whether he had paid the court fees, nor did she know who had. She declared she had no money herself.

When questioned as to how she had met Butler, the witness stated that notary public B. S. O'Donnell had brought him to her house. She is now living at the Russ House in San Francisco, where Butler pays her bills.

At this point noon recess was taken.

HUDELSON'S DEPOSITION.

Portions of the deposition of Benjamin F. Hudelson, which was taken some time ago, is as follows:

Q.—What is your name, Mr. Hudelson?

A.—Benjamin F. Hudelson.

Q.—How old are you?

A.—Thirty-seven.

Q.—Where were you born?

A.—In Stanislaus county.

Q.—Where do you reside at present?

A.—Alameda county.

Q.—How long have you resided there?

A.—Lived there since, I think, it was the 11th of November, 1891.

Q.—What is your business or profession now?

A.—Clergyman.

Q.—Do you follow that now?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—What is your occupation at the present time?

A.—State President of the American Protective Association.

Q.—How long have you occupied that position?

A.—Since January, 1895.

Q.—Were you residing in Stanislaus during the years of 1884, 1885 and 1886?

A.—No, sir. A part of the time I was.

Q.—Will you be kind enough to state what portion of the time?

A.—I was residing in Stanislaus county in 1884 and a portion of 1885.

Q.—Do you know the plaintiff in this action?

A.—I do not. No, sir.

Q.—Do you know a woman named Cora Webster, who resided in Stanislaus county during 1884 and 1885?

A.—I do; yes, sir.

Q.—What was her occupation?

A.—She was a public character.

Q.—Where was she conducting her business?

A.—A part of the time, I think, at a place known as "No. 5"; a part of the time at what was known as the Brooklyn Hotel.

Q.—When you first became acquainted with her, where was she conducting her business?

A.—At "No. 5."

Q.—That was a public resort?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—When did you first become acquainted with her, what year?

A.—I cannot fix that. It was in 1882 or 1883. I cannot fix the time.

Q.—What business were you engaged in when you first met her, Mr. Hudelson?

A LAW CLERK.

A.—I think I was a clerk in a law office when I first met her.

Q.—Were you engaged in the study of law?

A.—I studied law some, yes, sir.

Q.—Were you afterwards in the livery stable business?

A.—I was afterwards, yes, sir; I was in the livery business in—that was after—I think it was in 1883 that I was in the livery business.

Q.—You were a single man then, were you?

A.—Yes, sir.

The deponent then told of his understanding of the character of the plaintiff and of the visits which he paid to her.

Q.—What was her name at that time, if you know?

A.—She went by the name of Cora.

Q.—Did you call her by that name?

A.—Yes, sir, most of the time.

Q.—Did you address her by any other name?

A.—She told me that her real name was Millie Johnson.

Q.—Now, Mr. Hudelson, did you ever make a proposition to this woman, during the latter part of 1885, to go up in the mountains and take up land with her?

A.—I did not.

Q.—Did you make any trip into the mountains with her in 1885?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—What time was that and who was with you?

A.—I cannot fix the time as just to the month.

Q.—Well, about the season or time of the year.

A.—Nor can I fix the time at all; she was forward and back in the mountains.

THE MOUNTAIN TRIP.

Q.—I am speaking now, of the first trip that was made to the mountains. Did you go up there and look at some land, which was to be taken up in her company?

A.—I first went to the mountains in her company not for the purpose of taking up any land.

Q.—Did you make a trip with her to the mountains?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Can you fix the time that you made that trip, Mr. Hudelson?

A.—I cannot fix the time.

Q.—Was it spring, summer, fall or winter?

A.—I think it was in the summer.

Q.—Do you know whether you made it alone or not—you and she alone?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—In a buggy or on horseback?

A.—In a buggy.

Q.—What was the purpose of the trip?

A.—Purpose was going to the mountains for an outing of a few days.

Q.—It was not the purpose of that trip to take up any government land or settle there?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—Where was that trip made to,—what part of Stanislaus County?

A.—I think it was to a part of what is known as Big Oak Flat.

Q.—How long did the trip take, Mr. Hudelson?

A.—One day.

Q.—Did you go and return the same day?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—How long did you remain up there?

A.—I can only approximate. From my memory, possibly a couple of days.

Q.—How many nights.

A.—Two.

Q.—Where did you stop those two nights?

A.—We stopped at a place owned by Mr. Joseph Shote.

Q.—Was that a public house?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—You then returned to Modesto?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—I will ask if you know Mrs. Madley, an old lady, about 65 or 70 years of age?

A.—Yes sir.

Q.—Was she the owner of "No. 5?"

A.—Not that I know of.

A DENIAL.

Q.—I will ask you if you then or ever after this—after your return from the trip to the mountains with this woman, did not state to Mrs. Medley, no one else being present, words in substance as follows: "Mrs. Medley, Millie and I got married last night; we are going to quit this mode of living and are going to the mountains to live," and thereupon Mrs. Medley congratulated her upon her change?

A.—I never did.

Q.—Did you ever state to Mrs. Medley at that time or at any other time that you and the woman known as Cora Webster had been married and were going to the mountains to live?

A.—I never did.

Q.—Did you ever say to Mrs. Medley in the presence of this woman known as Cora that, "Millie and I have got married and are going to the mountains to take up land?"

A.—I never did.

Q.—Did you ever state at that time or at any other time to anyone that you and this woman, plaintiff in this case, had married or made an agreement to marry?

A.—No.

Q.—After the first trip to the mountains did this woman continue to live at "No. 5?"

A.—I do not know.

Q.—Did she not soon after this time go to reside at the Brooklyn Hotel?

A.—I can't state as to how soon it was.

Q.—Was there no understanding or agreement between you and this woman that she was to dispose of what personal effects she had in this "No. 5" and go to this place to live?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—Did she go to the Brooklyn Hotel to live?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Did you visit her?

A.—Yes, sir, at times.

Q.—Soon after the plaintiff ceased living at this place called the Brooklyn Hotel, did you take her to your father's place?

A.—Soon after she left "No. 5."

By Associated Press to the Tribune.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 9.—The Most Worshipful Sovereign Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, which has been in session here several days, has completed its labors and adjourned.

The Masonic Aid Association has been revived and the following trustees elected: John C. Rivers, William N. Sanderson, J. K. Dickinson, W. R. Strickland, William Mitchell.

Oakland was selected as the next place of meeting.

The following officers were elected: M. W. Grand Master, William H. Mauldin of Sacramento; R. W. Deputy Grand Master, Samuel E. Young of San Francisco; R. W. Grand Senior Warden, William N. Sanderson of Oakland; R. W. Grand Junior Warden, A. D. Wall of Marysville; R. W. Grand Treasurer, George W. Mitchell of San Francisco; R. W. Grand Secretary, Frank W. Johnson of San Francisco.

FUNERAL OF THE THREE FIREMEN.

An Impressive Scene Witnessed in the Streets of San Francisco.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—The funeral of the three firemen who perished in Sunday while in the discharge of their duties was held today and was made a public event.

Three hearses driven abreast conveyed the remains from the O'Farrell street engine house to St. Patrick's Church, and an escort of police and firemen, headed by the Second Regiment Band, accompanied them.

Mayor Phelan and most of the city officials followed in carriages, while a long train of vehicles bore the friends of the deceased.

The ceremonies at the church and cemetery were very impressive.

RANDSBURG'S RICHES.

More Marvellous Strikes Are Reported From the New Camp.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

RANDSBURG, Cal., June 9.—The camp is agog with excitement over the new strikes made yesterday.

The Wedge mine opened up a four and a half foot body of rich ore, the counterpart of the rich strike made three weeks ago in the Kinyon mine. The rock fairly glitters with gold, and much of it shows the value of a dollar per ounce.

This is on the 315 foot level, and every blast shows richer ore. In the Valverde No. 2 shaft, where the ore heretofore was of low grade, running about $8 per ton, another rich strike was made yesterday, and ore worth $300 per ton is now being taken out.

DEPUTY WOODSUM IS TO RETIRE.

His Place in the County Clerk's Office to Go to James Oliver.

County Clerk Jordan is rearranging his staff, and as a result of the overhauling George D. Woodsum retires and James Oliver will take his place. Both Woodsum and Oliver are from Berkeley and have many friends. Woodsum has proved an efficient and capable officer and retires with the best wishes of all. He has already turned over his keys.

Oliver is one of the bright young men of Berkeley. He is an ardent Republican, and was chairman of the delegation at the recent convention. He is a University graduate and has many friends in social and political circles.

CHARGED WITH TEACHING HERESY.

Sensational Charges Against the Professors of the Texas University.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

AUSTIN, Texas, June 9.—A sensation was created in the Legislature today by the introduction of a resolution in the House providing for the appointment of a committee to investigate the management of the State University in this city.

The resolution charges that the professors are against the intrests of the institution and are teaching heresy and inflating the minds of the pupils with Republican political faith and that the entire management of the institution, as well as the students, are suffering by the presence of these Northern "Ishmaelites."

The resolution, which went over until tomorrow, charges the committee to secure the dismissal of the Northern professors, if any of them are found in the University.

DUBOIS TO BE THE CHAIRMAN.

Chairman Towne Is to Appoint an Executive Silver Committee.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, June 9.—The Executive Committee of the National Silver Republican party held a session this afternoon to discuss methods of carrying on the organization. The National Committee of the party did not hold a meeting today as intended but decided to leave the selection of the Executive Committee to Chairman Towne.

Ex-Senator Fred W. Dubois of Idaho, will be chairman of this committee. The others have not yet been selected. National headquarters will be in charge of Ex-Congressman Towne and for the present will be at Duluth. The committee favored immediate organization for the Congressional elections of 1898 and also for the campaign of 1900, and instructed Chairman Towne to push this work as rapidly as possible.

Chairman Towne said today the conference was better attended than he expected and that he believed it indicated that the Silver Republicans would hold the balance of power in the Congressional and Presidential elections.

AFTER WAITING YEARS.

The Legatees of the Merritt Estate Receive Their Bequests.

Since the Supreme Court of the United States rendered a decision three weeks ago ending the long litigation over the Merritt estate, the heirs have received their portions. The bequests were paid as soon as possible after the decision was given.

The estate has been involved in litigation for over six years. The heirs received their specified shares and no interest was paid on the money. This is the last act in this famous contest.

Death of Alvin Clark.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NO TAX ON BEER

The Proposed Duty on Tea Will Also Be Voted Down.

GREAT POPULAR PRESSURE.

The Senate Finance Committee Decides Against the Charges.

HOW TO GET REVENUE NOW.

A System of Bank Check Stamps Suggested as a Relief.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The Republican members of the Finance Committee will withdraw the amendments for an additional tax on beer and for the duty of ten cents a pound on tea.

In explanation a member of the Finance Committee said that the pressure for the withdrawal of these amendments has been very great and that many Republican Senators have made decided stands against them.

The formal action of the committee on the subject has not been taken but the determination has been reached.

The members of the Committee are still in doubt as to what shall be done with increases on tobacco in the internal revenue part of the bill but there has been great pressure to have these taxes reduced.

The question of revenue is giving the Committee considerable concern and if there should be a withdrawal of the increases in tobacco as well as those on beer and tea the bill would not meet the needs of the Government as a revenue producer.

For this reason, it has been practically determined to make a bank check stamp tax and the question of additional revenue by means of a system of stamp taxes on beer has been under consideration. The Committee is considering these questions.

TARIFF TALK IN THE SENATE.

Rice and Tapioca Schedules Bring About a Debate.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The venerable Mr. Morrill of Vermont, chairman of the Finance Committee, was in the Senate today after an illness of some weeks.

A concurrent resolution offered by Mr. Allen of Nebraska was agreed to, nationalizing the Trans-Mississippi exposition to be held at Omaha and requesting the President to invite foreign nations to participate.

A joint resolution on the same general subject was agreed to suspending the immigration and Chinese exclusion laws so as to permit foreign labor to take charge of foreign exhibits at the Trans-Mississippi exposition.

Consideration of the tariff bill was resumed at 12:15 P. M. No mention was made as to the time of taking up the sugar schedule and the debate proceeded on the agricultural schedule.

On the rice paragraph Mr. Allison, in charge of the bill, withdrew the committee amendments reducing the House rates, thus leaving the House rates stand.

Mr. Mills of Texas moved to strike out the entire rice paragraph and substitute a new one placing a uniform duty of forty per cent ad valorem on all grades of rice. Rejected, 19—40.

Five Democrats, Bacon, Clay, McEnery, Melaurin and Tillman and four Populists, Allen, Butler, Heitfeld and Stewart, voted with the Republicans in the negative.

The rice paragraph was then agreed to as it came from the House. Rye and rye flour was agreed to as reported.

Paragraph 221 on tapioca had been struck out by the Senate. On the question of agreeing to this change, Mr. Rawlins (Utah) took the floor to answer Mr. Vest's statement yesterday, "that a new evangel" of Democratic doctrine was being proclaimed by certain Democratic Senators. Mr. Rawlins said he had been a member of the committee on resolutions and platform at the Chicago convention, presenting that tariff clause which had been under discussion. It was on his motion that it was agreed to.

Lindsay of Kentucky, platform in hand, interrupted to ask Mr. Rawlins, since he presented the tariff clause, why the good old Democratic word "only" after tariff for revenue came to be omitted.

"Was it an intentional omission?" Mr. Lindsay asked.

"I think not," responded Mr. Rawlins.

"I can throw some light on that subject," said Mr. Tillman, who was also a member of the committee on platform at Chicago. "It was omitted purposely after discussion."

The Secretary of the Navy today sent to the Senate, in response to a resolution of inquiry, a statement concerning the cost and quantity of armor plate which has been supplied to the Government by the Carnegie and Bethlehem Companies since they began the supply. The statement shows that the Carnegie Company has supplied 12,127 tons at prices ranging from $515 to $661 and that the Bethlehem Company has supplied 13,301 tons within the same range of prices. Referring to the clause in the Senate's resolution asking for information as to how much financial assistance the Government has given to companies, the Secretary says that no assistance has been given either of the companies financially or otherwise in producing armor or gun steel for the army or the navy.

The Senate Judiciary Committee has considered the resolution of Senator Tillman concerning the South Carolina dispensary decision by Judge Simonton. While no definite conclusion has been reached, the opinion in the committee was that South Carolina had recourse first by appeal to the Court of Appeals and then by appeal to the Supreme Court.

ANGELL MAY NOT GO TO TURKEY.

It Is Not Yet Known If He Will Be Persona Grata.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Dr. Angell will be obliged to cancel his engagement to sail for Europe day after tomorrow.

Up to this time the Turkish government has not returned an opinion as to whether the explanations offered as to the record of the Minister are satisfactory to it and it is not deemed wise to make an issue by allowing Mr. Angell to proceed to his post at Constantinople until it is known positively that he will be persona grata.

The delay of the Turkish government in passing upon Dr. Angell's acceptability is causing some discomfort at the State Department, but the officials have not yet changed their belief that in the end the Minister will be received.

WHAT HE SAYS.

DETROIT (Mich.), June 9.—The News correspondent at Ann Arbor quotes Dr. Angell as saying that he may not go to Turkey as United States Minister. Dr. Angell declined to say why the matter is still in doubt.

CANADA'S CHANCE.

If the Treaty Is Abrogated the Hawaiian Trade Will Go There.

INDUCEMENTS ARE OFFERED.

A Compromise About Immigrants Has Been Effected With Japan.

PART PAYMENTS ORDERED.

Refusal to Renew the Exclusive Cable Contract With Z. S. Spaulding.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Advices have just been received from Honolulu per steamship Australia to the effect that Japanese Minister Shimura has changed his attitude to some extent since the last advices from the Hawaiian capital.

After the departure of the steamship Peru several conferences were held between Minister Cooper and Shimura, with the result that the Japanese representative made proposals of a much more reasonable nature than those which he first offered. Originally Japan demanded indemnity for the total number of immigrants turned away from the Islands; now, however, it is understood that she is willing to accept damages in such cases where the immigrant was illegally rejected. This proposition the Hawaiian Government will accept.

The original demand was for $10.60 yen for each man refused a landing. The Hawaiian Government admits that among the thousand or more immigrants a few errors may have been made; and if any such appear upon a thorough investigation, expresses its readiness to pay for such mistakes upon the part of its officials.

At the instance of R. P. Rithet, a wealthy ship owner of San Francisco, the sugar planters of the Island republic are considering several propositions tending toward independent action and the throwing off the yoke of the sugar trust.

One, it is understood, is the establishment of a refinery at Vancouver, B. C., in case the reciprocity treaty is abrogated.

The Canadian Government is willing to grant a concession to Hawaii in return for her business, and the Canadian Pacific Road will furnish special terms for transportation to the Atlantic seaboard should the scheme be carried out.

In any event, however, the planters are resolved to fight the trust, and should the treaty not be interfered with, it is proposed to ship all the sugar raised in Hawaii to New York or Philadelphia, where it will be sold in open market to the highest bidder.

If the Hawaiian output is shipped round the Horn, the large sailing fleet now plying between the Islands and San Francisco will be withdrawn and an opposition line of steamers, backed by Hawaiians, substituted.

It is understood that the cause of the trouble between the planters and the Spreckels combine is the increased rate demanded by the latter for hauling Hawaiian sugar, namely, ¾ of a cent per pound.

The Hawaiian Government has refused to renew the exclusive cable contract with Z. S. Spaulding, awarded eighteen months ago and expiring the 1st of May. It is now said they will contract with the first company making a legitimate offer. Minister Cooper hopes that Hawaii will be one of the stations on the proposed Canadian-Australian cable system.

TO DECIDE TOMORROW

Annexotion All Ready for the Fight at the Polls.

THE ISSUE IS PRESENTED.

Undoubtod Advantages Would Rosult to the District.

PROTECTION. FROM FIRE.

The Situa'ion Defined on the Eve of the Struggle.

Tomorrow morning at 4:38 A. M. the polls will be opened and by 5 o'clock the fate of Greater Oakland will be in the ballot box.

Those interested in seeing the northern territory annexed are making their last efforts today and the Annexation League expresses itself unqualifiedly as confident of success. The League has worked hard and steadfastly for everal months and whatever the result they are certainly to be congratulated in the vim and system with which they have carried out their campaign.

This morning the League issued the following circular which is worthy of all consideration:

"A vote for annexation is a vote for labor.

"The erection o fnew buildings gives work to all classes.

"Bring the vacant lots inside the city, and they will soon be occupied."

"Owners of large tracts don't like annexation. They prefer to grow rich by the other fellow improving alongside of their property.

"A vote for annexation is a vote towards a city and county government.

"New school buildings in the annexed district, will be built by the entire city contributing, if annexation carries.

"The public schools of Oakland will be opened free of tuition fees if the outsiders vote to annex.

"The annexationist wants fire protection. A fire dog is one that don't want fire protection.

"Illegal voting is now a dangerous pastime. It is well to be careful."

ANNEXATION FACTS.

Some Figures That Tersely Tell the Complete Story.

In order to show at a glance some of the advantages that would follow annexation, a statement has been prepared in which the benefits that would accrue to the citizens of the annexed territory are as follows:

The free use of Oakland's general system of sewers. While the Piedmont Sanitary District paid out $7,000 for the use of one outlet, and has a sanitary tax to-day of 80 cents on the $100.

The free use of the schools of Oakland. $4,200 paid last year by residents of the proposed annexed district for tuition fees to Oakland.

A general system of electric lighting, police and fire alarm telegraphs.

The extension of the Oakland Fire Department. One of the very best in the United States, according to the insurance returns.

Reduction in water rates, according to the fixed charges of Oakland.

Reduction in fire insurance rates, and rates of interest on loans.

A regular free mail delivery and collection of mail at regular hours.

Free use of the books of the Oakland Free Library and Reading Rooms.

Extension of the Oakland Police Department, saving expense of specials.

The right to organize tax districts, for the purpose of putting in new sewers, where it is not desired to pay for the same all at once.

THE TAX PROBLEM.

At the present rate of taxation, property owners, for all the advantages enumerated will only have to pay 49 cents more on the $100 of valuation. As to whether or not this is an exorbitant rate the following table will show. They are the rates in seven of the larger cities of California, the figures given being those paid in the annexed territory, in comparison with what the rate has been in Oakland for the past sixteen years:

Marysville, Cal., city tax, $2.40; city, county and State, $4.30; Sacramento, city tax, $1.92, city county and State, $3.37; Los Angeles, city tax, $1.30, city, county and State, $2.75; Stockton, city tax, $1.54, city, county, and State, $3.41; Fresno, city tax, $1.00, city, county, and State, $2.25; San Jose city tax, $1.25, city, county, and State, $2.25; Oakland, 1897, city tax, $1.12, city, county, and State, $2.09; Oakland average, 16 years, $1.00; annexed district would be 83, total, $1.80.

McCLYMONDS' VIEWS.

J. W. McClymonds, Superintendent of Schools of Oakland has made a statement of a few facts that speak for themselves.

"The city of Oakland," said he, "is well provided with school buildings, over $500,000 having been expended for such in the last eight years. About $100,000 of this was raised by direct taxation. The other $400,000 was raised by bonding the city. This annexed district cannot be assessed for any part of these bonds and even in the case of a refusal only the district where originally issued can be assessed.

"We have a High School in Oakland that will accommodate, if necessary, 1,200 pupils. It could easily accommodate 1,000. There are 624 pupils attending the High School today. We have a building in East Oakland, the Sweet school, that was built for High School purposes and there are from fifteen to eighteen rooms vacant in the city of Oakland."

CITY OR WILDERNESS?

The following statement of the effect and responsibilities of annexation was prepared today by Secretary Nalsmith of the Annexation League:

"When the question of annexation was before the people two years ago, those who are now fighting the project so hard, were doing so the same thing then. But then they used other arguments.

"The district then sought to be annexed left out Golden Gate and Lower Piedmont. One of the circulars distributed at that time, contained a map showing a cut of the district sought to be annexed, surrounded by a dotted line showing what they claimed would be a larger and a more desirable district to have annexed. They even went so far as to have a petition signed and presented to the City Council, asking them to call an election on the larger district. Among other matters that the circular referred to contained, was this argument. 'Defeat the small annexation district, and the large one will be at once considered.'

"That was the main cry two years ago, how well they kept their promises to submit the larger district to the people is well known. After they had used the people of the district to further their own ends, they had no further use for them. The larger district proposition they never had submitted, because they were as much opposed to that as they were to the smaller district.

SOME ACTUAL FACTS.

"Now they argue that if annexation is carried, it will delay the formation of a city and county government, while the actual facts in the case are, that annexation is the very first and only step towards accomplishing the formation of a city and county government. Annexation was the course pursued in San Francisco, and in all places today working under a combined city and county government. The outside districts are all first anexed, then the city and county government is formed.

Tanner Signs It.

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.), June 9.—Gov. Tanner signed the famous Allen Street Railway bill to-day. It authorizes fifty-year extensions of existing street railway franchises, allows five cent fares to continue, permits consolidation of companies and makes no provision for compensation to municipalities.

Approached a Jury.

OMAHA, Neb.), June 9.—Josiah S. Wright, who was arrested yesterday for undertaking to tamper with the jury in the Bartlett case, pleaded guilty to-day. Judge Baker sentenced him to two years in jail. The jury has been completed.

Ordered to Puget Sound.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Commander J. C. Green has been ordered to the command of the Puget Sound Naval Station.

To Test the Ordinance.

A warrant was sworn to today by James Eadie an employe of the crematory charging A. Briggs with gathering garbage within the city limits. Since the passage of the ordinance giving the crematory the sole and exclusive right to gather and dispose of all garbage within the city limits, no attention has been paid to those who continued to gather the refuse. Several arrests have been made, however, of those who have dumped the garbage. Now the crematory has decided to test the ordinance in every particular.

HE LOVED A MARRIED WOMAN.

A Washington Tragedy Result From an Insane Passion.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—A tragedy in which the details were almost precisely similar to those of the Barber suicide and attempted murder occurred this morning at 820 Fourteenth street, the home of Cherubino Guilani, an Italian fruit vender.

Tacopo Ferrari, 28 years old, had been paying so much attention to Mrs. Guilani, 32, that he made himself offensive to both herself and her husband and had been frequently warned not to visit Guilani's home.

This morning the husband having gone to market, Ferrari walked through Guilani's fruit store to the back yard where Mrs. Guilani was hanging clothes on the line and made a furious assault upon her, stabbing her in the neck and then shooting her.

Then he turned the revolver upon himself and the bullet lodged in the brain, causing almost instant death. Mrs. Guilani may recover.

THE COHEN CASE.

Some Diseased Cows Occupy the Attention of Judge Clift.

The trial of Maurice Cohen of Berkeley, charged with refusing to kill his cows which were afflicted with tuberculosis was continued before Judge Clift this afternoon. Attorney Garber for the defendant moved for a dismissal on the ground that the complaint did not specify what cows were diseased, and also that Cohen had not refused to kill the animals. Judge Clift denied the motion.

Frank Enclada was the first witness for the defense. He was employed at Cohen's residence when Dr. Rowell visited the dairy and ordered certain cows killed. He declared that Dr. Rowell had told Cohen that the latter no longer owned the cows which were seized by the government and he, Rowell, would have to have the animals killed. The witness said that Cohen wanted the alleged diseased cows viewed by an Oakland Inspector before killing them. The cows tagged with a mark denoting their present condition were separated from the remainder of the herd so the witness stated, and were milked separately.

FILLING PROMISED.

There is some reason to believe that Captain Hackett of the Pacific Coast Reclamation and Dredging Company will commence work on the filling in of the West Oakland marsh before long. The matter was discussed at the meeting of the West Oakland Improvement Club last evening, and from verified reports, notwithstanding the injunction of the court, the matter will be adjusted as expeditiously as possible.

George Hansen, a member of the club and a landscape architect by profession, exhibited his plan for the new park. He explained to the club all the minor details regarding the proposed park. There is no question, the members believe, that if the ideas of Mr. Hansen are to be carried out the city will have one of the most attractive pleasure grounds in the State.

Mr. Hanson is now busily engaged in arranging the design for the new depot at Burlingame.

William Walsh, Cyr Melquaind, George Stanley, Colonel Clark, William Christen and others addressed the meeting.

HODGKINS' PROMOTION.

The action of the Police and Fire Commissioners in making Police Sergeant Hodgkins a detective, which is elsewhere recorded, has been expected for some time and has given general satisfaction in police circles. Mr. Hodgkins has unquestionable ability in ferreting out crime, and his record in this respect is an enviable one. His work in the case of Root and "Big Foot Gordon," the gold brick swindlers, attracted the atention of police authorities on the Coast and even in the Eastern cities.

A Claim Compromised.

The legatees of the estate of Zeno Kelley have compromised the claim of the widow, Mrs. S. F. Kelley, for $500. The estate consists of $375.75 in bank, household furniture valued at $125, and $2,000, the deceased's share of the proceeds of the sale of land on the southeast corner of Eighth and Brush streets, on which Kelley originally held a second mortgage for $4,000. The first mortgage of $2,000, held by the Union Savings Bank, took precedence when the property was foreclosed. As the sale only realized $4,000, the estate loses half the amount of the mortgage held.

Wants to Be Governor.

Your Baby

If we told you that your baby was starving, that actually did not get enough to eat, you might be sent it. And yet there are thousands of babies who never get the fat they should in their food or who are not able to digest the fat that they do get. Fat is a necessity to your baby. It is baby's best food. A few drops of Scott's Emulsion for all little ones one, two and three years of age is better than cream for them. They thrive and grow on it.

STRUCK HIS STEPFATHER.

A Complaint Filed Against Henry Kramm by A. Simons.

Offense Taken at an Answer to a Question by the Accused.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Henry Kramm, son of the late Charles Kramm and brother of Charles Kramm Jr., proprietor of the Anchor brewery. The charge is of battery, his step-father, Anthony Simons, being the aggrieved person and complaining witness.

Mr. Simons married Kramm's mother a couple of years ago, and it is said that the Kramm boys have never become reconciled to the marriage.

Mrs. Simons, when seen by a Tribune reporter this morning, was very reticent, but through her tears she said that her sons had never gotten over her marriage with Simons.

This morning at 7 o'clock, she said, while she was away, both Charley and Henry Kramm called at the Simons house, 314 Telegraph avenue, and asked for their mother.

Simons answered that "the person" for whom they were looking was away, whereupon Henry Kramm struck him. Simons has been laid up for several months with a broken leg.

Henry Kramm surrendered himself this this afternoon. He was admitted to bail, his bondsmen being his brother Charley and Theodore Gier.

PUBLIC WORKS.

A Number of Minor Matters Come Up for Action.

The Board of Public Works convened this morning, with Dow, Clement and Mayor Thomas present.

A letter of thanks was read from George Hansen, the successful gardener, who won the first prize for his plans for the proposed West Oakland park.

A petition signed by twenty-two residents of Oakland, requesting that John Ray be appointed street sprinkler, was filed.

The report of the City Wharfinger, P. L. White, had the following items: Dockage, $497.93; tolls, $356.85; water and telephone, $21.20; total earnings for the month, $873.08; paid to City Treasurer, $785.97.

A requisition by the Board of Education on the Board of Public Works for cement sidewalks on the High school and also on the Lincoln school premises, were referred, the former to the City Engineer, the latter to the committee of the whole. A requisition for needed material for piping water on the High school grounds was referred to the committee of the whole.

A resolution was made directing the City Engineer to make a survey of the Sixth street engine house lot in order to construct a brick wall on the rear.

DIED IN HARNESS.

A Montana Outlaw Who Had a Rather Stirring Time.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

DILLON, Mont., June 9.—Under Sheriff Smith of Beaver Head County arrived in Dillon today from the Big Hole Basin with the dead body of William Christensen, the rancher, stock raiser and miner who was shot while trying to escape from arrest on the charge of criminal assault on Lena Frederickson, a young girl whom he had recently brought from Utah to work for his wife.

Christensen was the terror of the Big Hole country. He possessed a large amount of property. He came here from Salt Lake. About six years ago his partner was shot and killed.

Christensen said the man shot himself accidentally, and under a bill of sale he took possession of his partner's interest in the business.

MISS GREENHOOD DEAD.

The End Came While She Was Visiting in Los Angeles.

A telegram was received this morning announcing the death of Miss Emily Greenhood, the only daughter of Max Greenhood, the well known Berkeley merchant. Miss Greenhood was in Los Angeles visiting her cousin, Mrs. Leissner. Her death was very sudden, as the family had received no letter stating that she was ill. The telegram announcing her death came as a painful shock to the family. Miss Greenhood was only 18 years of age and was a very accomplished young woman and possessed many warm friends. The remains will be brought home.

TO DIE ON AUGUST 27TH.

The Final Date Set for the Execution of Ben Hill.

The Murderer Was Unmoved When His Fate Was Sealed.

Wife Murderer Benjamin Hill, as unconcerned as though he was going to a picnic, was brought before Judge Ogden this morning to hear the date pronounced on which he will expiate his crime on the gallows.

Deputy Sheriffs Al and Charles White brought him over from the jail. He was linked with Theodore Petellis, charged with the murder of Frank Garrigue.

In appearance, Hill makes a very favorable impression. Since his confinement he has grown quite stout, and seems to take a pride in making a neat appearance. He was attired in a black cutaway suit, black tie and white shirt. His hair was brushed with great precision, while his face had evidently been just shaven. In fact, Hill was attired as on a holiday occasion.

Immediately on entering the court room, the handcuffs were removed and the murderer grasped the hand of his attorney, Tom Bradley. The two then held a consultation while some minor matters were being disposed of.

"The people vs. Benjamin Hill," called Judge Ogden.

Hill stood up.

"You have already been pronounced guilty of murder," continued the Judge, "and it now remains merely for me to set the date of execution."

At this point Attorney Bradley addressed the court, asking that the date be set as far distant as possible, as an appeal is now before the Governor for a commutation.

Judge Ogden did not reply, but continuing said:

"I will fix the date for August 27, 1897; the place, San Quentin, where the Warden will carry out the instructions of the court as ordered at the time of sentence."

This ended the matter. Hill did not show the slightest trace of emotion, other than to heave a sigh after the date had been pronounced.

He was at once taken to the County Jail in charge of two deputies, and this afternoon will be transferred to San Quentin, where he will await his execution.

Attorney Bradley feels confident the Governor will commute the sentence to life imprisonment, according to the long petition filed with him.

A LYNCHING IN MARYLAND.

A Colored Man Is Killed for Feloniously Assaulting a Woman.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

PRINCESS ANNE (Md.), June 9.—William Andrews, colored, alias "Cuba," was taken from the officer at the door of the court house and killed by a mob.

Andrews had been tried, convicted, and sentenced to death for feloniously assaulting Mrs. Benj. T. Kelly, near Marion, May 5.

Judge Page, who passed the death sentence on Andrews, endeavored to reason with the excited crowd, but in vain.

M'CORD ALL RIGHT.

He Will Be Recommended as the Governor of Arizona.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The Senate Committee on Territories today, after a somewhat prolonged investigation agreed to report back the nomination of Hon. M. H. McCord to the Governor of Arizona with a favorable recommendation.

The committee did not divide on the vote but two or three members reserved the right to oppose confirmation in the Senate if so disposed after further investigation.

One of the charges made against Mr. McCord was that he would favor the refunding of certain territorial bonds. He was recalled by the committee and said he had made no promises to the holders of the bonds and had no connection with them.

KILLED ON THE TRACK.

The young son of George Davis, proprietor of the Seven Mile House, on San Pablo road, was run over and killed by a train of the California & Nevada road at MyAvoy's station, Contra Costa county last evening.

The news of the accident was spread by a boy who, it is alleged found the remains on the track of the company about a quarter of a mile this side of Laurel Grove, which is in Contra Costa County, about fifteen miles from this city.

Receiver King of the California & Nevada Road, however, says that no accident of any kind took place on that road yesterday.

Friends of the lad's family, however, say that the boy could not have been injured on the Southern Pacific which is a couple of miles distant from the place where the remains were found.

The body is now in the undertaking room of Beaudry & McAvoy.

THE SPIRITUALISTS.

The spiritualists are holding a series of interesting meetings at Trestle Glen, where a large number of them are encamped. The evening meetings, at which various tests are given, attract large numbers, and some of the results are very interesting. This evening Mrs. Kate Heussihan will give tests and readings. Mrs. R. A. Lillie will lecture tomorrow afternoon, and Dr. St. Clair will give astrological readings. Friday will be devoted to a conference of the old workers, with remarks and tests in the evening by Mme. Florence Montague.

A SICK COW ON PARADE.

The Health Board Decides to Give a Public Exhibition.

After Being Slaughtered the Bovine Will Be Placed on Show.

The Board of Health has decided that the best manner in which the tuberculosis problem can be demonstrated is by giving a public exhibition of the matter.

With this object in view, a cow that has shown by the test that she is afflicted with tuberculosis, has been procured and this morning it was placed inside a large open dray and driven around the municipal streets of the city.

The explantion of the unusual sight was sufficiently described by a large sign that was placed over the wagon. It contained these words:

"SEE THIS COW.

It has tuberculosis and will be slaughtered tomorrow for the inspection of the public."

The Health Officials declare that everybody who has seen the lungs of a diseased cow has become converted to the necessity of having a very stringent ordinance passed giving arbitrary power to the Health Officer in cases where cows have shown that they are diseased. By this manner of proof, a majority of the city officials have been converted.

Tomorrow, the cow that is on parade today will be killed and in a vacant store on Broadway, it will be exhibited for the benefit of the public.

NO TAX ON BEER.

houn, the President's special commissioner to Cuba, had another conference with President McKinley to-day, lasting about three-quarters of an hour. Neither Secretary Sherman nor Assistant Secretary Day was present.

After Mr. Calhoun left the White House he said that he should return to his home at Danville, Ill., this evening. He had nothing to add to what he had already given to the newspapers beyond the fact that he would probably visit Washington again after the President's return from the south for a further consultation.

Mr. Calhoun paid a visit to the State Department with his secretary, Mr. Fishback, and was in consultation with Assistant Secretary Day for about an hour and a half.

The Lee report upon the Ruiz case was brought to the department by Mr. Fishback and delivered to Judge Day, who saw the original twenty-four hours after it had been brought to his attention in the press.

The assistant secretary said that he was not prepared to say that printed publication was inaccurate which in diplomatic parlance is about as far as a State department official can go toward confirming a statement.

The report itself was thoroughly discussed by the three officials.

All that could be gathered from them as to the future action of the department was that the matter would be held in abeyance until the return of President McKinley from his Nashville trip.

It is recalled that the State department has had to seek reparation in other cases involving the confinement of American citizens in violation of treaty rights.

In the cases of Scott and of Tolon, although claims for illegal imprisonment were preferred, they were pigeonholed and never heard of again.

The Spanish Government settled the case of Delgados by the payment of $100,000, which satisfied the individual for the assault upon his person, but there was no record of any apology for the incident. It is evidently the intention of the department, however, not to allow the last case to go the way of its predecessors but to press it to a conclusion.

SPEEDING TO NASHVILLE.

The Presidential Party Has Set Forth in Good Style.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The special train conveying President McKinley and his party left Washington for Nashville at noon to-day over the Chesapeake and Ohio road.

The private car of president Ingalls in which Mr. McKinley and his immediate party traveled was fragrant with gigantic pots of roses and other flowers.

There were also flowers in the car occupied by the cabinet and invited guests.

The train was in charge of W. H. Gregory, General Agent of the Passenger Department of the road. There was no change in the personnel of the party as published yesterday. They will stop to-night at the Virginia Hot Springs, resuming their journey to-morrow.

IN CITIZEN'S CLOTHES.

Sergeant Hodgkins Joins the Ranks of the Detectives.

Williams Goes Back to His Old Place on the Police Force.

The Board of Police and Fire Commissioners met this morning, with Messrs. Dow, Clement and Mayor Thomas present.

A communication was received from Dr. E. J. Barber, requesting the Board to withdraw the amount of $25.50 from Louis Hoffman's wages for payment of a bill due the doctor. It was referred to the committee of the whole.

Chief of Police Lloyd submitted a report of the officers of the department off duty on account of sickness during the month of May. It was placed on file.

R. H. Stokes was appointed a special policeman.

Sergeant Hodgkins was appointed detective, vice N. Williams, reduced to the ranks.

Chief Fair requested that a sum of $401 be appropriated to pay sixty-nine men at the rate of $2 a day, covering the 3d, 4th and 5th of July. Referred to the Council with the Board's recommendation.

Demands aggregating $66.25 against the Police Department and $1,034.50 against the Fire Department were approved.

A communication from Chief Fair, recommending that hydrants be placed on the corners of certain streets, was referred to the Council.

The meeting then adjourned.

HARDY'S

CHEMICAL ECONOMIC COMMERCIAL STATIONERY

TWO BOOKS FOR THE AMBITIOUS.

"Pushing to the Front, or Success Under Difficulties"

"Architects of Fate, or Steps to Success"

Both these books are by Orrison Swett Warden. Both teach the lessons lived by the lives of the world's leaders in thought and actions. Both are written with admirable philosophy. Each is $1.50

A NOVEL BY THE NEW

Harper's has just published "The Descendant," a powerful novel by unsigned author who deals with heridity. $1.25

"Municipal Reform in the United States."

By Thos. C. Devlin

The author declares our methods are expensive and our government inefficient. Yet he believes in democracy and criticises merely the inaccuracy and immaturity of our legislative solons. It is a valuable book for the student of government, for the politician and the economist.

Q.—Will you state the circumstances under which you took her?

DRINKING HEAVILY.

A.—Yes, sir. For several days, or weeks, as far as that is concerned, I had been drinking a good deal of whisky, and on an evening, the date I do not remember, I went down to "No. 5" and Cora Webster suggested that she would go and get a buggy and we would go out driving. She did so, I remember the buggy being driven up to the place, I getting into the buggy. She had provided a bottle of whisky and we started up the road. I think that we stopped at two or three saloons. After driving some eight or ten miles, I suggested that I would go over home and see my brother. I did go over home. I think it was about 1 o'clock that night, as near as I can remember. I called and my brother came out to the buggy. I cannot remember the conversation, but I remember very distinctly him saying, "I think you had better go back to town." I was turning round to go to town, when my mother, from her bed room window, hearing my voice, called to me. She asked if I was going away without stopping. She told me not to try to ford the river at that time of night. Mother said to me: "I know who you are and you are in no condition to attempt to cross that river tonight. I know who it is with you." I said to the woman, "Well, get out and go into the house."

I came into the house and mother told my brother to show me a bed. That was the last thing I recollect till next morning, when I awoke. I remember that we were on a porch, not a bed room at all and I realized where we were and went down, shunning my own people as much as I could, and very soon left.

Q.—Did you not when you drove up to the house that night in answer to your mother, say that you had your wife with you?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—Did you ever subsequently visit the place with her?

A.—She came there while I was there.

Q.—Did any of your family address her at that time?

A.—I think they did.

Q.—How did they address her?

A.—My brother called her Cora.

Q.—Were you under the influence of liquor that morning?

A.—Not when I awoke.

Q.—Did you take any liquor?

A.—I think so.

Q.—You say you had a talk with your mother on the subject.

HIS MOTHER DISPLEASED.

A.—Yes. That was when that woman was there there two or three days. That was on the porch. My mother went into the dining room where this woman was, and addressing her, said: "I am not going to put up with this thing any longer; there is no use of your hanging around after Ben. You may think that he may marry you some time but he never will. He has lowered himself about as low as he can with you thus far. You are a woman capable of earning a living. You are a good dressmaker and now my advice to you is, to go and open up a shop somewhere where you are not known and quit the life that you have been leading. She replied by saying, "If you will see to it that I can get to Roberts' this afternoon I will take the stage, as it goes out this afternoon."

Q.—You have used the expression, you "were anxious to get rid of her." What was your experience with her?

A.—I suppose the experience of about every young man.

Q.—Then she was in fact following you up persecuting you?

A.—That is to a certain extent, yes sir.

Q.—Did you ever go to Mrs. Merry's place in Modesto with this plaintiff, your mother and your sister for the purpose of having them stay there?

A.—No, sir.

At this point a little sentiment is indulged in in the deposition to relieve the monotony of the dry questioning.

A PIECE OF POETRY.

"You had written a piece of poetry for a respectable young lady in Modesto, and this public woman got possession of knowledge that you had done so and insisted that you should copy it off for her. Is that a fact!" asked Mr. Terry.

A—That was a piece for Miss Mollie Bridley.

Q—You seem to think that this is a piece that you wrote for a respectable woman in Modesto?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—And that afterwards that was changed to Millie?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—You know that it is an acrostic and that it reads, "Millie be true, B. F. H.," which are your initials?

A—It is a verse that I wrote to Miss Millie Bridley.

Mr. Terry then read the following acrostic:

Millie, remember that in the battles of life
  I've felt her trials a few;
Longed to see the end of the strife—
  Longed to be brought to you.
I now will make a wish, though small,
  Enshrined in love's young dream;
By thee to stand, by thee to fall,
  Entwined in thy heart's soft string.
Teach me the lesson I long to know,
  Reaf it and throw to the wind;
I never shall find a fault, I trow,
  Even of the smallest kind.
Be thou my darling, my only one dear,
  Forgetting the faults of the past.
Hide for me a loved one's tear,
  By holding me in your grasp.

Q—You did not write this voluntarily for her, but simply at her importunities?

A—It was occasioned by her raising a fuss over finding something that I had written to this young lady. I went down town from her presence and into this saloon (as I was accustomed to going into saloons quite frequently then) wrote this.

Q—I understand you to state that you never introduced that woman to anyone as your wife?

A—I never did. I have no recollection of such.

Q—If you ever did that you were under the influence of liquor when you did?

A—Yes, sir; I must have been.

Q—What was her purpose in staying up in the mountain with you?

A—I have every reason to belive that the woman was desperately infatuated with me. I have every reason to believe that. She would come up there and stay with me, go back to Modesto, and after a few weeks be back again.

The cross-examination brought out the fact that since his conversion the Rev. Hudelson has tread unflinching in the straight and narrow path of righteousness, and has at no time returned to the sins of his past life.

BILLINGS' DEPOSITION.

Part of the deposition of Ezra Billings Johnston, the brother of the man claimed by defendant to have been married to the plaintiff, at the time of the alleged marriage set forth in the complaint, reads as follows:

Q.—Dou you know whether or not your brother, James T. Johnston was married in 1872?

A.—Well, he was married, yes.

Q.—Do you know to whom?

A.—Well I don't know that he was married in '72 Yes, he was married at that time.

Q.—To whom?

A.—She was still his wife when I came to California

Q.—What was her name?

A.—Her name was Millie Ingram.

Q.—I-n-g-r-a-m?

A.—I don't know how she spells it.

Q.—After the marriage did you see them in California?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Where abouts?

A.—In Los Angeles.

Q.—When?

A.—I lived there with them the winter of '76 and '77.

Q.—Living in a home of their own?

A.—Yes, sir

Q.—As husband and wife?

A.—Oh, yes.

Q.—Do you know how long they lived in Chico?

A.—They lived in Chico until '82, I think.

Q.—About how old is this wife, Millie?

A.—Well, I should judge she is 45 or 46 years of age.

Cross examination

Q.—Do you know whether before your brother wrote you that he had married Millie Ingram, he had been married before?

A.—Oh, yes; he had been married before.

Q.—To whom?

A.—I don't know the lady's maiden name He was married in Chicago.

Q.—About what year?

A.—'65 or '66.

Q.—How long was he married to this lady, to your own knowledge?

A.—Well he was married until she died in California.

Q.—About what year was that?

A.—I could not say. It must have been near '68 or '69.

Q.—How do you know she is dead?

A.—Only from what he told me.

Q.—Are you sure he told you she died before he wrote of the marriage to Millie Ingram?

A.—I will not say I am positive, but I saw him many times and he told me so.

Q.—Was he ever married to anyone else?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—To whom?

A.—His first wife was named Eliza Tabor.

Q.—What year did he marry her?

A.—That was away in the early '50's.

Q.—Do you know where she is now?

A.—I don't. I think she died, though they had been separated

Q.—What did he say was the cause of the separation?

A.—Improper conduct.

Q.—He never said he had taken it in court and got a divorce?

A.—No sir, but I do know he sued her afterward for breaking up his family. There was quite a law suit pending for a long time.

Q.—Did you ever hear that your brother was divorced from anyone?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—Didn't you ever ask him when he told you of his subsequent marriages, what had become of his first wife?

A.—When he told me I did not ask any more questions.

During the cross-examination the counsel for the defendant tried to show that the plaintiff did not go by the name of Millie Hudelson at all. Reference was made to a contract she had made with the Southern Pacific Company for the purchase of a piece of land. At the time she signed herself "Mrs. Johnston."

The plaintiff admitted that she went commonly by the name of Cora Webster, though this was done she said because a great many people knew her by that name. It was shown that in the foregoing letters to Hudelson she did not sign them as the wife of the defendant, but instead with the name of Cora Webster

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At the opening of the afternoon session, Attorney Frick on re-direct examination was permitted to introduce the original copy of poetry written by Hudelson to the plaintiff

It is an acrostic which reads, "Millie Be True, B. F. H." Frick read the jingle dramatically and then questioned the witness as to her reason for so many changes.

She declared it was to escape the attention of people who were following her.

"Has anyone followed you since this trial was commenced," asked Mr. Frick.

"Yes, sir. That man with long whiskers sitting over there. He has followed me to and from this court," was the reply, pointing to Mr. McCarran of Golden Gate.

MRS. HUDELSON'S TESTIMONY.

When the Tribune went to press last night, the last of the plaintiff's depositions had been read.

"Mrs. Hudelson, you will now take the stand?" asked Attorney Terry. The defendant looked up hastily, and then the plaintiff leisurely moved in her chair, seemingly not knowing that she had been addressed. Without further command, however, she stood up and was sworn.

"What is your name?" asked Attorney Terry.

"I am commonly known as Cora Webster," she said.

Q—What is your whole name?

A—Mrs. Millie Hudelson

Q—Where did you get acquainted with the Rev. Benjamin Hudelson?

A—In Modesto, in 1884.

Q—Where were you living?

A—In a house called No. 5.

Q—What was this house?

A—It was a public resort.

Q—He was not a "Rev." at that time?

A—No, he had no business.

Q—You were the landlady of the house?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—Did you ever have any relations with him?

A—I was an acquaintance at first.

Q—Did he live there with you?

A—Yes. We decided to be husband and wife. We went up in the hills and lived four or five days and decided upon a quarter section of land. I was supposed to have rented my house ready furnished, but I had a piano and some other things which I sold for $75."

Q—Was anything said about getting the marriage solemnized?

A—Yes; he said I should quit the house. He said it did not matter whether we were married by a minister, justice of peace, or by contract. Then I went to the Brooklyn Hotel and remained a short time, when he came to the hotel in a buggy and wanted me to ride with him. I said no, for I thought he had been drinking, but I went We drove to Roberts Ferry and he forded the river. I asked him where he was going. He said, "To my folks; they live just over there." I said "Don't go there," and he said, "Yes, let's see the folks." So we stopped and met his mother and friends. His mother came out and said, "Who is that?" He said, "Mother, this is my wife." She said, "How and when did this happen?" He said, "Last night." I then stayed there. I made dresses for his sister and mother, cooked for them, and helped with the housework. Mrs. Hudelson addressed me as "daughter." He called me his "wife," while his sister called me "sister."

Q—Before that time you had consented to be his wife and supposed yourself to be occupying that position?

SUPPOSED TO BE MARRIED.

A—Yes, sir; I certainly did. I was introduced by him to the schoolmarm and many others as his wife. There was scarcely a meal when there was not company at the house, to whom I was introduced as his wife.

Q—When you left for Modesto, who was with you?

A—Mrs. Hudelson, Tom, and myself. When we went to Modesto I was to get some sewing. We went to a rooming house and the landlady said she did not want me there, so I left with Mrs. Hudelson and her daughter. I went to the Brooklyn Hotel where I had permanent quarters and Mrs. Hudelson and her daughter were taken home. Then we went to Oak Flat. Mrs. Hudelson was along. Mr. Hudelson, the old gentleman, furnished the rig. He gave us a spring wagon and a span of mules. He then sent us three turkeys, chickens, and a great many other things. We camped at the residence of Joseph Choate until we could get the shake cabin built We stayed with Choate for about two weeks. I was introduced by Mr. Hudelson as his wife there. I cooked and did all I could to help along. Then we moved over to our place and lived for about eight months. It was quite an isolated place, there not being many visitors, though several came. I fed the chickens and did what any housewife would. Sometimes I hauled the water for the mules in a barrel, on a sled. Sometimes he would leave me for days. When they brought the thirty-five mules up there to pasture, his brother and another man came. They left the mules there for pasture on the burr clover patch. We watered them in the well and when Mr. Hudelson went to town all the work devolved on me. During the absence of Mr. Hudelson, I had to camp in the big wagon which I rolled down to the well and there fed and watered the mules myself to keep them alive. One night they broke through and I had to chase them back myself. For twenty-one days and nights I had to doctor the cow, which Mr. Hudelson brought up. It had been driven so fast with its young calf that its bag was caked and it came near dying. It was no longer good as a milk cow, so I made arrangements to trade it with a Mr. Nelson. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson came up and remained a couple of days. I tried to entertain them to the best of my ability for two days, cooking for them. Mr. Hudelson was there at the time. I had some money when I went there, but I could not tell how much. Something like $200. Mr. Hudelson did not have any money of his own, though his mother gave me $20. I put this all in for our living, but he did not turn in anything. I had to stand good for all the groceries and bills we ran up.

HUDELSON'S CONDUCT.

Q—What was Mr. Hudelson's conduct at that time?

A—He would go to Modesto occasionally and get drunk, coming home without any money. One day he said to me, "You go to Modesto and get some money out of your friends You can stay there a while and I can get some work at my father's ranch.

Q—What did he want you to do? go back in the old business?

A—Yes, sir, that was the substance of it Well, I went for a few days and then he sold the cow and chickens. He took me to the Brooklyn Hotel, which was a rather free and easy house. He made it his home, and also his father's ranch.

Q—Did you then go back into your old business?

A—Yes, of course I did I had to. He came in when men called on me, but never left the room, and if I did have company he did not care. I paid all the bills. He then said he was going to his father's ranch to work, but I did not see him again for a long time. He went to San Luis Obispo. Then I started another place because I had to live. I have no money with which to live.

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

This ended the direct examination and then Attorney Hatton of Modesto started the cross-examination.

Q—What was your name when you met Mr. Hudelson in Modesto—your true name?

A—Millie Ingraham.

Q—What was your name before then?

A—Millie Johnston.

At this point Attorney Frick objected on the ground that the attorney was endeavoring to bring out facts not touched on in the direct examination. The objection was overruled and an exception was taken.

A—Because I was married to J. T. Johnston

Q—You became acquainted with the defendant in Modesto? Where did you live prior to that? asked Attorney Hatton.

A—In San Francisco and Chico, where we (Johnston and I) lived as man and wife.

Q—When did you leave Chico to go to Modesto?

A—In August, 1882, and up to that time James T. Johnston and I lived as man and wife.

The witness was somewhat mixed up in her dates as to when she became acquainted with Hudelson, but finally, recollected that it was about eight months after she left Johnston in Chico. Witness declared that it was at "No. 5" that Hudelson first broached the subject of marriage

"What was Hudelson's condition on the evening he took you for a drive from Modesto?" asked Attorney Hatton.

"Oh, he was feeling good," was the reply.

Q—Had he been drinking?

A—Well, he had been out with the boys on Front street.

The cross-examination continued, going through the same line of testimony brought out as the direct examination.

Q—You knew all this time you were the wife of James T. Johnston?

"We object to this on the ground that it is not proper cross-examination," interposed Attorney Frick.

The Court overruled the objection and the witness replied she did.

Q—Were you divorced from him?

A—No, sir.

An adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock this morning.

INHALING INSECTS.

Not a Careless but a Needless Thing to Do—How to Avoid It.

Hundreds of poisonous insects called "germs" are being drawn into the body with every breath. These small creatures at once begin to live upon the body and cause what is known as disease. They must be driven out. How much better it is, though, to kill these poisonous germs as soon as they come. And yet there is only one thing that will do this, and that is a pure stimulant, preferably whiskey.

Prof. Austin Flint of Bellevue College says: "The judicious use of alcoholic stimulants is one of the striking characteristics of progress in the practice of medicine during the last half century."

Prof. Henry Mott, Ph. D., F. C. S., says: "By a most careful analysis, I have found Duffy's pure malt whiskey free from adulterations or foreign substances, and it deserves to meet with great success."

The well known Dr. R. W. Hutchinson of New York says. "I highly recommend Duffy's pure malt whiskey and prescribe it extensively in my practice."

Rev. B. Mills of Princeton Iowa, says: "I have used Duffy's pure malt whiskey with great benefit to my wife, who is a confirmed invalid. I know from experience it is a pure and most valuable medicine. I am also using it in the case of my son, who is threatened with consumption. I am a Presbyterian clergyman and a doctor of divinity, but I am not afraid to recommend Duffy's malt whiskey as the purest and most efficient tonic that I know of, and my experience is a large one."

A tablespoonful of the famous old Jesse Moore Whiskey taken after each meal will cure dyspepsia. Obtain it at your druggist's.

WEDNESDAY.....JUNE 9, 1897.

A vote for annexation is a vote for progress.

The silver campaigners are realizing the truth of the axiom that a stern chase is a long one.

Policemen ought to be very valuable around railroad construction camps. They make good sleepers.

The idea of each township having a special day at the Exposition is a good one and Murray's example should at once be followed.

W. Beach of Los Angeles has been granted a patent for a clip attachment. There ought to be a great demand for it in San Francisco.

California has been hit below the (citrus) belt. The dry, hot winds of the latter part of last week have parched the grain somewhat.

The man who doesn't vote for annexation tomorrow will come under the classification of those individuals who do not know enough to get in out of the rain.

President McKinley will have a hard time getting out of the public eye during his trip to Nashville. There are twenty-three newspaper men on his special train.

The King of Siam has taken a well-timed vacation. The cholera is raging at his capital and he started for Europe just in time to prevent himself from being quarantined.

It is now a question as to whether Schlatter is a healer or a "heeler." Although reported dead a few days ago he has turned up in Cleveland Ohio and resumed his old tricks.

Any one who wishes to see the progress of a century in Alameda county should go to Mission San Jose next Sunday and use his eyes and ears during the whole of the journey.

A pretty ceremony has been started in Arizona that could well be followed elsewhere. On Decoration Day all the graves of the boys that used "to run with the machine" were decked with flowers.

The many permits for prize fights issued by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors have had a demoralizing effect on that body. They indulged in a little exhibition of the kind among themselves yesterday.

Berkeley's merchants must think they are in a world of their own. They have declined to participate in the Exposition because they think they will not receive any benefit from it. That is the sort of policy that never receives benefit from anything.

A New York girl has married an Italian prince with a name that is like a conglomeration of California towns. He is known as Carlo, Bourbon, Del Monte, Santa Maria, di San Faustino. It will be noticed that Monte Carlo is worked into his name in a suspicious manner.

One of the French noblemen charged with displaying lack of courage at the Paris fire has challenged his accuser to a duel, presumably to prove his bravery. Judging by the customary outcome of these "affairs of honor" it will not be much of a test and may be regarded in the light of a bluff.

Some of the race-track touts who came from the East to participate in our winter season found it easy to make money here. They have landed in jail though it last and their counterfeiting plant has been obtained as evidence against them. Uncle Sam objects to having his gold reserve added to in that way.

It may be a bull to say it, but they gave a cow a public funeral while it was alive, in Oakland today. The animal, one of the results of the crusade of the Board of Health, was taken around town circus-fashion in a truck, the wagon being surmounted by a placard reading: "See this cow—it has tuberculosis and will be slaughtered for public inspection tomorrow."

The Call today tells of a Cape Colony paper that suggests that a fitting way to perpetually commemorate the Jubilee will be to establish an extra month to be called the month of Victoria. The editor's idea is to divide the year into thirteen months instead of twelve as at present. All of this creates a suspicion that the journalist in question must be on the Government payroll and that he finds it a long time between months.

It is hard to please some people. A Los Angeles critic says: "San Francisco merchants have got out a souvenir of the State, in the shape of an illustrated pamphlet, published for the use of the visiting Christian Endeavorers. A page of illustration and a page of letter press is devoted to each county. Los Angeles is depicted with a bird's-eye view of the city, bordered by a prickly cactus and an impossible palm. Tulare county is shown as a centre of orange culture."

AMERICAN CHARITY.

A very pertinent remark was made by an editor the other day when he called attention to the incongruities of England spending millions of dollars on her jubilee festivities while America is raising money and food for the starving British subjects in India. While it is true that this looks like misapplied charity on our part, it is at least excusable in view of the fact that the mere reason that other people are hard-hearted should not also compel us to close our ears to the cries of suffering humanity. The ship load of wheat that we are sending to India will never be missed from our vast granaries and riches and outside of the fact that it has been donated out of pure charity it will show to the world at large that we have not lost our reputation for generosity and that an American will always play the part of a good Samaritan in the hour of need.

Then again who could withstand the fearful stories of starvation and privation that come continually pouring in from the stricken land. Here is a sample letter and those who know the conditions there say it is not exaggerated in the slightest:

"In many of the open enclosures called 'poor-houses' flour and salt only are furnished. The flour has been mixed with earth. The stronger rob the weaker of their rations; those who are too young or too weak to knead the flour endeavor to eat it raw. All fellow feeling is lost. Parents tear the food from their starving children. In some places a small quantity of porridge is given, made of wheat and peas. But there is not enough money to attend to all, fifty cents a month being about the highest sum expended per head. The English officials do what they can, but they are few in number, and must leave much to the native police, who rob the people and sell the handsomest of the women to keepers of houses of ill-fame. When the effect of bad food has begun to show itself by horrible sores on the mouth of the victim, recovery is almost impossible."

Who, in the face of this sort of thing would want to stay the hand of charity?

Police protection, a fire department, a street and sewer service, the benefits of our public schools, library and reading rooms—these are some of the boons that will be obtained if annexation wins.

Russia has the largest military expenses—$258,000,000 a year. England follows next with $191,000,000, France with $185,000,000, Germany with $134,000,000 Austria $89,000,000, Italy $55,000,000.

Argentina's new census gives a total population of about 4,092,000, of whom 1,646,000 live in the cities. The leading city, Buenos Ayres, has a population of 663,854, making it the largest in South America.

PROVED A COSTLY JOKE.

Students Expelled for Painting John Harvard's Statue.

A Prank That Caused Indignation in the College Circle.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 9.—A special committee which was appointed by the president of the Junior Class at Harvard to investigate the recent painting of John Harvard's statue has reported that a special student in his first year had confessed. He acknowledged that he decorated the statue with red paint on the night of May 29th in celebration of Harvard's victory over Princeton on the diamond.

The Commissioners refuse to publish the name of the guilty student, but acknowledge that he was requested to leave the University which he agreed to do.

Two members of the Freshmen Class, whose names the Committee also withheld, are implicated and when confronted with accumulated evidence, they handed in their resignations.

A fourth man it is said, may also be asked to explain what connection he had with the affair. The statue has been the mark of college vandals in times past and on this occasion, when it was found painted in red on three sides, with an "H" on the front and back and the score 7 to 4 on the side, indignation was intense.

After a thorough search of the local paint stores and the discovery of a suspicious spot of red paint on a young student's clothes, which resulted in a confession, the other men responsible were cornered.

Death of a Journalist.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Robert Johnstone Finley, Manager of the McClure Newspaper Syndicate, died last night, aged 29 years. He was associated with Dr. Albert Shaw in building up the American edition of the Review of Reviews. He was a native of Ottawa, Illinois, and a brother of President Finley of Knox College, Galesburg. He leaves a wife, formerly Miss Mary Lurton of Nashville, Tennessee.

ALL CIVIL SERVICE.

Frank A. Leach Says He Will Have No Appointments to Distribute.

F. A. Leach, the newly appointed Superintendent of the Mint says that he will do nothing in the way of considering applications for appointments until he is actually in the office, which will not be for a few weeks.

"A very mistaken idea," says Mr. Leach, "exists regarding the amount of patronage to be dispensed by the incoming superintendent. As a matter of fact there is not a single change that can be made except for cause. Every office is under the civil service rules, and even the present superintendent's secretary has a right to expect that he will be retained.

"It may be in the best interests of the department that some changes be made, but of this I cannot say anything at this time. When Mr. Daggett took office out of the 250 people in the Mint there were only thirty that did not come under civil service rules, and since that time even these thirty have been included. I have absolutely given no one any encouragement that he may look for a position. Of course I shall receive many petitions and shall consider them carefully. I would say, however, to anybody who expects an appointment that they had better pass the civil service examination at once and place themselves in line, so that they will have one more chance than the man who has not passed the examination.

"Being quite confident since my return from Washington that the President would make the appointment I have naturally inquired somewhat into the duties and responsibilities of the position. I have carefully looked over every position in the Mint, and I must say that I cannot see my way clear at this time to make a single appointment."

AIDING THE ORPHAN.

The Fred Finch Orphanage to Be Aided by Its Deceased Benefactor.

Almost the entire fortune of the late Duncan B. Finch will be given to the Fred Finch Orphanage of Fruitvale, which the deceased founded in memory of his son.

The estate is valued at $75,000. The widow has a life interest in the estate which will be controlled completely by the trustees, Dr. L. E. Kelly and J. B. Richardson.

The estate consists of lots in Brooklyn township, and property on Linden street, Oakland avenue and East Seventeenth street and the home place at 1903 Webster street. At the death of the widow the old home will be given to the twins, Ella and Kittie Gilbert.

Other bequests are made as follows: Emma Finch, daughter of E. S. Finch, $1,000; to Lenore W. Finch and Ethel Finch, daughters of W. H. Finch, $500 each; to Nettie Phelps, sister of D. B. Finch, $1,000; to Duncan Bigelow, Olympia, Wash., $1,000; to Grace Holts, Parker Holts, Edith Holts, $500.

The residue of the estate, the deed directs, shall be converted into cash and given to the orphanage. The estate is in excellent condition. The orphanage will receive, the trustees estimate, not less than $60,000.

BUNKER HILL.

The Bunker Hill Association, the Native Sons of Vermont Association and other patriotic organizations will unite in the celebration of the one hundred and twenty-second anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill, Thursday, June 17th at Los Gatos.

Trains will leave the broad guage, Third and Townsend streets, San Francisco, at 8:30 A. M. Round trip tickets for adults $1.00.

On the arrival of the train at Los Gatos, the Board of Trade of Los Gatos and the Sons of Veterans will act as guards of honor. Other patriotic organizations will follow. Hon. W. S. Barnes of San Francisco will deliver the oration. The return train will leave the ground at 5 P. M.

The new pastor of a church near New York told a pointed story recently at a reception tendered him soon after he took charge. A gentleman observing a friend seated on a lawn inquired what he was doing there. "Sitting on a wasp," was the reply. "Why don't you get up?" continued the interrogator. "I thought of doing that," answered the friend, "but I decided that I was hurting the wasp as much as he was hurting me." "The moral of it," concluded the pastor, "is that if you do not sit on me I will not sting you."

NORDICA WANTS HER PAY.

She Will Bring Suit Against the Royal Opera Syndicate.

Jean de Reszcke Is Again Mixed Up in a Theatrical Trouble.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, June 9.—A dispatch from London to the Journal says:

Madame Nordica said today that she has placed her professional affairs in the hands of Colonel Henry Mapleson, and acting on his advice will at once sue the Royal Opera Syndicate, of which Maurice Grau is managing director, for her salary, amounting to about $5,000, and for heavy damages to her reputation as an artist in not being permitted to sing at Covent Garden during the present opera season.

In an interview with Colonel Mapleson, who said he spoke in behalf of Mme. Nordica, published in the Daily Mail Saturday he said with reference to her quarrel with Jean de Reszcke:

"Nothing could be further from Mme. Nordica's desire than to continue the quarrel. She is of forgiving and generous disposition and would not resist any settlement which could be consistent with her naturally offended 'amour propre.'

"Jean de Reszcke's generosity is almost proverbial and it does seem strange that between two such participants in dispute, no happy issues can be discovered. It may be that influence from the highest quarter is being employed to heal the quarrel, influence which must surely be in the long run prevail. One circumstance makes the affair especially unfortunate. This year is the tenth anniversary of the combined debut of Jean de Reszcke and Mme. Nordica in opera and it is a thousand pities that this happy jubilee season should be marred for them by this unfortunate division.

"I would say that Mme. Nordica has the utmost admiration for Jean de Reszcke and in order to have an opportunity for applauding his perfect performance has taken a box for 'Tristan and Isolde' on Monday evening when her place on the stage will be taken by a new German artist.

"'Tristan and Isolde' was not given at Covent Garden last night. Romeo and Juliet was substituted at the last moment owing to trouble with Jean de Reszcke's throat, and Mme. Nordica was not present. She said today that Colonel Mapleson was not wrong in attributing the kindly sentiments he had expressed on her behalf toward De Reszcke. Maurice Grau said that he had not yet heard that Mme. Nordica was contemplating legal action and declined to discuss the matter further.

COX CAN HAVE IT.

The Ohioan Offered the Post of Minister at Madrid.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, June 9.—A special to the Times-Herald from Washington says:

President McKinley has offered the post of Minister at Madrid to Ex-Governor Jacob D. Cox, of Ohio. The offer was made by the President after the meeting of the Cabinet, but so far no reply has been received from Mr. Cox.

General Cox is regarded as one of the ablest men in Ohio. He was Secretary of the Interior under President Grant in 1869. He has a fine war record and as lawyer, Judge, Governor and educator, he has won considerable distinction. He is regarded as one of the most eloquent public speakers in the country and years ago his voice was often heard upon the stump.

Ohio men here commend the selection, characterizing Governor Cox as a conservative and forceful man. Though without diplomatic experience, it is believed he has all the qualifications for the difficult role of Minister to Spain during the coming year or two.

TESTING THE TORRENS.

Illinois Will Give the New Land Act Another Ordeal.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, June 9.—A test case will be instituted at once to determine the constitutionality of the Torrence laws, adopted by the voters of Cook County on Monday.

County Recorder Simon and the Torrens Committee Real Estate Board, friends of the law will act in harmony to secure as early action in the case as possible.

It is hoped the case will be decided by January 1, 1898. No special office will be opened until the law is held valid.

The Recorder will qualify at once as Registrar. Proceedings will be brought either against the Recorder or the County Board. In case the law is pronounced good, the Recorder will employ sixteen experts to work under him as registrars.

Merit Talks

"Merit talks" the intrinsic value of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Merit in medicine means the power to cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses actual and unequalled curative power and therefore it has true merit. When you buy Hood's Sarsaparilla, and take it according to directions, to purify your blood, or cure any of the many blood diseases, you are morally certain to receive benefit. The power to cure is there. You are not trying an experiment. It will make your blood pure, rich and nourishing, and thus drive out the germs of disease, strengthen the nerves and build up the whole system.

BOYS FIGHT A DUEL.

One of Them Inflicts a Fatal Wound in the Other's Breast.

They Were Only Fooling and Did Not Realize What Would Result.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The sons of Clarence L. Nelson, secretary of the Newark Gas Company, fought a duel in play in their home, and as a result of one of the boys is dying from a bullet wound in his left breast.

The boys, Clarence 16 years of age and Bertram, 14, decided to prepare in part for the celebration on July 4th and went to their rooms to clean and oil the two revolvers which had been given them for use on the holiday. They laid the weapons aside after a short time and when they picked them up to replace them in the box, Bertram said to his elder brother, "Let's fight a duel."

Clarence was delighted with the novel suggestion and the lads, standing back to back with the revolvers by their sides, waited until Bertram counted "three" and then gravely took four paces in opposite directions.

"Bout face," called Clarence, and the brothers turned on their heels, weapons extended, and sallied at each other as they squinted along the glistening barrels.

Both hammers fell and from the muzzle of Clarence's weapon shot a little line of fire.

There was a report and Bertram clutching his chest fell forward on the floor.

Clarence was frightened and ran screaming down the stairs, and members of the family went to the boys playroom.

A physician was called and found that the bullet had entered Bertram's left breast, penetrating the lung. He said the wound was fatal.

A QUICK TRANSITION.

Mr. Jason Johnson was intensely and undeniably bored. It was really the only way open for his being uncomfortable, and he realized that he had traveled far along its monotonous paths.

His gaze wandered around the walls of his splendid library, and he sighed as he recalled the interest he had once taken in collecting those familiar volumes, and the fine pictures, bric-a-brac and statuary—souvenirs of his foreign pilgrimages.

Five years before his elderly sister had come to preside over his household and him. She brought with her a young girl, whose dead mother had been her intimate friend, and for whose sake she had undertaken the care and guardianship of the child, who had been the sunshine and comfort of her life—along with Providence and Jason. Indeed, it seemed that of these three it was Margaret Bright who usually ordered the affairs, domestic and social, in the establishment.

The master of the home was persistently endeavoring to discover why his life had become so uninteresting that no amount of variety seemed to impart spice thereto.

He drove and derived physical benefit from the air and the management of his horses. But he could not say he found pleasure in the pastime. He played pool every evening because his physician advised it, but he played with the demeanor of a martyr who does his special sort of martyrdom particularly well. Occasionally he lectured before some literary society. He talked anything from law to athletics, with the college youths who paid frequent visits to his brownstone mansion, when Margaret was at home. In winter he went South. In summer the Adirondacks or the Canadian forests yielded fish or game to his rod or gun. But of late he was obliged to confess that he was weary of these sports, and he did not consider it worth while to visit India and try tiger shooting as a last resource. So he bitterly reflected that he must have reached that time when some men discover that they are "no longer so young as they were."

This line of thought was interrupted by the entrance of his sister Delia and her ward.

"Your sister has been telling me that you did not live here when you were a boy and that you were not always wealthy. I wish you to tell me about it," concluded this imperious young woman.

"I was very poor and ambitious and—happy," he said with an odd little smile as though he were joking instead of uttering the solemn and amazing truth. "Perhaps you would not care to hear of the struggle and the results." (Again that queer flickering smile and the very serious expression of the eyes seemed to contradict each other and puzzled the girl, who was watching his face.)

"But after I was graduated in law I found that I possessed just $10. After a tedious time I possessed 50 cents. I went to a prominent business man and told him I must have something to do. He might have given me a place as porter, but he gave me a less certain thing—a bad bill to collect. I called on the debtor. He was polite but unresponsive. I called again. He was suave, but, so far as yielding to my demands, as immovable as Gibralter. I met him when he came from breakfast, and I always visited him when he returned from lunch. He became indignant, but I was unremittingly persistent, and at last he gave me a bad debt promising to settle my claim if I could collect his money.

"I was discouraged, but by a plan similar to the one I had long rehearsed, I made myself so annoying that to be rid of me the man somehow got the money and paid me. I enjoyed a good dinner myself that day and since then have never wanted any necessity. That, my Meg, was not the kind of story you were expecting, was it?"

Margaret did not answer, for the maid announced a visitor and she passed into the drawing-room, where young Mr. Philip Warren was waiting. Jason Johnson rose and went to a bookcase and examined several old volumes. He dusted them carefully and replaced them tenderly—they were the first he had ever been able to purchase, and to him they represented much.

"Jason," said his sister, "I suspect that there is something serious between our little girl and this Mr. Warren. Don't you think him a fine young man and worthy of our approval? I won't say that anyone is worthy of Margaret," she added jealously.

Mr. Johnson dusted another of his treasures, and there was some moisture in his eyes, as was only natural, maybe. "Yes, Delia, I think you are correct in your suspicions. I have watched them occasionally, and I feel certain that Philip is interested, and I am afraid, oh, I mean, I believe he is a person to whom we could offer no objections except that he is very young."

Miss Delia did not observe her brother color like a schoolgirl, as he carefully returned the book—upside down, however—to its place. He was very pale when he returned to his chair but she left the library without observing that either.

Presently Margaret returned and stood facing him and looking greatly disturbed.

"What is it, Meggie? Are you—that is—it seems to me, he left rather early."—

"Yes, I sent him away. He asked me to marry him, and I am sorry he did. Somehow I never realized before how a man like him is dependent upon others, but to-night I thought if he were thrown on his own resources, as you were once, he would never surmount all obstacles. I am sure he is not strong enough. And while he was speaking, he appeared so like a boy, so very young"—

"Oh, Meg," cried Jason Johnson. "Do you think me so very old?"

Margaret Bright was looking directly into his eyes, and I have often heard that there is magnetism in a glance. However that may be, I know he drew her to him and held her close to his hungry heart. And in that new and great happiness he found complete compensation for the many dreary, empty days that were past.—Cincinnati Post.

It being too warm for comfort in doors, the editor sat on the veranda and took in the situation. This is what he heard: "Let us pray—all salute—we beseech thee to join hands and draw near—circle to the left—listen to us—first four forward and back—as we—all promenade—kneel before thee and—balance all—present our petition—grand right and left—for Christ's sake—seat your partners." The editor was more than saddened at the degeneration of the village and went and joined the base ball club in order to be neutral.

THOUSANDS CALLED

A Brilliant Opening of the New Acme Club Rooms.

EVERYTHING SHOWED UP WELL

The Guests Received by the Officers and the Men.

ALL APARTMENTS INSPECTED

Congratulations to the Boys Come From All Sides.

The doors of the handsome new home of the Acme Club were thrown open last night, and fully 4,000 people availed themselves of the invitation to inspect the place.

It was a house warming long to be remembered by those present, while in the history of the club it can never be effaced.

Indeed, the night was a proud one for the members, who saw in the unusual interest taken by the general public a great incentive for encouragement. The thousands of people inspected each nook and corner, and their stamp of unstinted approval was enough to please any one.

It was shortly after 7:30 o'clock when the guests began to arrive, and from that time on a steady stream poured up and down the stairs, into the gymnasium, the billiard hall, reading rooms, parlors and offices.

On the first landing, President J. J. Allen and Secretary J. P. Cook received with both hands at once. They each wore a band of the club colors tucked in their dress suits. Behind them were a score of the members, present and past officers, each one doing the honors with becoming grace.

At first, small parties were escorted over the building and shown the many attractive features, but soon the gathering became so great that this was impossible to any extent, so the boys contented themselves with shaking hands and receiving the congratulations which poured in on all sides.

All the rooms were brilliantly lighted, and in the short space of time since the completion of the building had been elegantly furnished. This did not escape the attention of the visitors, and many ladies wondered at the exquisite taste shown by men, who, to the average feminine mind, are not supposed to know how to tastefully arrange apartments.

In the gymnasium upstairs, the Reliance orchestra, of twenty-five pieces, led by Charles Crist, gave a fine concert. The musicians proved themselves formidable rivals to many a professional orchestra. The numbers were excellently rendered and heartily appreciated.

Music always draws attention, so it is small wonder the gymnasium was the popular place. The spacious room, however, proved inadequate to accommodate all the guests at once, though several hundred remained during the entire programme.

Others camped, and after listening to a number or so walked around the building. The large number of ladies present was particularly noticeable. They seemed to enjoy inspecting the various machines for muscular development, even as much as the social features.

In all, the opening was a very auspicious one, and such a christening should be the harbinger of a bright and fruitful future. At all events, the thousands who did attend will remember the evening with pleasure, and will look hereafter with interest on the progress of the club.

During the evening the Reliance orchestra played the following numbers:

March, "My Darktown Gal"...Leo Johnson
Selection, "Lole Skirt Dance"...Otto Bendix
March, "Directorate"...J. P. Souza
Overture, "Lustspiel"...Keler Bela
Waltz, "Rendezvous"...Geo. Rosey
March, "Reliance"...C. W. Crist
Intermezzo, "Cavalleria Rusticana"....
...P. Muscagni
Waltz, "Daughter of Love"...C. W. Bennett
March, "Yeller Kid"...C. W. Crist
Waltz, "Robin Hood"...Reg. De Koven
March, "Viceroy"...Emilo Katzenstein
March, "King Cotton"...J. P. Sousa

The reception committee was as follows:

President John J. Allen, Secretary J. P. Cook, A. P. Swain, C. W. Hawkeker, J. S. Shedd, Charles Hannon, Henry Tank, J. U. Bird, R. U. Revalk, Dan Carroll, Clarence Staples, Lou Hardie, Joe Champion, George Faulkner, George Humphreys, R. W. French, Charles Slamberg, Frank Cook, Fred Wallace and Harry Wager.

A Cuban Refugee Writes to Major Edwin A. Sherman.

THE SAD FATE OF A BROTHER.

Driven in Exile to Africa Because of Hatred to Spain.

MASONIC LODGES DESTROYED.

The Sad Effects of the War Now on the Wretched Island.

Major Edwin A. Sherman has received a letter from Francis de P. Rodriguez, a Cuban patriot and a prominent Mason. The letter is interesting, for it throws light on the distressing conditions existing in Cuba. Rodriguez' name is well known in California Masonic circles. A graduate of Cornell University and a civil engineer by profession, he attained great distinction in Cuba. He was an enthusiastic Mason and was made secretary general of the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite of Free Masons of Cuba, and was also secretary of the Masonic Veterans' Association of Cuba.

Four years ago he was made an honorary member of the Masonic Veteran Association of California, and, as an exchange of courtesies, Senator Perkins and Major Sherman were made honorary members of the Cuban association.

The letter from Rodriguez is as follows:

"Vera Cruz, Mexico, June 2, 1897. Major Edwin A. Sherman, Oakland, Cal.—My Dear Sir and Brother: Quite a long time ago, when the National Association of Veterans held a meeting at Boston, I addressed you a letter and another to the association on behalf of Cuban Masonic Veterans. Since then nothing at all have I heard from you. Perhaps you wrote to me, the letter failing to reach me. The condition of Cuba is so heart rending that I had to run away from there to save my life. A younger brother of mine, a promising physician of Havana and enthusiastic Mason, nearly being shot, was exiled to the Spanish penal colony of the Chafarine Islands in Africa. Myself and family are here in Mexico waiting for better times to come. I see that Senator Clements and the past president of our association has voted in the Cuban side—good for the Mason!

"Please take notice of my new address, and wishing the association and all California Masons success, I remain yours in the sacred numbers.

"F. De P. RODRIGUEZ, 33°."

Major Sherman stated this morning that he had answered Rodriguez' previous letter, but the answer had evidently been confiscated by the Spaniards.

"I was very careful to say nothing concerning Cuban matters in my letters," said Major Sherman. "I wrote principally of Masonic matters, but my letters must have been opened and then destroyed. Senor Rodriguez is an excellent man, and I feel that he is giving authentic news of Cuba. The Masons were formerly flourishing in Cuba, but the war has broken up the lodges and scattered the Masons."

CAMPER'S PARADISE.

New Free Ground on the Russian River Opened to the Public.

Campers and people who desire to establish summer homes in a romantic section are offered a rare opportunity by the North Pacific Coast Railroad on the company's land at Mesa Grande, a fine plateau lying along the Russian river in Sonoma county. The company has piped water to the ground from magnificent mountain springs a mile from the mesa, and the water was turned on last week. The tract has been surveyed and mapped off in lots 40x80 feet, which campers may select and occupy free of charge, with free use of water and the privilege of taking wood free from the company's land adjoining. Any family that desires to erect a cabin for permanent use may lease a lot for a term of years at a nominal rental of $1 a year. The bathing and boating facilities are exceptionally fine, the climate is noted for its salubrity, fishing and hunting is good in the neighborhood and the attractions are so numerous that, combined with cheap railroad fares, Mesa Grande promises to become a popular summer camp resort. In order to give the public an opportunity to visit the grounds at small expense, there will be special excursions to Mesa Grande every Saturday and every Sunday this month, for which the low rate of $1.50 for the round trip has been made and tickets may be procured from Mr. Locke at the Sausalito ferry every Saturday morning before the departure of the steamer at 7 A. M. and Sundays at 8 A. M. Maps may be procured by addressing the N. P. C. R. R., 11 Sansome street, San Francisco.

THE SPIRITUALISTS.

The Adventists, who are camping at Bushrod Park, have elected their conference officers as follows: Elder W. T. Knox of Los Angeles, president; J. J. Ireland of Oakland, secretary; Pacific Press Publishing Company, treasurer. The following named persons were elected as an executive committee: W. T. Knox, N. C. McClure, M. C. Wilcox, R. S. Owen, E. E. Andross, H. F. Courter and G. W. Reaser.

During the meeting Dr. A. J. Sanderson made an earnest appeal in behalf of the St. Helena Sanitarium, and the principles of health reform as advocated by that institution.

Elder G. A. Irwin made an interesting address in the afternoon.

University Regents.

At the meeting of the University Regents yesterday, the following Oaklanders were given the degree of doctor of dental surgery: O. W. Collins, H. W. French, Ray E. Gilson, Charles F. Jarvis, J. A. Plunkett, Miss Fannie E. Scott and Edward Upton.

President Kellogg was given a six months' leave of absence.

A. P. Hayne was promoted from instructor to assistant professor of viticulture.

S. A. Chambers, formerly of the High School, was appointed instructor in French at a salary of $1,200 a year.

OLD GLORY WILL WAVE

Hosts Will March and Bands Will Play in Honor of the Fourth.

OAKLAND WILL CELEBRATE.

The Board of Trade Takes the Initiative in the Matter.

VIEWS OF LEADING CITIZENS.

Consideration of a Reception to the Advancing Endeavorers.

At the special meeting of the Board of Trade in its new rooms at Fourteenth and Washington streets yesterday afternoon, it was definitely decided to have a celebration in Oakland on the Fourth of July, and a committee of seven to take the matter in charge was ordered appointed by vice-president Breed.

This committee will be composed of citizens, and it will have full power to act without reporting back to the Board of Trade.

It was further decided at the meeting that the Christian Endeavorers may call upon the Board for assistance in entertaining the visitors on the 13th of July.

The following directors were present at the meeting: M. J. Keller, A. H. Breed, G. W. Fisher, A. D. Pryal, F. W. Spiars, H. L. Branthaver, W. E. Barnard, Albert Kayser, P. J. Keller, Fred Kahn, and H. C. Capwell.

The meeting was called to order by A. H. Breed.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with, and after the reading of several communications by Secretary Craigie Sharpe, Mr. Breed stated that the meeting was called to order that the Board might take action in regard to what it intended to do with reference to the celebration of the Fourth of July and the entertainment of the Christian Endeavorers on July 13th. The proposition was, he said, whether the Board of Trade would take any action toward celebrating the Fourth of July, or whether it would drop the celebration and co-operate with the other bodies in entertaining the Endeavorers. He then asked for Mr. Keller's views.

Mr. Keller thought they ought to carry out the original intention, but, whether the Board should take any action was a subject for discussion.

Mr. Fisher, being called upon, said he had not thought much of the matter. He was waiting till after the discussion, to form an opinion as to whether the Board should take the matter in hand or the whole people of Oakland should work for the success of the celebration.

Mr. Breed explained that a committee had been appointed from several organizations to take charge of the two events and that the committee, after a thorough canvass, had concluded that the two events could not be combined. Mr. Gier, chairman of the Finance Committee, had been criticized, and the Committee, becoming disgusted, had decided to abandon the whole thing.

MR. BARNARD'S VIEWS.

Mr. Barnard, one of the disbanded committee of seventeen explained that the committee had concluded that the joint committee could not work together, so it was decided to report back to the various organizations and disband. The opinion has been general in the committee, he said, that, owing to the hard times and the scarcity of funds, a celebration creditable to the city could not be made.

Mr. Bunce, another of the committee felt that it could not make a success of both the Fourth of July celebration and the entertainment of the Endeavorers, so it had been thought best to turn their attention to the entertainment of the Endeavorers. Mr. Gier, said Mr. Bunce, had promised to do all in his power, individually, to make successes of both affairs.

"What funds—and for what purpose would they be required—would be necessary for the 13th?" asked Mr. Capwell. "I don't see why our national day should be set aside simply to sidetrack the cars of the Christian Endeavorers. San Francisco, not Oakland, is the Endeavorer's objective point. Simply cooperation on the part of the people is all that is required to get free transportation for those people. On the other hand, only a little celebration on the Fourth of July is likely to keep the people here, and that is what we want to do."

"As regards one committee handling both affairs," said Mr. Breed, "it is impossible, as there are different elements to be considered."

"Quite different," agreed Mr. Capwell. "When I first heard of the disbanding of the committee, I thought it was rather a petty proceeding, but I have since thought the matter over and I see that the different elements make it impossible to work in harmony."

TWO COMMITTEES.

Mr. Breed said there ought to have been two separate committees in the first place.

Secretary Craigie Sharp, E. E. Bunce and Albert Knyser spoke in favor of the celebration.

Mr. Kahn said that the principal thing before the subscribing public was the tunnel road and he thought it might be impossible to raise the money for the celebration.

Mr. Keller said that money would not be any great object. He thought there was enough patriotism in Oakland to give a good celebration. The Board could raise enough on July 3d to pay for bands and a little powder.

SENATOR WHITE.

The following letter from Senator White was read:

"Craigie Sharp, Esq.—Dear Sir: Yours of the 22d inst. favoring the enactment of the Torrey bill received. The Senate passed a bankruptcy bill widely different from the Torrey measure, and will not vote for a measure similar to the Torrey proposition. The times do not justify such a drastic enactment. We receive many letters with reference to legislation, and it is rather curious that the country does not understand that no bill of any kind can pass the House of Representatives unless the kindergarten over which Mr. Reed presides obtains the permission of its master to comply with the duty heretofore supposed to be imposed by the Constitution upon the House of Representatives. A large amount of desirable legislation might be enacted during this session were it not for the above condition. Californians ought to understand that the failure to procure the adoption of a bill providing for the payment of five per cent to the State of the net proceeds of the sale of public lands, involving over $800,000, and the failure to pass the mineral lands bill, and the failure to accomplish anything of moment in the interest of our State, are due to the difficulties above mentioned."

"STEPHEN M. WHITE."

A BAD EXPLOSION.

One Miner Instantly Killed and Another Seriously Wounded.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

PEORIA, Ill., June 9.—Onno Eilts, a miner, was instantly killed in an explosion at Shell's coal mine, three miles south of this city. William Pelper, a companion laborer, was seriously injured.

While at work a mile from the mouth of the mine they set a blast and returned to the room just as the explosion occurred. An immense pile of stone, coal and earth was hurled against them.

Pelper crawled a mile on his hands and knees and notified those on the outside of the accident. Eilts was aged 44 and leaves a widow and six children.

TO SAVE MONEY.

The Wonderful Bargains to Be Had at the Hub Clothing Co.

The Hub Clothing Company of San Francisco has received an ejectment notice from the landlord of their temporary quarters, 220-224 Sutter street, to vacate the same on June 30th. Only three weeks remains in which to close out their mammoth stock of men's and boys' fine clothing, hats and furnishings. To do it they have cut prices in every department far below the actual cost of production. This is the one chance of a lifetime for the public at large to save from thirty-five to fifty per cent on their purchases made at this reliable house during the next twenty-one days. Nothing will be spared. What is left on the 1st of July will be closed out in bulk to other dealers or thrown away under the auctioneer's hammer. This sale is bonifide and it will pay our readers to make an early inspection of the grand bargains The Hub has now in store for their patrons. A word to the wise is sufficient.

F. M. Smith Returns.

F. M. Smith has returned from a flying trip to Europe.

Mr. Smith had a pleasant journey and was absent only five weeks.

He went directly to England where the stockholders of the borax company with which he is connected held a meeting. It was their annual gathering, and Mr. Smith declared that there was no project on hand to sell any stock or bonds on his part. He also stated that his trip was on purely private business connected with his borax interests, and had nothing to do with the Realty Syndicate, the street railroads, or any other Oakland matter.

On the journey across the country Mr. Smith met Colonel Crocker on board the train, and the two enjoyed the remainder of the journey in each other's company.

MR. BAGNICKEL'S BAZAR.

One of the notable bargain stores of Oakland is the Golden Gate Bazar on Washington street, between Seventh and Eighth, at which P. Bagnickel is the genial proprietor. AFFLICTION OVERRIDDEN

Great Progress of the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Students.

HOW THEY ARE CARED FOR.

Use Made by Them of the Practical Education Imparted.

AN ADDRESS BY DR. LE CONTE.

A List of the Scholars Who Live to Make a Living.

Could Oliver Twist and his contemporaries step forth from the pages of history and visit some of the institutions which at the present day are devoted to the uplifting of the unfortunate, the former would doubtless imagine himself within the portals of heaven, while those in authority would unquestionably regard the establishment and maintenance of such institutions as too while an outlet for the public moneys, and the prevalent spirit within their walls one at war with a true conception of discipline.

The Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind at Berkeley is not a charity, nor is the case of Oliver Twist exactly analogous to that of its inmates, except that affliction rested on him as on them, on the former that of poverty, on the latter of bodily ailment. Still the State institution shows the spirit of the age. Its aim is to educate, its associations refining and hope inspiring.

Its situation shows the united handiwork of man and nature—behind its buildings of red brick the hills, before it the hazy panorama of the town, the bay and the further heights, close by the garden terrace, with its gravel walks and beds of bright flowers, the driveway under the trees, the orchard just below, and clinging to the walls clusters of pink geraniums, roses, and completely concealing the side of the central building, a deep green tapestry of vine of the ivy species.

Within the sunny walls is admirable order, clean, long carpeted corridors in finish of cedar, stairways of granite or sandstone and rooms well lighted and ventilated. To the left of the educational building is the boys' quarters—that is, the deaf and dumb boys. How our little friend Oliver would admire the large room in the basement, the boys' winter resort and the cool swimming tank in a room near by, the study room upstairs, sunny, with pictures on the walls, an open fireplace, pleasant tables and electric lights for the evening study.' How much rather he would spend the night in one of the white beds in its separate alcove with its red and white curtain than in that dreadful coal cellar. The air in this large room is always fresh, the ventilation being exceptionally good.

The girls' building is on the same plan. The blind have their quarters further up the hill. The manual training department, the cooking school, etc., fit the student for practical life. The kitchen and dining room are in a separate building. The kitchen shines with cleanliness, and the great copper kettles are brilliant with polish. The cooking is done by steam. The dining room was formerly the chapel and is an attractive place with high ceiling and stained glass windows. It looks like a place where Oliver need not tremble to ask for "more." A massive side-board is a piece of work by the students which really reflects credit upon themselves and their instructors.

METHOD OF INSTRUCTION.

The schooling given at the institution prepares the students for the University. Some of them continue their studies, others turn to farming or become carpenters, and a great many become printers. The children may spend seven years after their twelfth in the institution. A deaf mute pupil receives his first instruction by seeing an object represented by signs, then spelled out, then written. The process is long and laborious. Articulation is also taught.

Three systems of raised print for the blind are in use. The first is the line system, in which the letters are formed of short lines.

The second is the New York system, or the horizontal, where the letters are only two dots deep. The third is the Braille system, or the vertical, in which the letters are three dots deep. The last named is now coming quickly into use, mainly because of the invention of a machine resembling a typewriter simplified in its appearance, which prints this alphabet by combinations of six dots. Professor Chas. Wilkinson, who for thirty years had charge of the blind department of the institution, is compiling books to make a library of his own for the use of the blind pupils. The plates are of zinc, and then impressions from these are taken on paper. Professor Wilkinson has already completed a book of selected poems, a book of logic and a geography, and is now struggling with a work on etymology.

The number of pupils at present in the institution aggregates 230, with a teaching force of eighteen.

Last year three of the former pupils of the school graduated from the University. This year two, namely Anna Matilda Lindstrom and Frances Amelia Norton, will probably enter the Gallaudet College at Washington, D. C., which is the national institution for deaf mutes.

YESTERDAY'S CLASS.

A class of fifteen bright young people graduated from the institution yesterday afternoon. The assembly hall was crowded to the doors. The platform was very prettily decorated with roses and plants. The exercises opened with a prayer by the Rev. Dr. Willy, followed by a chorus from the blind songsters, "When Early Morn Beams O'er Us."

The salutation was delivered by Florence Alexander. Though the young lady is deaf, her voice, in spite of a certain harshness, was clear and distinct. In the course of her address she said: "The object of the school is to promote the education of the deaf and dumb and the blind. Few of those who have graduated from this institution have won fame. Most of them may be found in the work-a-day walks of life. But it is as much to be a true citizen as to be a famous man."

A blind pupil, Thomas Morrison, rendered an organ solo, "Invocation," with true feeling.

A very interesting exercise followed. Five deaf pupils, none of whom have been in school more than a year, gave a number of slate exercises, showing the progress made in that year.

The blind pupils also illustrated the [illegible] stages in their education by spelling and reading from the raised print. Two of the little ones showed great quickness in the multiplication table and a thorough knowledge of the geography of the United States.

The senior deaf pupils answered questions put to them by the audience on the blackboard. Their answers showed great intelligence.

Illustrations of speech, lip reading and sign language were given by a number of deaf pupils under the direction of Mr. Whipple.

DR. LE CONTE.

A baritone solo, "Simon the Cellarer," by William Brooks, was followed by the address to the graduates by Dr. Joseph Le Conte.

"My young friends and fellow students," he said, "for I am also a student, we are never too old to study. The culture of the intellect is the highest pursuit of man. I came not to speak words of pity or of compassion, or even of sympathy, but rather of encouragement.

"We are all more or less handicapped in the struggle of life, by sickness or by poverty or by ignorance, or, as you, by bodily affliction.

"The object of this institution is to place you on a level with others. Some people are apt to think of you as hopeless, helpless, and that this is a charity asylum. It is not—it is a noble educational institution, not of charity, but justice. I am inclined to think that the difficulties with which you have to struggle are often exaggerated. The effort caused by obstacles gives rise to strength. When there are too many obstacles, it is apt to prove disastrous to our lives, but if our life is too easy, that is also disastrous.

"A certain amount of difficulty is necessary for our highest development. This is true also in regard to education.

"Modern education seems to me too easy—there is not effort required to stir the energies of the student. The old adage comes true, 'beware of the man of a few weeks.' The Bible, Shakespeare and a few other books, if pondered over and studied, develop strength which the superficial reading of all literature will not bring. The great sculptor, if not a deaf mute, do you suppose he would have been great? No, he would have dissipated his strength in communication with others. As it was, he concentrated all his strength in his work.

"Continue to rely upon yourselves. The State has done its share. The rest depends upon yourselves."

AWARDS.

On the conclusion of Professor Le Conte's address, the diplomas were awarded the students. The musical numbers were as follows:

Vocal solo, "La Primavera" .... Torry
Miss Gussie Mast.
Piano quartette, "Marche Militaire" ... . Schubert
Hattie Young, Katie Stolberg, Eben Gay and Lucian Bacigalupi.
Organ solo, "Offertory in F" .Scotson Clark
Lily Smith.
Piano solo, "The Mill" .... Joseffy
Thomas Morrison.
Baritone solo, "Simon the Cellarer" .... Hatton
William Brooks.
Chorus, "Anvil Chorus" .... Verdi

An essay, "A Noble Life," was given in signs by Miss Annie Lindstrom. "The Lord's Prayer" in signs concluded the interesting exercises.

The graduating class was as follows: Florence Maria Alexander, David Matthew Bean, Maggie Jane Chandler, George Henry Fritz, Maude Hartley Gould, Louise Frances Gould, Annie Matilda Lindstrom, Thomas Henry Morrison, Elmer Roy Morse, Joseph Murphy, Frances Amelia Norton, Maria Antoinetta Peralta, Frank Raffetto, Katie Sivina Stolberg, Harriet Leighton Young.

Honorable dismissal—Louis Bud Jackson.

The chair made vacant by death is always a sad reminder. It is especially sad when it is mother's chair. All over this broad land there are vacant chairs that would still be occupied by healthy, happy, radiant mothers if women would but realize the importance of keeping well in a womanly way. Women cannot too soon understand that it is little less than a crime to neglect the health of the organs to which are intrusted the perpetuation of a healthy, robust race of human beings. By neglect of these organs a woman ruins her own health, destroys the happiness of her home, and fails in the performance of the most sublime duty that she owes to the world.

The best medicine for women who are weak where Nature demands the most strength is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly upon the organs that make motherhood possible. It cures all weakness and disease that exists there and stops all distressing, debilitating drains. It prepares a woman for motherhood and insures a healthy baby. It makes the coming of baby easy and almost painless. Druggists who offer something "just as good" are either ignorant or dishonest and in either case are not to be trusted.

"I had been a great sufferer for years with female weakness," writes Mrs. John Downie, of No. 213 Lexington Avenue, Eddystone, Delaware Co., Pa. "Could not walk three squares without terrible suffering. I also had a pain in my left side for seven years—until I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' My pain has left me altogether. Have had no symptoms of it at all for two years. Can walk two or three miles at a time and it does not hurt me. I cannot recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines highly enough. My daughter also has used your medicines with great benefit. She was operated upon for appendicitis and had fainting spells from it. She took the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Extract of Smart-Weed,' and the 'Pleasant Pellets' and has not had any fainting spells for one year. When she commenced to take it she weighed 95 pounds now she weighs 140 pounds."

Constipation! It is the fountain-head of many diseases. It causes impure blood and all manner of disorders are the result. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Promptly. Surely. Permanently. They never gripe. Druggists sell them.

Sternberg's delicacies are standard. Samson's market, Eleventh, between Clay and Washington.

DR. TOM SHE BIN.

CHINESE TEA AND HERB Sanitarium. For over 300 years my family have been renowned for the most famous doctors in China.

Tom She Bin has in his possession hundreds of testimonials of those who suffered from chronic diseases and who were cured under the established method in constant use in China for over 5,000 years.

All diseases described from the pulse without asking a question.

There are 600 different kinds of herbs that cure 400 kinds of diseases. All persons afflicted with any kind of malady whatsoever invited to call. 615 Kearny st., bet. Sacramento and Commercial sts., San Francisco, Cal., U. S. A.

Dr. Tom She Bin sells Chinese herbs and tea. Sanitarium. Price by week or month. Take herbs once a day, a big ten-ounce bowl, or one package of herbs, seven packages a week. Price, six dollars a week. Two times each day, two ten-ounce bowls, or two packages of herbs. Price, ten dollars a week.

The undersigned, after seven years' suffering, without being able to obtain any relief, resolved to see Dr. Wong, but I did not obtain any help. I then determined to see Dr. Tom She Bin, and in three months I was completely cured. I commenced feeling better soon after commencing his treatment, and I was all cured.

MRS. JENNIE SAUNFERS,
1016 West 7th st., Los Angeles, Cal.

This is to certify that Dr. Tom She Bin has cured me of that dreadful disease known as heart disease, and also of weak lungs. I do make this deposition for the especial benefit of those suffering similar ailments. I must say that I was treated by the best doctor in Chicago, and after I lost all hopes I concluded to come to San Francisco for a change of climate, and immediately I heard of the wonderful cures of Dr. Tom She Bin, so I consulted him, with such good luck that after one month and a half from the time he started to treat my case I felt entirely well.

MRS. E. FRENCK,
409 Thomas Street, Chicago, Ill.

I, the undersigned, do recommend Dr. Tom She Bin as one of the best doctors to cure rheumatism, having been suffering for three years, and also been under the treatment of six skillful doctors for four months without feeling any relief. I determined to set myself under the care of Dr. Tom She Bin, who gave me immediate relief, and in the course of five weeks I was enjoying good health.

PANFILO MURILLO,
Pomona, California.

My son, nine years of age, utterly prostrated with typhoid fever for six weeks, he was under the explicit care of hospital doctors, but without avail. All his body was declared incurable. I heard the name of Doctor Tom She Bin, and at once was induced to see him, and I left my son to his absolute care. Fifteen days after my son was able to play around the yard. I fully believe Doctor Tom She Bin saved my son's life.

CARRIE CONTRERAS,
630 Mission Road, Los Angeles, Cal.

San Francisco, February 14th, 1897.

The undersigned does hereby recommend Dr. Tom She Bin as the only competent doctor. He has cured me entirely from throat disease, which many doctors declared incurable.

J. A. OWENS,
Euclid Block, N. Los Angeles, Cal.

San Francisco, January 31st, 1897.

I, John A. Fain, do hereby certify that I suffered with piles for over twelve years. Dr. Tom She Bin cured me in very short time.

San Francisco, February 26th, 1897.

I have been suffering under the most dreadful disease for two years past and lost all hopes of recovering, being unable to move for four months. At last I concluded to take Dr. Tom She Bin's Wonderful Chinese herbs, and in six weeks after my health was completely restored.

J. E. MEDRAN,
756 Workman St., East Los Angeles, Cal.

Montenzou, Cal., March 1st, 1897.

I write this letter for the benefit of any one who may be in trouble, as I have been. About fourteen years ago I was taken sick. The doctors pronounced it ulceration of the stomach and said it would end in a cancer.

At times I would vomit a black and bloody looking matter, also a great deal of white mucus. The disease would make me very nervous and despondent. At different times during my ailment I would get some relief for a few months, then it would come back as bad or worse than ever. I doctored with several as good doctors as I could find in the East and also here in California, but none of them effected a cure.

I was advised to consult Dr. Tom She Bin, which I did about the 1st of October, 1892.

He said my trouble was the cancer of the stomach. I commenced taking his medicine immediately. For the first three or four months there seemed to be but a very little change. After that time I improved very fast and am now able to do quite a good day's work. I have every reason to believe he has effected a permanent cure for me.

J. L. CARPENTER,
San Francisco, March 2, 1897.

I saw Dr. Tom She Bin's advertisement. I first come up to 615 Kearny street to feel my pulse. He tell me what trouble I had, was true. I had a pain over my body, and chilly. I put my case to him; first week I take Chinese Herb; one week I was great deal better. I been sick for six years. I go to white physician, cannot do me any good. I take Dr. Tom She Bin's Herbs six week; I was all well. I was cured about one year and never pain again.

MRS. J. SANGALL,
17 Lafayette Place, between Green and Union, Kearny and Dupont, San Francisco, Cal.

San Francisco, March 4th, 1897.

By these presents I do hereby recomment Dr. Tom She Bin as a successful doctor to cure the dreadful disease styled consumption, so common among all classes. He has restored my health in the short term of twenty days, for the trifling amount of $2.50 per day.

Signed. L. C. FLORES,
608 Upper Main St., Los Angeles, Cal.

San Francisco, March 5, 1897.

This is to certify that I have taken treatment from Dr. Tom She Bin for stomach trouble, and was cured in four weeks.

W. J. MORRISON,
1412½ Baker St., San Francisco, Cal.

San Francisco, March 6, 1897.

This is to certify that I have been entirely cured of stomach trouble by Dr. Tom She Bin in two months. I had tried several American physicians and they had failed to cure me.

MABEL BARBARER,
Milpitas, San Jose, Cal.

I have taken treatment for my kidneys, that have bothered me for a long while, and also catarrh of the stomach, and also chronic diarrhoea, and was cured in two weeks by Dr. Tom She Bin, also blood poison in my thumb.

WM. E. BRYAN,
No. 6 Martha place, San Francisco.

San Francisco, March 6, 1897.

I had gravel and kidney trouble four years. My friends sent me to Dr. Tom She Bin. He felt my pulse, and he told me what trouble I had. I put my case in his hands, and took herbs twice a day. In four weeks my troubles were all cured. Now my flesh is all good. The last three or four years I went to white doctors, but never did me any good. Now I have got well and am in good health.

JENS J. JENSEN,
213½ Clara St., San Francisco, Cal.

Geo. Osgoodby, author of the world-famous Murchison letter to Lord Sackville West, the English Embassador, in 1888, writes concerning Dr. Tom She Bin, now selling Chinese Teas and Herbs at the Sanitarium, 615 Kearny street, San Francisco, Cal., and says:

Pomona, Los Angeles Co., Cal.,
March 7, 1897.

For the benefit of those who are suffering with chronic diseases, I will say that many years of severe suffering and futile treatment ended in Bright's disease of the kidneys, of which Dr. Tom She Bin completely cured me, after correctly and minutely describing my malady from the pulse, without asking a question. He is a medical marvel, and without a peer in his profession. Respectfully,

GEO. OSGOODBY.

San Francisco, March 13th, 1897.

I wish to give my testimony in behalf of Dr. Tom She Bin. It is about two months ago that I fell sick with influenza, being unable to procure no other help than that of domestic remedies. I fell worse and worse, until I was totally paralyzed. I was induced to consult Tom She Bin, and he, by the aid of his wonderful Chinese herbs. I felt somewhat relieved in twenty-four hours, and he agreed to treat me for the sum of two hundred dollars, and now I feel grateful to the doctor for his efforts. Very truly,

HILARIO PRECIADO,
Los Angeles, Cal.

This is to certify that Dr. Tom She Bin cured me of kidney trouble and stricture. Was sick for some time, but found no relief until I tried this doctor. He entirely cured me, and I have not been troubled since.

SUMMONS.

In the Superior Court of the County of Alameda, State of California.

Department No. —

Dora S. Clark, plaintiff, vs. George R. Clark, defendant.

Action brought in the Superior Court of Alameda County, State of California, and the complaint filed in the said Alameda County in the office of the Clerk of said Superior Court.

The people of the State of California send greeting to George R. Clark, defendant.

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above-named plaintiff, in the Superior Court of Alameda County, State of California, and to answer the complaint filed therein within ten (10) days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons, if served within this county; or, if served elsewhere, within thirty days.

The said action is brought to obtain a judgment and decree of this Court dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between plaintiff and defendant, upon the following grounds:

(1st) On the ground of the defendant's wilful desertion of the plaintiff.

(2nd) On the ground of defendant's extreme cruelty inflicted upon the plaintiff, and that the plaintiff may be allowed to resume her maiden name of Dora S. Baker.

That the real estate, described in the complaint, may be assigned and awarded wholly to the plaintiff, also for a general relief, as will more fully appear in the complaint on file, to which special reference is hereby made.

All of which will more fully appear in the complaint on file herein, to which you are hereby referred.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, as above required, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief therein demanded.

Given under my hand and seal of said Superior Court, at Alameda County, State of California, this 15th day of April, in the year of our Lord, One thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven.

(Seal) FRANK C. JORDON,
Clerk.
By J. CAL EWING,
Deputy Clerk.

J. H. MOORE, Attorney for Plaintiff, 77-78 Montgomery Block, San Francisco, Cal.

Public notice is hereby given by the Treasurer of the city of Oakland, county of Alameda, State of California, that he has now on hand, in the City Treasury of the said city of Oakland, the sum of $9,000 (nine thousand dollars), for the purpose of the redemption of bonds numbered from eight to thirteen (8 to 13) of the denomination of $1,000 each.

Also bonds numbered from seven to twelve (7 to 12) of the denomination of $500 each. Each of the above mentioned numbers are to be understood to be inclusive. Said bonds issued in accordance with an act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled "An Act to provide for the liquidation of the floating indebtedness of the city of Oakland, to prevent the incurring of further debts," approved March 30th, 1874, which said act may be found on page 799, etc., of the statutes of the State of California for the year 1873-4.

That the said City Treasurer will receive sealed proposals for the surrender of the aforesaid bonds at the rates not exceeding par value.

Said sealed proposals will be received at the office of the said City Treasurer, at the City Hall of the said City of Oakland, county of Alameda, State of California, each day, excepting Sundays and legal holidays, from 9 o'clock A. M. until 5 o'clock P. M. from and after May 13th, 1897, up to and including the 21st day of June, A. D. 1897, and said sealed proposals will be opened by the said City Treasurer at his said office at the hour of 12 o'clock noon on the 22nd day of June, 1897, in the presence of the President of the City Council of the said city of Oakland.

And they shall accept the lowest proposals at rates not exceeding par value, as may redeem the greatest number of bonds, until the amount of said $9,000 is exhausted.

Dated Oakland, Cal., May 13th, 1897.

Z. T. GILPIN,
City Treasurer of the city of Oakland, Alameda county, California.

Notice for sealed proposals to redeem municipal bonds of the city of Oakland. Public notice is hereby given by the Treasurer of the city of Oakland, county of Alameda, State of California, that he has now on hand, in the City Treasury of the said city of Oakland, the sum of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars for the purpose of the redemption of bonds numbers twenty-three to thirty-two (23 to 32), both numbers inclusive, issued in accordance with an act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled "An Act to provide funds for the city of Oakland," approved March 27th, 1872, which said act may be found on page 690 of the statutes of the State of California for the year 1871-72.

That the said City Treasurer will receive sealed proposals for the surrender of the aforesaid bonds at the rates not exceeding par value.

ORDINANCE NO.—An Ordinance authorizing and directing the Board of Public Works to advertise for proposals to do certain public advertising and printing and to enter into a contract for doing the same.

Be it ordained by the Council of the city of Oakland as follows:

SECTION I.

The Board of Public Works is hereby authorized and directed to advertise for proposals to do all public printing which may come under the direction or order of the City Council of the city of Oakland or any or all of the departments of the city government, and to enter into a contract with the lowest responsible bidder for doing the same for one year commencing July 1, A. D. 1897, and ending June 30th, 1898. The daily newspaper to which said contract is awarded after receiving proposals by the Board of Public Works, and upon entering into a contract and filing a satisfactory bond in due and proper form, shall be the newspaper designated by this Council without further order as the official newspaper of the City Council of the city of Oakland, and the official medium for advertising and publishing all public notices for street work, ordinances, resolutions or other advertisements of the City Council or other departments of the city government of the said city of Oakland.

SECTION II.

This Ordinance shall take effect and be in force on and after its approval.

In Council, Oakland, Cal., June 7th, 1897.

Passed to print by the following vote:

ORDINANCE NO. —An Ordinance amending an Ordinance No. 820 entitled "An Ordinance creating the office of Poundmaster and defining his duties; to prevent certain animals from running at large, and to provide for the burial of dead animals in the city of Oakland, approved May 13, 1879."

Be it ordained by the Council of the city of Oakland as follows:

SECTION I.

Section 4 of Ordinance No. 820, entitled "An Ordinance creating the office of Poundmaster and defining his duties; to prevent certain animals from running at large, and to provide for the burial of dead animals in the city of Oakland," approved May 13, 1879, is hereby amended to read as follows: It is hereby declared unlawful for any ox, bull, cow, horse, colt, jack, mule, calf, sheep, goat and hog, ducks, geese and chickens to run at large in the city of Oakland, or to be pastured or herded (or staked or tied for the purpose of grazing) in any of the streets, lanes, alleys, courts or places, public squares or other grounds belonging to or under the control of the city of Oakland, and it shall be unlawful for any of said animals or stock of any kind to be tied, staked, pastured or to run at large upon any private property within the limits of said city of Oakland, unless by consent of the owner or occupant of such property. Provided, however, that the provisions of this section referring to chickens shall apply only to the First, Third, Fourth and Sixth Wards of the city of Oakland, and that portion of the Second Ward east of San Pablo ave.

SECTION II.

Section 8 of said Ordinance is hereby amended to read as follows: The Poundmaster shall be entitled to receive from the owner of any animal, except dogs, the following fee for impounding and keeping the same, to-wit:

Horses, bulls, oxen and cows, per head $2 00
Jacks, mules, steers and colts, per head $3 00
Hogs, sheep, goats and calves, per head 50
Ducks, geese and chickens, per head .. 25

And the further sum for keeping the same per day:

Horses, bulls, oxen and cows, per head 50
Jacks, mules, steers and colts, per head 50
Hogs, sheep, goats and calves, per head 25
Ducks, geese and chickens, per head .. 05

With twenty per cent on the gross sales made by him as hereinbefore provided.

SECTION III.

Section 11 of said Ordinance is hereby amended to read as follows: It shall be the duty of all persons having dead animals upon their premises, or who shall be the owner or possessor of any dead animal which die within the city of Oakland, to bury the same at least four feet underground, except cats, dogs or fowls, which shall be buried at least two feet under ground, either upon his own premises or in the city burial place for dead animals, within forty-eight hours after the same shall die; and, upon the request of any owner or possessor of any dead animal, it shall be the duty of the Poundmaster to proceed forthwith to bury the same in the city burial place for dead animals, for which he shall be entitled to receive from the owner or possessor of such dead animals the following fees, to-wit:

For burying horses, bulls, oxen and cows, each $3 00

Notice of Special Election.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a special election in and for the City of Oakland, and in and for that certain territory, lying and being in the Township of Oakland, hereinafter described and proposed to be annexed, all in the County of Alameda, State of California, to determine whether the boundaries of the City of Oakland shall be altered and new territory annexed and made a part of said city, will be held in said city of Oakland, and in said territory proposed to be annexed, all in the County of Alameda, State of California, on THURSDAY, THE 10TH DAY OF JUNE, 1897.

Whereas, The Council of the City of Oakland, County of Alameda, State of California, did, by a certain Ordinance, No. 1891, passed by said Council on the 11th day of May, 1897, and approved by the Mayor of said City of Oakland, on the 11th day of May, 1897, proposed that there be submitted to the electors of said city and to the electors residing in certain new territory situate in the Township of Oakland, County of Alameda, State of California, and in said ordinance described, which territory was proposed to be annexed to the City of Oakland, the question whether said new territory which is hereinafter described and was proposed to be annexed shall be annexed to and incorporated in and made a part of said city of Oakland, which said ordinance was entitled "An Ordinance providing for a special election to determine whether the boundaries of the City of Oakland shall be altered and new territory annexed and made a part of said City," to which said ordinance reference is hereby expressly made.

And, Whereas an act entitled "An act to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of and for the annexation of territory to incorporated towns and cities, and for the incorporation of such annexed territory, in and as a part of such municipalities and for the districting, government and municipal control of annexed territory," approved March 19th, 1889, provides that the boundaries of any incorporated town or city, whether heretofore or hereafter formed, incorporated, reincorporated, organized or re-organized, may be altered, and new territory annexed thereto, incorporated and included therein, and made a part thereof, upon proceedings being had and taken as in the act provided.

Now, therefore, in conformity with the provisions of the statute hereinbefore cited, and the said ordinance, notice is given that a special election for the purpose of determining the question herein submitted, is hereby called and will be held in the said City of Oakland, and in the said new territory proposed to be annexed thereto (which said territory so proposed to be annexed is in said Ordinance and hereinafter specifically described), on Thursday, the 10th day of June, 1897.

For the purpose of submitting to the electors of said municipal corporation and to the electors residing in said territory by said ordinance so proposed to be annexed to said city and corporation the question whether such territory shall be annexed to and incorporated in and made a part of said city and municipal corporation and for no other purpose. Which said new territory so asked and proposed to be annexed to said City of Oakland is situated in the County of Alameda and State of California, and is bounded and described as follows, to wit:

BOUNDARIES.

All that certain piece or parcel of land and extent of land and territory situate in Oakland township, Alameda county, State of California, and more particularly bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at a point on the northern boundary line of the City of Oakland 150 feet distant easterly from the easterly line of San Pablo avenue, and measured at a right angle thereto, said beginning point being also the southeast corner of the Town of Emeryville, and running thence in a northerly direction along the easterly boundary line of the Town of Emeryville to the center line of Temescal creek, thence in a westerly direction following the center line of the bed of Temescal creek—being also the boundary line of the Town of Emeryville in said creek—to a point 730 feet distant westerly from the westerly line of San Pablo avenue measured at a right angle thereto, thence along the easterly line of the said Town of Emeryville in a northerly direction, running parallel with and 730 feet distant westerly from said line of San Pablo avenue to the southern boundary line of the Town of Berkeley, thence easterly following the boundary line of the Town of Berkeley to a point on said boundary line of the Town of Berkeley 125 feet distant westerly from the westerly line of College avenue—also known as College way—and measured at a right angle to said line of College avenue, thence in a southerly direction on a line parallel with and 125 feet distant westerly from said line of College avenue a distance of 1000 feet, thence at a right angle to said line of College avenue in an easterly direction to and across said College avenue to a point 275 feet distant easterly from the easterly line of said College avenue and measured at a right angle thereto, thence in a southerly direction along a line parallel with and 275 feet distant easterly from the easterly line of College avenue and its extension and measured at a right angle thereto, to a point on the southerly line of Clifton street, as said street is laid down, delineated and so designated on a map entitled Map of Rock Ridge, etc., filed in the office of the Recorder of Alameda County on August 4th, 1879, thence in an easterly direction along said line of Clifton street to the westerly line of McAdam street, as delineated and so designated on aforesaid Map of Rock Ridge, thence in a direct line due south to the line dividing plots Nos. 13 and 15, as said plots are delineated and so designated on a map entitled Map of the Rancho of Vicente and Domingo Peralta, etc., filed in the office of the Recorder of Alameda county on January 21st, 1857, said plot line is the western boundary line of the St. Mary's Cemetery, thence along said plot line in a southwesterly direction to the most western corner of said plot No. 15, thence in a southeasterly direction following the line dividing plots Nos. 14, and 15 as shown on map of aforesaid ranchos (the last named plot line being the southwesterly boundary of the St Mary's and Mountain View Cemeteries) to the westerly line of Piedmont Sanitary District, thence following the boundary line of Piedmont Sanitary District in a southerly and then in a southeasterly direction to its intersection with the said northern boundary line of the City of Oakland, and thence in a westerly direction along the said boundary line of the City of Oakland to the place of beginning.

The said special election shall be held and conducted, votes received and canvassed and returns made and the result determined according to the provisions of the said Act of March 19, 1889, and shall be in conformity as far as may be, with the general laws of this State concerning elections. The said question of the proposed annexation is hereby submitted to be voted upon by ballot at said special election by the qualified electors of said City of Oakland; and of said new territory proposed to be annexed; and the said qualified electors of said City of Oakland, and the said qualified electors residing in said new territory so proposed to be annexed, are hereby invited to vote upon the proposition of said proposed annexation by placing upon their ballots in the manner provided by law the words "for annexation" or "against annexation" as the electors respectively may be in favor of or against such annexation.

The polls for such election shall be opened at sunrise of the morning of said day of election and shall be kept open until 5 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day, when the polls shall be closed.

The voting precincts, the places of election or polling places therein at which the polls in such precincts will be opened on said day of special election in said City and in said territory proposed to be annexed have been and are in said ordinance No. 1891 established, created and designated as follows, and the following named persons have been by said ordinance appointed officers of election to act as such in the respective precincts and polling places preceding their names hereinbelow set forth, respectively and as follows, to-wit:

Assessor's Poll Tax and Road Poll Tax Notice.

Poll Tax and Road Poll Tax must be paid on demand.

Oakland, March 1st, 1897.

Notice is hereby given that the State Poll Tax and Road Poll Tax for two dollars each for the year 1897, is now due and payable at the Assessor's office, room one, Court House, or to a Deputy Assessor.

Section 3529 of the Political Code reads as follows:

Every male inhabitant of the State over twenty-one and under sixty years of age, except paupers, insane persons and Indians, must annually pay a Poll Tax of two dollars, provided the same be paid between the

First Monday in March and the First Monday in July,

then it shall be three dollars.

Sec. 3546 of the Political Code makes it the duty of the Assessor to "demand Poll Tax of every person liable therefor, and on the neglect or refusal of such person to pay, he must collect by seizure and sale of any personal property owned by such person."

Under Sections 429 to 435 every person who refuses to give his own name or the name of any person in his employ, or who in any manner obstructs the Assessor or any of his deputies in the collection of the State Poll Tax, is guilty of a misdemeanor and liable to a fine of $500 or imprisonment in the County Jail, or both such fine and imprisonment.

Only those persons under twenty-one or over sixty years of age are exempt. Poll tax must be paid on demand.

The same laws apply to the collection of Road Poll Tax as to the collection of State Poll Tax.

HENRY P. DALTON,
Assessor of Alameda County.
Oakland, California.

ASSESSOR'S Notice to Taxpayers!

Oakland, March 1st, 1897.

All Persons, Firms, Companies, Corporations and Associations are required to deliver at the Assessor's office, at the Court House, City of Oakland, County of Alameda, on or before March 15, 1897, a statement under oath of all the property, both real and personal, owned or claimed by him, her or them, or in their possession or held in trust for others, at 12 o'clock meridian on the

First Monday of March, 1897

In accordance with Sec. 3629, Political Code.

Every person who refuses or neglects to furnish the statement as provided for in Section 3629 Political Code becomes liable to a fine of one hundred dollars, and the value fixed by the Assessor on their property must not be reduced by the Board of Equalization.

All persons owning real estate that has been assessed in the wrong name or errors have appeared on their tax bills, are requested to call at the Assessor's office or notify the Assessor by mail on or before March 15th, 1897, so that the proper corrections may be made on the assessment roll for the year 1897.

Assessment blanks may be obtained at the Assessor's office, room one, Court House, or from any Deputy Assessor.

HENRY P. DALTON,
Assessor of Alameda County.
Oakland, California.

PROBATE NOTICE.

In the Superior Court of the County of Alameda, State of California.

In the matter of the estate of Alice L. Stratton, deceased.

W. W. KAUFMAN, Attorney for Petitioner.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE.

In the Superior Court of the county of Alameda, State of California.

No. 4203.

In the matter of the estate of Phillip Boogar, deceased.

Order to show cause why order of sale of real estate should not be made.

It appearing to the satisfaction of said Court by the duly verified petition this day presented and filed by P. F. Benson and E. M. Paterson, the executors of the estate of Phillip Boogar, deceased, praying for an order of sale of real estate, that it is necessary to sell the whole or some portion of the real estate belonging to the estate of said deceased, to pay the debts outstanding against the said deceased, and the debts, expenses and charges of administration:

It is therefore ordered that all persons interested in the estate of said deceased appear before said Superior Court on Monday, the 14th day of June, A. D. 1897, at 10 o'clock A. M. of said day, at the Courtroom of said Court, Department No. 4, at the Courthouse in the city of Oakland, county of Alameda, State of California, then and there to show cause why an order should not be granted to the said executors to sell so much of said real estate as shall be necessary, and that a copy of this order be published four successive weeks in the Oakland Tribune, a newspaper printed and published in said Alameda county,

Dated May 7th, 1897.

F. G. OGDEN,
Judge of the Superior Court.

LEGAL.

PROPOSALS for furnishing meat, vegetables, groceries, bread, clothing, hay and grain, wood and coal, blank books, blanks, hardware, electrical supplies, stationery, lumber, building materials, and other supplies required by the various departments of the city government of the city of Oakland, not including the educational department.

Department of Public Works, City Hall, Oakland, Cal.

In accordance with resolution No. —— of the Board of Public Works, sealed proposals will be received in open session of the Board of Public Works, at their office in the City Hall on Wednesday, the 16th day of June, from 10 to 11 o'clock A. M., for furnishing meat, vegetables, groceries, bread, clothing, hay and grain, wood and coal, blank books, blanks, hardware, electrical supplies, stationery, lumber, building materials and other supplies to the various departments of the city government of the city of Oakland, not including the educational department, for the period of one year, commencing July 1, 1897, and ending June 30, 1898.

The said supplies to be in accordance with the specifications or samples now on file in the Department of Public Works, to which reference is hereby made for full particulars and description of the supplies required.

Bidders will estimate separately upon any or all supplies enumerated, as per denomination, with the understanding that the Board of Public Works reserves the right to accept the lowest bid upon each article of each class.

Wherever in proposal samples are requested to be furnished, the said samples must be placed in the office of the Department of Public Works, not later than 5 P. M. on June 15th, 1897. All supplies furnished to be properly marked with name of bidder and class and number of said class as shown on proposals.

The city of Oakland reserves the right to use greater or less quantities than enumerated in proposal. All supplies to be delivered at such times, in such places and in such quantities as may be required by the various departments of the city government of the city of Oakland.

All supplies and materials furnished to be subject to the approval of the department ordering the same, and to the satisfaction of the Board of Public Works.

All bids must be made upon the blank forms of the Board, which will be furnished upon application, by the secretary.

All bids must be accompanied by a check certified by some responsible bank, made payable to the order of J. W. Tompkins, clerk of the Council, for not less than ten per cent of the proposal, which check shall be forfeited to the city of Oakland, should the bidder receiving the award fail, within ten days to enter into a contract and furnish a good and sufficient bond in a sum not to exceed $500, for the faithful performance of the same.

The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

By order of the Board of Public Works.
H. W. THOMAS,
Secretary.

ADJUDICATION OF INSOLVENCY.

In the Superior Court of the county of Alameda, State of California.

In the matter of Mollie C. Robinson, insolvent debtor.

Mollie C. Robinson having filed in this Court her petition, schedule and inventory in insolvency, by which it appears that she is an insolvent debtor, the said Mollie C. Robinson is hereby declared to be insolvent.

The Sheriff of the county of Alameda is hereby directed to take possession of all the estate, real and personal, of the said insolvent debtor, except such as may be by law exempt from execution, and of all her deeds, vouchers, books of account and papers, and to keep the same safely until the appointment of an assignee herein.

All persons are forbidden to pay any debts to the said insolvent debtor, or to deliver any property belonging to said insolvent debtor to her, or to any person, firm or corporation, or association for her use.

The said debtor is hereby forbidden to transfer or deliver any property, until the further order of this Court, except as herein ordered.

It is further ordered, that all the creditors of said debtor whose claims shall have been placed on file in the office of the Clerk of this Court at least two days prior to the 14th day of June, 1897, be and appear before the Superior Court of the county of Alameda, State of California, in open Court, at the Court-room of said Court, Department No. 1, in the county of Alameda, on the said 14th day of June, 1897, at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day, to prove their debts and choose an assignee of the estate of said debtor.

It is further ordered, that this order be published in the Oakland Tribune, a daily newspaper of general circulation, published in the county of Alameda, as often as the said newspaper is printed before the said day set for the meeting of creditors.

And it is further ordered, that, in the meantime, all proceedings against the said insolvent debtor be stayed. Done in open Court.

Dated June 5th, 1897.

The Acme Club Revels In Its Beautiful Rooms.

GOODFELLOWSHIP IS SHOWN.

Appreciated Courtesy on the Part of Reliance Boys.

ENLARGED DOG SHOW PURSES.

The Latest Developments in the Wheelman's League Dispute.

The most interesting events in the sporting world during the past week will be found recorded below.

THE UMPIRE.

The auspices opening of the Acme Club was of course, the event of importance this week. The initial bow of the club in its new home will long be remembered by those who attended. The guests, hundreds in number, were escorted about the fine building and shown its many attractive features, while the clever orchestra from the Reliance Club discoursed sweet music.

It was pleasing indeed to see the two clubs join hands in such a fraternal spirit and it is to be hoped that this feeling of brotherhood will be maintained as long as two clubs exist. Though there has been an outward semblance of friendship between the two for years past, it has not been as it should. Indeed the natural club rivalry has on some occasions, advanced to a stage of enmity between some of the members, though of course, the clubs themselves have taken no cognisance of it.

Now, however, what little differences there have been in the past are blotted out and a union of interests will in future promote a greater feeling of friendship, not only between the two organizations, but among members who have been a little bitter.

When the Acme Club prepared to enter its new home, a house warming was planned, with the necessary promenade concert as an important feature. As soon as the Reliance Club became appraised of the fact that an orchestra would be in need, an almost spontaneous expression came from the musicians to offer their services. This was done and right graciously did the Acme managers grasp the hand held out to them and a simple "thank you, boys, we'll gladly accept and hope to be able to return the favor," did the rest. Everybody was pleased, even to the auditors who enjoyed the fine music immensely.

Now it is to be expected that receptions will follow. It might be that the Acme will set aside an evening in the near future for the exclusive entertainment of the Reliance members and it is sure to follow that the Reliance will reciprocate.

But to return to the house warming. There were nothing but expressions of pleasurable surprise at the fine new home, complete in all its appointments. The members of the club were congratulated repeatedly on the excellent quarters and the managers who made it all possible were complimented highly on their fine financeering and executive ability.

In this connection President J. J. Allen and Secretary J. P. Cook came in for a big share of praise. The two have worked side by side indefatigably and with one or two others have done the major portion of the hard work. How faithfully they have handled the club's affairs, the new home, increased membership and bank account tell better than words. The treasury is rapidly on its way toward certain prosperity and all branches of the club are in keeping.

With the fine big gymnasium and all modern appliances, including the swimming tank, the athletes have everything they could possibly desire, while the members who enjoy the social features of club life more, are amply supplied with all manner of pastimes.

Indeed the future of the Acme Club is bright. It has everything at hand for a reign of peace, plenty, prosperity and success. Long live the Acme!

The action of the Pacific Kennel Association is virtually trying to make it imperative that bench shows in this State shall follow the Eastern idea and put up at least $1,000 in prizes, before the class of entries known as "prize dogs" can be placed on the list, is taboood by every association in the State, exclusive of San Francisco. If it is forced through, as a result will practically be what Oakland and the other smaller cities will be compelled to do without dog shows in the future, for it is certain no such sum can be put up for prizes.

It is well known that up to the last one the exhibitions have run behind financially. Whether the last one paid or not is another question, but it could not if the $1,000 prize rule was in effect.

There has recently been a disruption in a very powerful organization, the L. A. W. owing to compelling Pacific Coast members to stand by rules made for the East. If such another attempt is made, a similar outcome may reasonably be expected. In fact the National Association realized the hardship of the rule in California and so expressly excluded California. It certainly seems ill-advised for the few professional dog men to demand that the Eastern rule be made operative here, under the circumstances. "Make haste slowly" would be a good motto to follow.

Now that the Acme Club opening is a thing of the past the Reliance Club claims attention. Tonight another of its pleasurable entertainments for ladies will be given, at which the wives, mothers, sisters and sweethearts will be given a glimpse, through the stereopticon of their relatives and friends on the Sunday wheel outings, which they have only so far heard of in guarded talk.

Some surprises are promised—awful, laughable surprises and this will heighten the interest.

On the following night the boxing exhibition for gentlemen is scheduled. This promises to be one of the best yet arranged and fun galore can be anticipated.

On the 15th, the Acme Club boxing contests take place. Much local interest is attached to this as two Oakland boys, Tye and Smith are to face very formidable rivals from San Francisco.

Baseball has taken a fresh spurt, owing to the determined efforts of a few enterprising enthusiasts. Of course the present activity is solely among the amateur and semi-amateur class of players, but they have come to the center, with a rush. In nearly every town on the coast these clubs have suddenly sprung into existence and the enthusiasm displayed by the devotees of the sport, indicates that they are not all of the mushroom type.

It is generally conceded that a professional league on a par with those of former days is a risky venture, for the general public has too clearly shown that it is not a paying proposition. However, the semi-amateurs fill the bill excellently and they may be the means of re-educating the backsliders into a genuine appreciation again for the sport.

If the good old baseball days of yore could be revived no one would be sorry, while many would be glad. Let us live in patient hope.

In this month's Munsey, under the department entitled "Vanity Fair," the editor endeavors to take a sarcastic slap at out door sports in an article as follows:

"If the spectacle of an able bodied man swinging by chains from the ceiling in a so-called oriental divan—dancing for all the world like a side of beef in a meat shop—is pathetic, we can balance it by a story that comes from the South of something new in the way of races. The latest and most solidly intellectual pastime is nothing less than a crab race. The gleeful participants in this exhilarating contest supply themselves with live and wriggling crabs, which, at a given signal, are unleashed to bound away along their only avenue of escape. Those that fail to win, forfeit to the possessor of the speediest crustacean.

"Watch the faces of the excited crowd cheering the fleet little creatures as they speed along sideways over the course. What a stirring contest! What a field is here for the development of a new and healthy sport? Before the end of the century we shall have 'two forty' crabs, and perhaps pedigree lobsters.

"The sight of a party of sober business men on horseback in breathless pursuit of an aniseed bag is enough to bring tears of unholy mirth to the eyes of the onlooker; but in the crab race, we have the acme of unwitting farce, the height of cultivated absurdity and the depth of pathos. Perhaps these are essential elements to sport. At any rate it does not do to bring too sharp a focus upon any amusement that takes people out of doors. In such a light even golfing shows up as nothing more than 'chasing a quinine pill around a cow pasture.'"

THE UMPIRE.

FOR THE LADIES.

A Special Entertainment at the Reliance Club Tonight.

This evening the Reliance Club will throw open its newly frescoed rooms to entertain with another ladies' night. The programme will consist of stereopticon views. They are all local being taken by the camera boys of the club. Some of them are fine and are sure to bring down the house. The Reliance orchestra, under the leadership of Chas. Crist will render the following pieces during the entertainment:

"El Capitan".....Sousa

March, "Reliance".....Crist

Prof. Billy Durack and partner will entertain the audience with guitar and banjo specialties. After this there will be a promenade concert. The orchestra will be stationed in the upper hall while the audience promenades through the building and sees the many new things that have lately been added to the club.

On Thursday evening will be given the boxing exhibition. There will be two eight-round contests for decisions, between Frank McConnell of the S. F. A. C. and Joseph Kane of the Manhattan Club, each to weigh 145 pounds; and Jimmy Reilly of the Manhattan Club and Frank Schuler of the S. F. A. C. each to weigh 125 pounds.

These men are well known in the amateur ranks, having fought many battles as amateurs. Knowing the clubs they come from, good fights are assured.

There will also be preliminaries by some of the best men on the coast.

The Reliance Gun Club will hold a shoot for members next Sunday, when the Heeseman cup and Kellogg medal will be contested for. There is always a big delegation of club shooters on hand member's day and some lively shooting can be expected.

The bicycle boys will hold a run to Centerville Sunday, having dinner there. They wheel over to Mission San Jose where a barbecue will be held and then returning by moon-light by the way of Niles. A fine time will be enjoyed by those making the trip.

The boys are now talking up the Baker & Hamilton race. They expect to put in a winning team this season.

ALL KINDS OF SPORTS.

A Brief Resume of the Intersting Events of the Week.

Encinals have selected a skipper and crew to man the Fawn in her cup contest with the Acolus June 19th. Captain McCullough will handle the tiller and his crew consists of Messrs. F. O'Connor, Dillon, George Leonard and J. F. Woodrum.

The basket ball tournament of the Oakland and San Francisco Y. M. C. A. teams has been won by the Business Men's team from across the bay. The two games remaining to be played cannot alter the result. At present the score stands: Business Men, San Francisco—Won 11, lost 1; Athens, Oakland—Won 7, lost 3; Cyclones, Oakland—Won 5, lost 6; Rushers, San Francisco—Won 4, lost 7; Ninety-Seven, San Francisco—Won 0, lost 10.

The Oakland Monarch won the ball game with the S. N. Wood team of San Francisco Sunday by a score of 4 to 0 in the sixth inning when the San Francisco players left the field.

The Westovers beat the Steens at Alameda Sunday by a score of 13 to 8.

The Acme ball club was bested by the Jacobs on the same grounds. The score stood 4 to 3.

The Alameda-Pacific cricket match Sunday resulted in an easy victory for the local men who outplayed their opponents at almost every point.

The tennis players are actively preparing for the July 4th doubles tournament at San Rafael.

A Good Catch.

Striped bass are becoming plentiful in the waters of the bay and are caught in considerable numbers off the Bay Farm Island shore. Fred Binder, the Alameda pharmacist, in company with Dr. Reynolds hooked a large specimen a few days ago. It weighed fourteen pounds and was at least two feet in length.

DOINGS OF OUR LEGAL LIGHTS.

City Attorney E. K. Taylor of Alameda has one great hobby, and that is yachting. His cruiser the Emerald is one of the tautest crafts on the bay, and although once an illicit trader she has been thoroughly reformed by her present owner.

Harry Melvin is a favorite baritone and a spell-binder when it comes to story telling. When he seeks relaxation from the trammels of his legal practice he is a royal companion.

W. J. Robinson is a camera fiend and is the possessor of an outfit that would do der among amateurs.

credit to a large sized professional gallery. He turns out some splendid work and is regarded as a star of the first order among amateurs.

Ex-Mayor Melvin C. Chapman is a reservoir of good humored stories concerning the law as "she is practiced and distorted" in some of the outlying Justices' courts. How he worsted Eugene Deuprey up at San Pablo is a story worth relating.

Jos. B. Barber is a gourmant, and he is constantly in search of new places where he can satisfy the cravings of his inner man for something novel in the art of cookery.

Judges Ellsworth and Greene sit in banc on the question of horseflesh. Both are fond of driving fast horses and when they obtain respite from their official duties both Judges hasten for their favorite steeds.

LIFE AND DEATH.

Valuable Statistics Compiled by the City Health Department.

The mortuary report of the city Health Department for May shows the following: Deaths from zymotic diseases, 3; constitutional diseases, 12; local diseases, 36; developmental, 4; violence, 4. The total number of deaths for the month was 60, of which 28 were males and 32 were females.

There were 63 births in May, 25 being male and 38 being female.

In May there were 14 clear days, 12 fair days, 5 cloudy days, 2 rainy days, and 9 mornings when there was a high fog. There were no mornings when frost was seen, and no mornings when there was a low fog. During the month .23 of an inch of rain fell, making 30.70 inches since July 1, 1896. The mean temperature was 59.60 degrees.

To Die for Murder.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 9.—Division No. 2 of the Supreme Court has affirmed the sentences of the St. Louis Circuit Court in the cases of George Thompson (colored) and Andrew Warton, and sentenced them to hang on July 8th. Thompson killed Thomas Cunningham, sexton of a colored church, in St. Louis, in an attempt to poison the organist. Warton is a gypsy who killed his wife in a flatboat on the Mississippi river at St. Louis.

A Midget's Death.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 9.—C. W. Sparling, a midget, is dead here of throat trouble. He was 24 years of age and was only 42 inches in height and weighed 53 pounds. Sparling was a drummer for a Dowagiac, Michigan, firm, and had been in the city for a year. His remains will be sent to Dowagiac, where he was born and where relatives survive him.

Testimonial Benefit.

A testimonial benefit is to be tendered to Master Archie Donaldson by the pupils of Mrs. Anna Donaldson at Fraternal Hall, Washington street, Friday evening next. There will be recitations, Delsarte exercises and fancy dancing, with a social dance at the close.

THE MAKER

of Deviled Crabs Asks a Question.

The following correspondence between Mr. McMenamin, the well known producer of hermetically sealed sea food, of Hampton, Virginia, and the Postum Cereal Company, may interest some as it touches a point upon which there have been some queries:

"Hampton, Va.—Postum Cereal Company, Battle Creek, Mich.—Gentlemen: Replying to your letter I beg to say that your health coffee has a flavor, so far as I can remember, of the best coffee, and this coffee flavor was so pronounced it very excellent coffee. One tee was mixed with the other grains. I served it to some of my guests without telling them what it was, and they pronounced it very excelent coffee. One of them was a coffee drinker who had to have it three times a day. I would like to know if there is any coffee in it. Very truly yours, James McMenamin."

"Battle Creek, Mich.—Mr. James McMenamin, Hampton, Virginia. Dear Sir: We have your esteemed favor of the 28th, and in reply to your inquiry as to the ingredients, will say that we are willing to stake every penny we can get together that Postum not only does not contain coffee, but that it is composed strictly and entirely of pure cereals of the field, the greater portion being the various parts of wheat. It took us nearly a year of experimenting to produce Postum the health coffee. It is an easy matter to make a weak sort of drink from browned rye, wheat or malt but to produce a liquid from the cereals that has the color, taste and nourishing properties of our present product, taxed our best energies and that of one of the most expert analytical chemists in America.

We felt a desire to demonstrate the principal that man's drink at meals should be made from grains, without any sort of adulteration or chemical preparation, aside from simple cooking. It may be further explained, that in order to produce Postum the cereals are cooked in different ways and the final mixing of the proper proportions is what gives us the desired result.

There is no possible argument that can be brought forward that will raise the question for a moment regarding the fixed fact of the healthful, nourishing and fattening properties of the cereals furnished by the all-wise Creator for man's natural use. We thank you for your kind letter. Yours respectfully, Postum Cereal Company, Limited."

There is but one genuine original Postum Cereal Coffee, with a multitude of imitations offered as "just as good."

CURBSTONE TRADESMEN

The Merchants' Exchange Will Try to Eradicate Them.

AN ILLEGAL COMPETITION.

Inequality of the Favors Shown Legitimate Dealers.

LADIES' LEAGUE ENDORSED.

A Celebration Will Be Held on the Fourth of July.

A number of ladies attended the meeting of the Merchants' Exchange last evening at the invitation of the directors. They composed a delegation of the Ladies' Home Trade League and were ushered into the Exchange rooms by Director W. V. Witcher.

The ladies took seats in the ante-room when they first entered, but after the reading of the minutes and several communications Mr. Witcher was appointed a committee of one to escort them to the front. This Mr. Witcher gallantly did, Messrs. Gier and Howe ably assisting him in supplying the necessary chairs. When the ladies, four in number, had been comfortably seated in a group around Director Brown, who seemed much interested in the proceedings, President Arper said that the Exchange would be pleased to hear what the ladies had to say.

"I believe," said Mrs. Smedley, one of the ladies, "that we are here by invitation of this body, but as to our wishes from this body I will say that, in the early part of our work, it was thought well to have the endorsement of the leading organizations of the city."

Mrs. Smedley then went on to explain that the League's object was to encourage home trading, and told of the entertainments to be given for that purpose, stating that the one which had already been given proved a decided success.

Mr. Arper said he had heard that Mrs. Wood, who was present, was a good talker. He knew that she was a good writer, and, being a woman, she must be a good talker.

Mrs. Wood said that she had known Mr. Arper for some time, consequently his speech was all right. She really, though, did not know why they had been invited to be present.

Mr. Arper said that Mr. Farwell would explain that when she had finished.

"We'll hear Mr. Farwell now," said Mrs. Wood, resuming her seat.

Mr. Farwell said he had met the ladies on the street, and that they had expressed a desire to be invited.

THE LADIES GRIEVED.

Then Mrs. Wood explained that the League had been grieved because the Exchange had failed to endorse it. It was not then too late, however, for an endorsement.

Mrs. Smedley also wished the Exchange's endorsement of the League.

Mr. Brown wished to know what constituted an endorsement, and Mrs. Smedley explained that the Exchange might express its confidence in the League and say that it was a worthy organization.

In answer to a number of questions from Mr. Fish, Mrs. Smedley stated that the League expected no gain from the entertainments it intended to give; that the ticket system was used, as that was the only way to get an audience; that the expense to the merchants in buying the tickets for the entertainments was the only way to pay for the talent.

Mr. Champlin asked how much the ladies could make out of the entertainments, and Mrs. Romsen said they had worn out their shoes getting up the entertainments with no thought of gain.

"Oh, I'll make you a present of a pair of shoes," offered Mr. Champlin.

Under cover of the laughter that followed, the ladies retired. Later in the evening Mr. Witcher moved "that the Exchange heartily endorse the movement of the Ladies' Home Trade League, and that the members of the Exchange assist and encourage the ladies in every possible way." His motion was carried.

Mr. Fish of the Committee on the New Hotel and of the Committee on the Tunnel reported progress from both committees. The Committee on the Tunnel, he said, would meet as soon as Mr. Adams returned.

Mr. Solist said the matter was being pushed in Contra Costa county, and Mr. Arper said the press of both Contra Costa county and Oakland was taking the matter up and was doing good work.

The report of the committee of three appointed by the Exchange on the committee of seventeen was approved down to the part recommending that another committee be appointed, and the $35.90 expense incurred by the committee was ordered paid out of the old Fourth of July fund.

SIDEWALK STORES.

Then George L. Fish brought up the matter of corner stands.

"I have been requested," said he, "to call the attention of this Exchange to a practice that is not only detrimental to the welfare of Oakland, but is a burning shame to civilization. The smaller store keepers are going along striving to eke out an existence and barely getting enough to eat. A large percentage of these smaller concerns are insolvent or are on the verge of insolvency. The idea of the landlords in renting sidewalk premises to sidewalk merchants is outrageous. Honest men and women, some widows, are being crowded to the wall by these people who go to such men as Delger and rent corners on sidewalks for $10 or $15 a month and build stores there. No citizen has a right to rent one inch of the sidewalk. When men like Mr. Blank, a good, honest, reputable citizen can hardly make a living down on Broadway I believe it is time for this body to request the Street Superintendent to abate this nuisance. They have all sorts of stores on the sidewalks. On Fourteenth street here you can even buy flowers. There are florists belonging to this Exchange. They can't pay rent and compete with these men who practically pay nothing. I want to see the Exchange take this matter up and see that it is righted."

Mr. Fibush resumed his seat amid applause.

Secretary Pearce said he had called upon the Street Superintendent, with reference to the stand on Thirteenth street, east of Washington and that Mr. Miller had agreed to enforce the law in every particular if the Exchange so desired it.

Mr. Fish resumed his seat amid applause.

State law to govern the matter. He said that on Broadway and Washington merchants were not allowed to exhibit goods for more than two hours at a time on the sidewalk more than eighteen inches from the building. On the side streets a clear space of eight feet was required.

Mr. Witcher also spoke in favor of keeping the streets clear and the secretary was instructed to request the Superintendent of Streets to enforce the law in every particular.

ON ANNEXATION.

Mr. Knickerbocker brought up the annexation election to be held tomorrow, stating that he was present at the meeting because he had read in the Tribune that the matter was to be discussed. He asked that a committee of three be appointed to interview Superintendent Hays of the Home of the Adult Blind, who was opposed to the annexation; Sam Bell McKee and R. M. Fitzgerald, who had interests and influence in the outside district and the Grove street railway magnates, who, by allowing their men time to vote at the election, over sixty votes could be gained for annexation. Mr. Knickerbocker said he thought the election would result in annexation by from 150 to 300 majority.

MR. SOHST SPEAKS.

Mr. Sohst followed with a speech showing the advantages to be gained by annexation both inside and out. He dwelt on the advantages from a sanitary standpoint for the outside district.

The chair appointed W. V. Witcher, J. F. W. Sohst and F. Sinclair a committee to interview the gentlemen named.

Secretary Sharp of the Board of Trade explained the action of that body yesterday afternoon in regard to the celebration of the Fourth of July and asked that the Exchange direct its president to appoint jointly with the Board's president the Committee of Seven to have charge of the affair.

On motion of Mr. Witcher the following was adopted:

"Resolved, That the Merchants' Exchange heartily endorses the proposition of the Board of Trade to give a Fourth of July celebration and that it do everything in its power to assist in carrying the thing along."

Those present at the meeting were: Directors Brown, Sohst, Schlueter, Sinclair, Champlin, Farwell, Coward, Wixson, Cushing, Fish, Gier, Howe, Burtchael, Knickerbocker, Sanborn, Meese and Messrs. P. J. Keller and Craigie Sharp of the Board of Trade.

BELIEVES IT A MURDER.

A Chicago Woman Investigating the Death of Her Husband.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Mrs. Anna Ely, a colored woman, is looking into the facts surrounding the death of her husband, which took place in the railroad yards at St. Louis last summer.

Mrs. Ely considers the death of her husband to be due to a mysterious murder, and it is her intention she says to unravel it.

Mrs. Ely thinks there is no doubt that Ely was struck by a cleaver in the hands of a fellow cook on board an excursion train at Desoto, Mo.

She believes he died from the effects of the wound, and his body was thrown into the yards at St. Louis to make it appear that he had accidentally been run over by a passing engine.

CUTTING RATES.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 9.—At the meeting of the Western Trunk Line Freight Committee the cut of 2 cents per hundred pounds made on lumber by the Chicago and Great Western was discussed. No fault was found with the rate, but a subcommittee was directed to inquire into the particulars and advise the committee as to the desirability of asking a change in the schedule on lumber. The rates on flour and grain by roads and water connections were referred to a special committee.

VOL. XXXXIII. OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 9, 1897. NO. 129

HUDELSON'S ANSWER.

A Denial of the Charges Made by His Alleged Wife.

SAYS HE NEVER MARRIED HER

The Maritial Relations of the Plaintiff in the Case.

HOW THE MATTER STARTED.

Some Strange Admissions Made In Cora's Cross-Examinations.

This morning a larger lobby was in attendance at the Hudelson trial. The plaintiff, "Mrs. Hudelson," as Attorney Terry will have it, "Cora Webster," as the defendant's attorney calls her, was recalled to the stand for cross-examination. The features of her past life were extensively gone into and then a number of depositions from persons in San Jacinto were introduced to show that she had married a man named Willem in the town, by contract. With the establishment of this fact the defendant sought to prove bigamy.

The common law marriage with a man named Sanborn was also tried to be proven. A long deposition from Sanborn has been filed, ready to be introduced by the defense.

The cross-examination then took a wider scope and brought into the testimony the relation with many men, whom witness admitted knew her as Cora Webster.

Attorney Hatton introduced a letter in evidence. It was written by the plaintiff to defendant on February 20th, 1896, from Modesto. It read as follows:

"Modesto, Cal., Feb. 20th, '96. Mr. B. F. Hudelson—Dear Sir: I hope you will pardon me for thus addressing you, but times have been more than quiet and one piece of hard luck after another compelled me to return to this town. Of which I regret, as there are so many making enquiries in regard to the time we first became acquainted and our relationship to each other.

"It makes it very unpleasant for me so much so that I wish to get away from it all.

I am financially embarrassed and know no one that will assist me, unless they are recompensed and I am like the general in the army.

"To make a long story short, will you assist me to get away from here. It will take a hundred dollars to say the least.

"Hoping to get a speedy reply that I will know what move to make, I am as ever, yours truly, Cora Webster."

Another letter, following the preceding one, a month later concluded with: "Thinking to avoid trouble for yourself and family as well as for myself, I most sincerely hope this may receive a speedy reply. Cora Webster."

MANY NAMES.

Questions as to the happenings since the plaintiff has been in San Francisco brought out a vigorous objection but this was overruled. The testimony on this line of cross-examination brought out the fact that the woman has resided at a great many places in San Francisco under a variety of different names. At all of those places Detective J. J. Butler paid the expenses. First she stopped at 408 Haight street under the name of Mrs. Johnson, and next at the Russ House. At 431 O'Farrell she went under the name of Mrs. Jackson. At 518 Taylor street she was known as Mrs. Lake. Mrs. Martin was the name she chose when she resided at 629 O'Farrell street, and on returning to the Russ House later, she was known as Mrs. J. J. Jackson.

The witness frankly admitted Butler paid all her expenses and was helping her in the case, though she had known him but three days prior to the time he took such interest in the matter. She did not know whether he had paid the court fees, nor did she know who had. She declared she had no money herself.

When questioned as to how she had met Butler, the witness stated that notary public B. S. O'Donnell had brought him to her house. She is now living at the Russ House in San Francisco, where Butler pays her bills.

At this point noon recess was taken.

HUDELSON'S DEPOSITION.

Portions of the deposition of Benjamin F. Hudelson, which was taken some time ago, is as follows:

Q.—What is your name, Mr. Hudelson?

A.—Benjamin F. Hudelson.

Q.—How old are you?

A.—Thirty-seven.

Q.—Where were you born?

A.—In Stanislaus county.

Q.—Where do you reside at present?

A.—Alameda county.

Q.—How long have you resided there?

A.—Lived there since, I think, it was the 11th of November, 1891.

Q.—What is your business or profession now?

Q.—How long have you occupied that position?

A.—Since January, 1895.

Q.—Were you residing in Stanislaus during the years of 1884, 1885 and 1886?

A.—No, sir. A part of the time I was.

Q.—Will you be kind enough to state what portion of the time?

A.—I was residing in Stanislaus county in 1884 and a portion of 1885.

Q.—Do you know the plaintiff in this action?

A.—I do not. No, sir.

Q.—Do you know a woman named Cora Webster, who resided in Stanislaus county during 1884 and 1885?

A.—I do; yes, sir.

Q.—What was her occupation?

A.—She was a public character.

Q.—Where was she conducting her business?

A.—A part of the time, I think, at a place known as "No. 5"; a part of the time at what was known as the Brooklyn Hotel.

A.—At "No. 5."

Q.—That was a public resort?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—When did you first become acquainted with her, what year?

A.—I cannot fix that. It was in 1882 or 1883. I cannot fix the time.

Q.—What business were you engaged in when you first met her, Mr. Hudelson?

A LAW CLERK.

A.—I think I was a clerk in a law office when I first met her.

Q.—Were you engaged in the study of law?

A.—I studied law some, yes, sir.

Q.—Were you afterwards in the livery stable business?

A.—I was afterwards, yes, sir; I was in the livery business in—that was after—I think it was in 1883 that I was in the livery business.

Q.—You were a single man then, were you?

A.—Yes, sir.

The deponent then told of his understanding of the character of the plaintiff and of the visits which he paid to her.

Q.—What was her name at that time, if you know?

A.—She went by the name of Cora.

Q.—Did you call her by that name?

A.—Yes, sir, most of the time.

Q.—Did you address her by any other name?

A.—She told me that her real name was Millie Johnson.

Q.—Now, Mr. Hudelson, did you ever make a proposition to this woman, during the latter part of 1885, to go up in the mountains and take up land with her?

A.—I did not.

Q.—Did you make any trip into the mountains with her in 1885?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—What time was that and who was with you?

A.—I cannot fix the time as just to the month.

Q.—Well, about the season or time of the year.

A.—Nor can I fix the time at all; she was forward and back in the mountains.

THE MOUNTAIN TRIP.

Q.—I am speaking now, of the first trip that was made to the mountains. Did you go up there and look at some land, which was to be taken up in her company?

A.—I first went to the mountains in her company not for the purpose of taking up any land.

Q.—Did you make a trip with her to the mountains?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Can you fix the time that you made that trip, Mr. Hudelson?

A.—I cannot fix the time.

Q.—Was it spring, summer, fall or winter?

A.—I think it was in the summer.

Q.—Do you know whether you made it alone or not—you and she alone?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—In a buggy or on horseback?

A.—In a buggy.

Q.—What was the purpose of the trip?

A.—Purpose was going to the mountains for an outing of a few days.

Q.—It was not the purpose of that trip to take up any government land or settle there?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—Where was that trip made to,—what part of Stanislaus County?

A.—I think it was to a part of what is known as Big Oak Flat.

Q.—How long did the trip take, Mr. Hudelson?

A.—One day.

Q.—Did you go and return the same day?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—How long did you remain up there?

A.—I can only approximate. From my memory, possibly a couple of days.

Q.—How many nights.

A.—Two.

Q.—Where did you stop those two nights?

A.—We stopped at a place owned by Mr. Joseph Shote.

Q.—Was that a public house?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—You then returned to Modesto?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—I will ask if you know Mrs. Madley, an old lady, about 65 or 70 years of age?

A.—Yes sir.

Q.—Was she the owner of "No. 5?"

A.—Not that I know of.

A DENIAL.

Q.—I will ask you if you then or ever after this—after your return from the trip to the mountains with this woman, did not state to Mrs. Medley, no one else being present, words in substance as follows: "Mrs. Medley, Millie and I got married last night; we are going to quit this mode of living and are going to the mountains to live," and thereupon Mrs. Medley congratulated her upon her change?

A.—I never did.

Q.—Did you ever state to Mrs. Medley at that time or at any other time that you and the woman known as Cora Webster had been married and were going to the mountains to live?

A.—I never did.

Q.—Did you ever say to Mrs. Medley in the presence of this woman known as Cora that, "Millie and I have got married and are going to the mountains to take up land?"

A.—I never did.

Q.—Did you ever state at that time or at any other time to anyone that you and this woman, plaintiff in this case, had married or made an agreement to marry?

A.—No.

Q.—After the first trip to the mountains did this woman continue to live at "No. 5?"

A.—I do not know.

Q.—Did she not soon after this time go to reside at the Brooklyn Hotel?

A.—I can't state as to how soon it was.

Q.—Was there no understanding or agreement between you and this woman that she was to dispose of what personal effects she had in this "No. 5" and go to this place to live?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—Did she go to the Brooklyn Hotel to live?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Did you visit her?

REPRIEVE EXPECTED

Governor Budd to Take Action in the Durrant Case.

HE WIRES FROM YOSEMITE.

Oakland Is to Get the Next Grand Meeting of Masons.

NEWS ALL ALONG THE COAST.

Impressive Funeral of the Victims of the Sunday Fire.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 9.—Governor Budd is still in Yosemite valley, but he has been in telegraphic communication with his office today in regard to the Durrant case.

Private Secretary Shields said this afternoon to an Associated Press reporter that he could not state what action the Governor intended to take.

It is generally understood, however, about the capitol that Durrant will be reprieved.

OAKLAND GETS THE NEXT SESSION.

The Sovereign Grand Lodge of Masons to Convene Here.

By Associated Press to the Tribune.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 9.—The Most Worshipful Sovereign Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, which has been in session here several days, has completed its labors and adjourned.

The Masonic Aid Association has been revived and the following trustees elected: John C. Rivers, William N. Sanderson, J. K. Dickinson, W. R. Strickland, William Mitchell.

Oakland was selected as the next place of meeting.

The following officers were elected: M. W. Grand Master, William H. Mauldin of Sacramento; R. W. Deputy Grand Master, Samuel E. Young of San Francisco; R. W. Grand Senior Warden, William N. Sanderson of Oakland; R. W. Grand Junior Warden, A. D. Wall of Marysville; R. W. Grand Treasurer, George W. Mitchell of San Francisco; R. W. Grand Secretary, Frank W. Johnson of San Francisco.

FUNERAL OF THE THREE FIREMEN.

An Impressive Scene Witnessed in the Streets of San Francisco.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—The funeral of the three firemen who perished in Sunday while in the discharge of their duties was held today and was made a public event.

Three hearses driven abreast conveyed the remains from the O'Farrell street engine house to St. Patrick's Church, and an escort of police and firemen, headed by the Second Regiment Band, accompanied them.

Mayor Phelan and most of the city officials followed in carriages, while a long train of vehicles bore the friends of the deceased.

The ceremonies at the church and cemetery were very impressive.

RANDSBURG'S RICHES.

More Marvellous Strikes Are Reported From the New Camp.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

RANDSBURG, Cal., June 9.—The camp is agog with excitement over the new strikes made yesterday.

The Wedge mine opened up a four and a half foot body of rich ore, the counterpart of the rich strike made three weeks ago in the Kinyon mine. The rock fairly glitters with gold, and much of it shows the value of a dollar per ounce.

This is on the 315 foot level, and every blast shows richer ore. In the Valverde No. 2 shaft, where the ore heretofore was of low grade, running about $8 per ton, another rich strike was made yesterday, and ore worth $200 per ton is now being taken out.

HORSEWHIPPED.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 9.—A sensation was created at Folsom last evening when Miss Sadie Marsh, a society young woman of that place, publicly horsewhipped A. F. Dains, a blacksmith, for having made remarks derogatory to her character. Miss Marsh was arrested, tried in the Justice's court and asquitted.

The Press Picnic.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., June 9.—Seventy-five members of the California Press Association were here today on their way back from British Columbia, where they were spending the past few days. The party will go to Portland tomorrow and be entertained there for two days.

DEPUTY WOODSUM IS TO RETIRE.

His Place in the County Clerk's Office to Go to James Oliver.

County Clerk Jordan is rearranging his staff, and as a result of the overhauling George D. Woodsum retires and James Oliver will take his place. Both Woodsum and Oliver are from Berkeley and have many friends. Woodsum has proved an efficient and capable officer and retires with the best wishes of all. He has already turned over his keys.

Oliver is one of the bright young men of Berkeley. He is an ardent Republican, and was chairman of the delegation at the recent convention. He is a University graduate and has many friends in social and political circles.

CHARGED WITH TEACHING HERESY.

Sensational Charges Against the Professors of the Texas University.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

AUSTIN, Texas, June 9.—A sensation was created in the Legislature today by the introduction of a resolution in the House providing for the appointment of a committee to investigate the management of the State University in this city.

The resolution charges that the professors are against the interests of the institution and are teaching heresy and inflating the minds of the pupils with Republican political faith and that the entire management of the institution, as well as the students, are suffering by the presence of these Northern "Ishmaelites."

The resolution, which went over until tomorrow, charges the committee to secure the dismissal of the Northern professors, if any of them are found in the University.

DUBOIS TO BE THE CHAIRMAN.

Chairman Towne Is to Appoint an Executive Silver Committee.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, June 9.—The Executive Committee of the National Silver Republican party held a session this afternoon to discuss methods of carrying on the organization. The National Committee of the party did not hold a meeting today as intended but decided to leave the selection of the Executive Committee to Chairman Towne.

Ex-Senator Fred W. Dubois of Idaho, will be chairman of this committee. The others have not yet been selected. National headquarters will be in charge of Ex-Congressman Towne and for the present will be at Duluth. The committee favored immediate organization for the Congressional elections of 1898 and also for the campaign of 1900, and instructed Chairman Towne to push this work as rapidly as possible.

Chairman Towne said today the conference was better attended than he expected and that he believed it indicated that the Silver Republicans would hold the balance of power in the Congressional and Presidential elections.

The Senate Finance Committee Deicdes Against the Charges.

HOW TO GET REVENUE NOW.

A System of Bank Check Siamps Suggested as a Relief.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The Republican members of the Finance Committee will withdraw the amendments for an additional tax on beer and for the duty of ten cents a pound on tea.

In explanation a member of the Finance Committee said that the pressure for the withdrawal of these amendments has been very great and that many Republican Senators have made decided stands against them.

The formal action of the committee on the subject has not been taken but the determination has been reached.

The members of the Committee are still in doubt as to what shall be done with increases on tobacco in the internal revenue part of the bill but there has been great pressure to have these taxes reduced.

The question of revenue is giving the Committee considerable concern and if there should be a withdrawal of the increases in tobacco as well as those on beer and tea the bill would not meet the needs of the Government as a revenue producer.

For this reason, it has been practically determined to make a bank check stamp tax and the question of additional revenue by means of a system of stamp taxes on beer has been under consideration. The Committee is considering these questions.

TARIFF TALK IN THE SENATE.

Rice and Tapioca Schedules Bring About a Debate.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The venerable Mr. Morrill of Vermont, chairman of the Finance Committee, was in the Senate today after an illness of some weeks.

A concurrent resolution offered by Mr. Allen of Nebraska was agreed to, nationalizing the Trans-Mississippi exposition to be held at Omaha and requesting the President to invite foreign nations to participate.

A joint resolution on the same general subject was agreed to suspending the immigration and Chinese exclusion laws so as to permit foreign labor to take charge of foreign exhibits at the Trans-Mississippi exposition.

Consideration of the tariff bill was resumed at 12:15 P. M. No mention was made as to the time of taking up the sugar schedule and the debate proceeded on the agricultural schedule.

On the rice paragraph Mr. Allison, in charge of the bill, withdrew the committee amendments reducing the House rates, thus leaving the House rates stand.

Mr. Mills of Texas moved to strike out the entire rice paragraph and substitute a new one placing a uniform duty of forty per cent ad valorem on all grades of rice. Rejected, 19—40.

Five Democrats, Bacon, Clay, McEnery, McLaurin and Tillman and four Populists, Allen, Butler, Heitfeld and Stewart, voted with the Republicans in the negative.

The rice paragraph was then agreed to as it came from the House. Rye and rye flour was agreed to as reported.

Paragraph 221 on tapioca had been struck out by the Senate. On the question of agreeing to this change, Mr. Rawlins (Utah) took the floor to answer Mr. Vest's statement yesterday, "that a new evangel" of Democratic doctrine was being proclaimed by certain Democratic Senators. Mr. Rawlins said he had been a member of the committee on resolutions and platform at the Chicago convention, presenting that tariff clause which had been under discussion. It was on his motion that it was agreed to.

Lindsay of Kentucky, platform in hand, interrupted to ask Mr. Rawlins since he presented the tariff clause, why the good old Democratic word "only" after tariff for revenue came to be omitted.

"Was it an intentional omission?" Mr. Lindsay asked.

"I think not," responded Mr. Rawlins.

"I can throw some light on that subject," said Mr. Tillman, who was also a member of the committee on platform at Chicago. "It was omitted purposely after discussion."

The Secretary of the Navy today sent to the Senate, in response to a resolution of inquiry, a statement concerning the cost and quantity of armor plate which has been supplied to the Government by the Carnegie and Bethlehem Companies since they began the supply. The statement shows that the Carnegie Company has supplied 12,127 tons at prices ranging from $515 to $661 and that the Bethlehem Company has supplied 13,301 tons within the same range of prices. Referring to the clause in the Senate's resolution asking for information as to how much financial assistance the Government has given to companies, the Secretary says that no assistance has been given either of the companies financially or otherwise in producing armor or gun steel for the army or the navy.

The Senate Judiciary Committee has considered the resolution of Senator Tillman concerning the South Carolina dispensary decision by Judge Simonton. While no definite conclusion has been reached, the opinion in the committee was that South Carolina had recourse first by appeal to the Court of Appeals and then by appeal to the Supreme Court.

ANGELL MAY NOT GO TO TURKEY.

It Is Not Yet Known if He Will Be Persona Grata.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Dr. Angell will be obliged to cancel his engagement to sail for Europe day after tomorrow.

Up to this time the Turkish government has not returned an opinion as to whether the explanations offered as to the record of the Minister are satisfactory to it and it is not deemed wise to make an issue by allowing Mr. Angell to proceed to his post at Constantinople until it is known positively that he will be persona grata.

The delay of the Turkish government in passing upon Dr. Angell's acceptability is causing some discomfort at the State Department, but the officials have not yet changed their belief that in the end the Minister will be received.

WHAT HE SAYS.

DETROIT (Mich.), June 9.—The News correspondent at Ann Arbor quotes Dr. Angell as saying that he may not go to Turkey as United States Minister. Dr. Angell declined to say why the matter

CANADA'S CHANCE.

If the Treaty Is Abrogated the Hawaiian Trade Will Go There.

INDUCEMENTS ARE OFFERED.

A Compromise About Immigrants Has Been Effected With Japan.

PART PAYMENTS ORDERED.

Refusal to Renew the Exclusive Cable Contract With Z. S. Spaulding.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Advices have just been received from Honolulu per steamship Australia to the effect that Japanese Minister Shimura has changed his attitude to some extent since the last advices from the Hawaiian capital.

After the departure of the steamship Peru several conferences were held between Minister Cooper and Shimura, with the result that the Japanese representative made proposals of a much more reasonable nature than those which he first offered. Originally Japan demanded indemnity for the total number of immigrants turned away from the islands; now, however, it is understood that she is willing to accept damages in such cases where the immigrant was illegally rejected. This proposition the Hawaiian Government will accept.

The original demand was for [illegible] for each man refused a landing. The Hawaiian Government admits that among the thousand or more immigrants a few errors may have been made; and it, if such appear upon a thorough investigation, expresses its readiness to pay for such mistakes upon the part of its officials.

At the instance of R. P. Rithet, a wealthy ship owner of San Francisco, the sugar planters of the island republic are considering several propositions tending toward independent action and the throwing off the yoke of the sugar trust.

One, it is understood, is the establishment of a refinery at Vancouver, B. C., in case the reciprocity treaty is abrogated.

The Canadian Government is willing to grant a concession to Hawaii in return for her business, and the Canadian Pacific Road will furnish special terms for transportation to the Atlantic seaboard should the scheme be carried out.

In any event, however, the planters are resolved to fight the trust, and should the treaty not be interfered with, it is proposed to ship all the sugar raised in Hawaii to New York or Philadelphia, where it will be sold in open market to the highest bidder.

If the Hawaiian output is shipped round the Horn, the large sailing fleet now plying between the islands and San Francisco will be withdrawn and an opposition line of steamers, backed by Hawaiians, substituted.

It is understood that the cause of the trouble between the planters and the Spreckels combine is the increased rate demanded by the latter for hauling Hawaiian sugar, namely, [illegible] of a cent per pound.

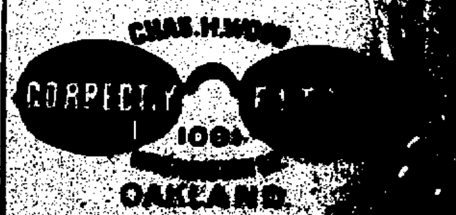

The Hawaiian Government has refused to renew the exclusive cable contract with Z. S. Spaulding, awarded eighteen months ago and expiring the 1st of May. It is now said they will contract with the first company making a legitimate offer. Minister Cooper hopes that Hawaii will be one of the stations on the proposed Canadian-Australian cable system.

TO DECIDE TOMORROW

Annexation All Ready for the Fight at the Polls.

THE ISSUE IS PRESENTED.

Undoubted Advantages Would Result to the District.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

The Situation Defined on the Eve of the Struggle.

Tomorrow morning at 4:38 A. M. the polls will be opened and by 5 o'clock the fate of Greater Oakland will be in the ballot box.

Those interested in seeing the northern territory annexed are making their last efforts today and the Annexation League expresses itself unqualifiedly as confident of success. The League has worked hard and steadfastly for everal months and whatever the result they are certainly to be congratulated in the vim and system with which they have carried out their campaign.

This morning the League issued the following circular which is worthy of all consideration:

"A vote for annexation is a vote for labor.

"The erection o fnew buildings gives work to all classes.

"Bring the vacant lots inside the city, and they will soon be occupied."

"Owners of large tracts don't like annexation. They prefer to grow rich by the other fellow improving alongside of their property.

"A vote for annexation is a vote towards a city and county government.

"New school buildings in the annexed district, will be built by the entire city contributing, if annexation carries.

"The public schools of Oakland will be opened free of tuition fees if the outside vote to annex.

"The annexationist wants fire protection. A fire bug is one that don't want fire protection.

"Illegal voting is now a dangerous pastime. It is well to be careful."

ANNEXATION FACTS.

Some Figures That Tersely Tell the Complete Story.

In order to show at a glance some of the advantages that would follow annexation, a statement has been prepared in which the benefits that would accrue to the citizens of the annexed territory are as follows:

The free use of Oakland's general system of sewers. While the Piedmont Sanitary District paid out $7,000 for the use of one outlet, and has a sanitary tax to-day of 80 cents on the $100.

The free use of the schools of Oakland. $4,200 paid last year by residents of the proposed annexed district for tuition fees to Oakland.

A general system of electric lighting, police and fire alarm telegraphs.

The extension of the Oakland Fire Department. One of the very best in the United States, according to the insurance returns.

Reduction in water rates, according to the fixed charges of Oakland.

Reduction in fire insurance rates, and rates of interest on loans.

A regular free mail delivery and collection of mail at regular hours.

Free use of the books of the Oakland Free Library and Reading Rooms.

Extension of the Oakland Police Department, saving expense of specials.

THE TAX PROBLEM.

At the present rate of taxation, property owners, for all the advantages enumerated will only have to pay 49 cents more on the $100 of valuation. As to whether or not this is an exorbitant rate the following table will show. They are the rates in seven of the larger cities of California, the figures given being those paid in the annexed territory, in comparison with what the rate has been in Oakland for the past sixteen years:

Marysville, Cal., city tax, $2.40; city, county and State, $4.30; Sacramento, city tax, $1.92, city county and State, ——; Los Angeles, city tax, $1.30, city, county and State, $2.75; Stockton, city tax, $1.84, city, county, and State, $3.44; Fresno, city tax, $1.00, city, county, and State, $2.35; San Jose city tax, $1.25, city, county, and State, $2.25; Oakland, 1897, city tax, $1.12, city, county, and State, $3.09; Oakland average, 16 years, $1.00; annexed district would be 85, total, $1.50.

McCLYMONDS' VIEWS.

J. W. McClymonds, Superintendent of Schools of Oakland has made a statement of a few facts that speak for themselves.

"The city of Oakland," said he, "is well provided with school buildings, over $500,000 having been expended for such in the last eight years. About $100,000 of this was raised by direct taxation. The other $400,000 was raised by bonding the city. The annexed district cannot be assessed for any part of these bonds and even in the case of a release only the district where originally issued can be assessed.

"We have a High School in Oakland that will accommodate, if necessary, 1,200 pupils. It could easily accommodate 1,000. There are 624 pupils attending the High School today. We have a building in East Oakland, the Swett school, that was built for High School purposes and there are from fifteen to eighteen rooms vacant in the city of Oakland."

CITY OR WILDERNESS?

The following statement of the effect and responsibilities of annexation was prepared today by Secretary Nalsmith of the Annexation League:

"When the question of annexation was before the people two years ago, those who are now fighting the project so hard, were doing so the same thing then. But then they used other arguments.

"The district then sought to be annexed left out Golden Gate and Lower Piedmont. One of the circulars distributed at that time, contained a map showing a cut of the district sought to be annexed, surrounded by a dotted line showing what they claimed would be a larger and a more desirable district to have annexed. They even went so far as to have a petition signed and presented to the City Council, asking them to call an election on the larger district. Among other matters that the circular referred to contained, was this argument. 'Defeat the small annexation district, and the large one will be at once considered.'

"That was the main cry two years ago, how well they kept their promises to submit the larger district to the people is well known. After they had used the people of the district to farther their own ends, they had no further use for them. The larger district proposition they never had submitted, because they were as much opposed to that as they were to the smaller district.

SOME ACTUAL FACTS.

"Now they argue that if annexation is carried, it will delay the formation of a city and county government, while the actual facts in the case are, that annexation is the very first and only step towards accomplishing the formation of a city and county government. Annexation was the course pursued in San Francisco, and in all places today working under a combined city and county government. The outside districts are all first anexed, then the city and county government is formed.

HE LOVED A MARRIED WOMAN.

A Washington Tragedy Result From an Insane Passion.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—A tragedy in which the details were almost precisely similar to those of the Barber suicide and attempted murder occurred this morning at 820 Fourteenth street, the home of Cherubino Guilani, an Italian fruit vender.

Tacopo Ferrari, 28 years old, had been paying so much attention to Mrs. Guilani, 32, that he made himself offensive to both herself and her husband and had been frequently warned not to visit Guilani's home.

This morning the husband having gone to market, Ferrari walked through Guilani's fruit store to the back yard where Mrs. Guilani was hanging clothes on the line and made a furious assault upon her, stabbing her in the neck and then shooting her.

Then he turned the revolver upon himself and the bullet lodged in the brain, causing almost instant death. Mrs. Guilani may recover.

THE COHEN CASE.

Some Diseased Cows Occupy the Attention of Judge Clift.

The trial of Maurice Cohen of Berkeley, charged with refusing to kill his cows which were afflicted with tuberculosis was continued before Judge Clift this afternoon. Attorney Garber for the defendant moved for a dismissal on the ground that the complaint did not specify what cows were diseased, and also that Cohen had not refused to kill the animals. Judge Clift denied the motion.

Frank Enclada was the first witness for the defense. He was employed at Cohen's residence when Dr. Rowell visited the dairy and ordered certain cows killed. He declared that Dr. Rowell had told Cohen that the latter no longer owned the cows which were seized by the government and he, Rowell, would have to have the animals killed. The witness said that Cohen wanted the alleged diseased cows viewed by an Oakland Inspector before killing them. The cows tagged with a mark denoting their present condition were separated from the remainder of the herd so the witness stated, and were milked separately.

FILLING PROMISED.

There is some reason to believe that Captain Hackett of the Pacific Coast Reclamation and Dredging Company will commence work on the filling in of the West Oakland marsh before long. The matter was discussed at the meeting of the West Oakland Improvement Club last evening, and from verified reports, notwithstanding the injunction of the court, the matter will be adjusted as expeditiously as possible.

George Hansen, a member of the club and a landscape architect by profession, exhibited his plan for the new park. He explained to the club all the minor details regarding the proposed park. There is no question, the members believe, that if the ideas of Mr. Hansen are to be carried out the city will have one of the most attractive pleasure grounds in the State.

Mr. Hansen is now busily engaged in arranging the design for the new depot at Burlingame.

William Walsh, Cyr Melquoind, George Stanley, Colonel Clark, William Christen and others addressed the meeting.

HODGKINS' PROMOTION.

The action of the Police and Fire Commissioners in making Police Sergeant Hodgkins a detective, which is elsewhere recorded, has been expected for some time and has given general satisfaction in police circles. Mr. Hodgkins has unquestionable ability in ferreting out crime, and his record in this respect is an enviable one. His work in the case of Root and "Big Foot Gordon," the gold brick swindlers, attracted the atention of police authorities on the Coast and even in the Eastern cities.

A Claim Compromised.

The legatees of the estate of Zeno Kelley have compromised the claim of the widow, Mrs. S. F. Kelley, for $500. The estate consists of $375.75 in bank, household furniture valued at $125, and $2,000, the deceased's share of the proceeds of the sale of land on the southeast corner of Eighth and Brush streets, on which Kelley originally held a second mortgage for $4,000. The first mortgage of $2,000, held by the Union Savings Bank, took precedence when the property was foreclosed. As the sale only realized $4,000, the estate loses half the amount of the mortgage held.

STRUCK HIS STEPFATHER.

A Complaint Filed Against Henry Kramm by A. Simons.

Offense Taken at an Answer to a Question by the Accused.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Henry Kramm, son of the late Charles Kramm and brother of Charles Kramm Jr., proprietor of the Anchor brewery. The charge is of battery, his step-father, Anthony Simons, being the aggrieved person and complaining witness.

Mr. Simons married Kramm's mother a couple of years ago, and it is said that the Kramm boys have never become reconciled to the marriage.

Mrs. Simons, when seen by a Tribune reporter this morning, was very reticent, but through her tears she said that her sons had never gotten over her marriage with Simons.

This morning at 7 o'clock, she said, while she was away, both Charley and Henry Kramm called at the Simons house, 514 Telegraph avenue, and asked for their mother.

Simons answered that "the person" for whom they were looking was away, whereupon Henry Kramm struck him. Simons has been laid up for several months with a broken leg.

Henry Kramm surrendered himself this this afternoon. He was admitted to bail, his bondsmen being his brother Charley and Theodore Gier.

PUBLIC WORKS.

A Number of Minor Matters Come Up for Action.

The Board of Public Works convened this morning, with Dow, Clement and Mayor Thomas present.

A letter of thanks was read from George Hansen, the successful gardener, who won the first prize for his plans for the proposed West Oakland park.

A petition signed by twenty-two residents of Oakland, requesting that John Ray be appointed street sprinkler, was filed.

The report of the City Wharfinger, P. L. White, had the following items: Dockage, $497.93; tolls, $353.85; water and telephone, $21.30; total earnings for the month, $873.08; paid to City Treasurer, $785.97.

A requisition by the Board of Education on the Board of Public Works for cement sidewalks on the High school and also on the Lincoln school premises, were referred, the former to the City Engineer, the latter to the committee of the whole. A requisition for needed material for piping water on the High school grounds was referred to the committee of the whole.

A resolution was made directing the City Engineer to make a survey of the Sixth street engine house lot in order to construct a brick wall on the rear.

Christensen was the terror of the Big Hole country. He possessed a large amount of property. He came here from Salt Lake. About six years ago his partner was shot and killed.

Christensen said the man shot himself accidentally, and under a bill of sale he took possession of his partner's interest in the business.

MISS GREENHOOD DEAD.

The End Came While She Was Visiting in Los Angeles.

A telegram was received this morning announcing the death of Miss Emily Greenhood, the only daughter of Max Greenhood, the well known Berkeley merchant. Miss Greenhood was in Los Angeles visiting her cousin, Mrs. Leissner. Her death was very sudden, as the family had received no letter stating that she was ill. The telegram announcing her death came as a painful shock to the family. Miss Greenhood was only 18 years of age and was a very accomplished young woman and possessed many warm friends. The remains will be brought home.

TO DIE ON AUGUST 27TH.

The Final Date Set for the Execution of Ben Hill.

The Murderer Was Unmoved When His Fate Was Sealed.

Wife Murderer Benjamin Hill, as unconcerned as though he was going to a picnic, was brought before Judge Ogden this morning to hear the date pronounced on which he will expiate his crime on the gallows.

Deputy Sheriffs Al and Charles White brought him over from the jail. He was linked with Theodore Petelis, charged with the murder of Frank Garrique.

In appearance, Hill makes a very favorable impression. Since his confinement he has grown quite stout, and seems to take a pride in making a neat appearance. He was attired in a black cutaway suit, black tie and white shirt. His hair was brushed with great precision, while his face had evidently been just shaven. In fact, Hill was attired as on a holiday occasion.

Immediately on entering the court room, the handcuffs were removed and the murderer grasped the hand of his attorney, Tom Bradley. The two then held a consultation while some minor matters were being disposed of.

"The people vs. Benjamin Hill," called Judge Ogden.

Hill stood up.

"You have already been pronounced guilty of murder," continued the Judge, "and it now remains merely for me to set the date of execution."

At this point Attorney Bradley addressed the court, asking that the date be set as far distant as possible, as an appeal is now before the Governor for a commutation.

Judge Ogden did not reply, but continuing said:

"I will fix the date for August 27, 1897; the place, San Quentin, where the Warden will carry out the instructions of the court as ordered at the time of sentence."

This ended the matter. Hill did not show the slightest trace of emotion, other than to heave a sigh after the date had been pronounced.

He was at once taken to the County Jail in charge of two deputies, and this afternoon will be transferred to San Quentin, where he will await his execution.

Attorney Bradley feels confident the Governor will commute the sentence to life imprisonment, according to the long petition filed with him.

Andrews had been tried, convicted, and sentenced to death for feloniously assaulting Mrs. Benj. T. Kelly, near Marion, May 5.

Judge Bage, who passed the death sentence on Andrews, endeavored to reason with the excited crowd, but in vain.

M'CORD ALL RIGHT.

He Will Be Recommended as the Governor of Arizona.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The Senate Committee on Territories today, after a somewhat prolonged investigation agreed to report back the nomination of Hon. M. H. McCord to be Governor of Arizona with a favorable recommendation.

The committee did not divide on the vote but two or three members reserved the right to oppose confirmation in the Senate if so disposed after further investigation.

One of the charges made against Mr. McCord was that he would favor the refunding of certain territorial bonds. He was recalled by the committee and said he had made no promises to the holders of the bonds and had no connection with them.

KILLED ON THE TRACK.

The young son of George Davis, proprietor of the Seven Mile House, on San Pablo road, was run over and killed by a train of the California & Nevada road at MvAvoy's station, Contra Costa county last evening.

The news of the accident was spread by a boy who, it is alleged found the remains on the track of the company about a quarter of a mile this side of Laurel Grove, which is in Contra Costa County, about fifteen miles from this city.

Receiver King of the California & Nevada Road, however, says that no accident of any kind took place on that road yesterday.

Friends of the lad's family, however, say that the boy could not have been injured on the Southern Pacific which is a couple of miles distant from the place where the remains were found.

The body is now in the undertaking room of Beaudry & McAvoy.

THE SPIRITUALISTS.

The spiritualists are holding a series of interesting meetings at Trestle Glen, where a large number of them are encamped. The evening meetings, at which various tests are given, attract large numbers, and some of the results are very interesting. This evening Mrs. Kate Reussthan will give tests and readings. Mrs. R. A. Lillie will lecture tomorrow afternoon, and Dr. St. Clair will give astrological readings. Friday will be devoted to a conference of the old workers, with remarks and tests in the evening by Mme. Florence Montague.

A SICK COW ON PARADE.

The Health Board Decides to Give a Public Exhibition.

After Being Slaughtered the Bovine Will Be Placed on Show.

The Board of Health has decided that the best manner in which the tuberculosis problem can be demonstrated is by giving a public exhibition of the matter.

With this object in view, a cow that has shown by the test that she is afflicted with tuberculosis, has been procured and this morning it was placed inside a large open dray and driven around the municipal streets of the city.

The explantion of the unusual sight was sufficiently described by a large sign that was placed over the wagon. It contained these words:

"SEE THIS COW.

It has tuberculosis and will be slaughtered tomorrow for the inspection of the public."

The Health Officials declare that everybody who has seen the lungs of a diseased cow has become converted to the necessity of having a very stringent ordinance passed giving arbitrary power to the Health Officer in cases where cows have shown that they are diseased. By this manner of proof, a majority of the city officials have been converted.

Tomorrow, the cow that is on parade today will be killed and in a vacant store on Broadway, it will be exhibited for the benefit of the public.

NO TAX ON BEER.

houn, the President's special commissioner to Cuba, had another conference with President McKinley to-day, lasting about three-quarters of an hour. Neither Secretary Sherman nor Assistant Secretary Day was present.

After Mr. Calhoun left the White House he said that he should return to his home at Danville, Ill., this evening. He had nothing to add to what he had already given to the newspapers beyond the fact that he would probably visit Washington again after the President's return from the south for a further consultation.

Mr. Calhoun paid a visit to the State Department with his secretary, Mr. Fishback, and was in consultation with Assistant Secretary Day for about an hour and a half.

The Lee report upon the Ruiz case was brought to the department by Mr. Fishback and delivered to Judge Day, who saw the original twenty-four hours after it had been brought to his attention in the press.

The assistant secretary said that he was not prepared to say that printed publication was inaccurate which in diplomatic parlance is about as far as a State department official can go toward confirming a statement.

The report itself was thoroughly discussed by the three officials.

All that could be gathered from them as to the future action of the department was that the matter would be held in abeyance until the return of President McKinley from his Nashville trip.

It is recalled that the State department has had to seek reparation in other cases involving the confinement of American citizens in violation of treaty rights.

In the cases of Scott and of Tolon, although claims for illegal imprisonment were preferred, they were pigeonholed and never heard of again.

The Spanish Government settled the case of Delgados by the payment of $100,000, which satisfied the individual for the assault upon his person, but there was no record of any apology for the incident. It is evidently the intention of the department, however, not to allow the last case to go the way of its predecessors but to press it to a conclusion.

SPEEDING TO NASHVILLE.

The Presidential Party Has Set Forth in Good Style.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The special train conveying President McKinley and his party left Washington for Nashville at noon to-day over the Chesapeake and Ohio road.

The private car of president Ingalls in which Mr. McKinley and his immediate party traveled was fragrant with gigantic pots of roses and other flowers.

There were also flowers in the car occupied by the cabinet and invited guests.

The train was in charge of W. H. Gregory, General Agent of the Passenger Department of the road. There was no change in the personnel of the party as published yesterday. They will stop to-night at the Virginia Hot Springs, resuming their journey to-morrow.

Sergeant Hodgkins Joins the Ranks of the Detectives.

Williams Goes Back to His Old Place on the Police Force.

The Board of Police and Fire Commissioners met this morning, with Messrs. Dow, Clement and Mayor Thomas present.

A communication was received from Dr. E. J. Barber, requesting the Board to withdraw the amount of $20.80 from Louis Hoffman's wages for payment of a bill due the doctor. It was referred to the committee of the whole.

Chief of Police Lloyd submitted a report of the officers of the department off duty on account of sickness during the month of May. It was placed on file.

R. H. Stokes was appointed a special policeman.

Sergeant Hodgkins was appointed detective, vice N. Williams, reduced to the ranks.

Chief Fair requested that a sum of $414 be appropriated to pay sixty-nine men at the rate of $2 a day, covering the 3d, 4th and 5th of July. Referred to the Council with the Board's recommendation.

Demands aggregating $86.35 against the Police Department and $1,034.55 against the Fire Department were approved.

A communication from Chief Fair, recommending that hydrants be placed on the corners of certain streets, was referred to the Council.

The meeting then adjourned.

COURT NEWS

Lulu Harbaugh, administratrix of the estate of F. V. Harbaugh, has filed her account, showing the balance of cash on hand amounts to $2,583.77.

District Attorney Snook has filed a demurrer to the complaint of the Oakland, San Leandro, and Haywards Electric Railroad, in the suit against the county for taxes paid under protest.

A motion was made before Judge Hall yesterday to dissolve the injunction brought against Street Superintendent Miller to prevent the opening of the street between Twenty-first and Twenty-third avenues. It was denied.

A suit for divorce has been filed by Carrie M. Irwin against Geo. E. Irwin. Edgar D. Peixotto of San Francisco is the attorney for the plaintiff.

Sophie McFarland has filed a bill of exceptions in the suit of McFarland vs. Lulie Carr Holcomb and Lydia Susie Holcomb as executrixes of the will and estate of the late William A. Holcomb. The plaintiff declined to amend the complaint. Judge Ellsworth allowed and settled the bill of exceptions.

The will of the late James H. Thrane has been admitted to probate. The estate is valued at $2,000 and consists of real estate in Monterey and San Luis Obispo counties. Anna C. Thrane and Christian Rudolph Thrane are appointed executors. The deceased was 64 years of age and left awife and seven children.

The trouble in the Duchrau family has been amicably settled out of court. Mrs. Emilie Duchrau recently obtained a divorce from her husband. He failed to pay the alimony and the wife brought suit. Duchrau has settled the case by agreeing to deed his former wife certain property and she agrees to withdraw the motion for alimony.

Q.—Will you state the circumstances under which you took her?

DRINKING HEAVILY.

A.—Yes, sir. For several days, or weeks, as far as that is concerned, I had been drinking a good deal of whisky, and on an evening, the date I do not remember, I went down to "No. 5" and Cora Webster suggested that she would go and get a buggy and we would go out driving. She did so, I remember the buggy being driven up to the place, I getting into the buggy. She had provided a bottle of whisky and we started up the road. I think that we stopped at two or three saloons. After driving some eight or ten miles, I suggested that I would go over home and see my brother. I did go over home. I think it was about 1 o'clock that night, as near as I can remember. I called and my brother came out to the buggy. I cannot remember the conversation, but I remember very distinctly him saying, "I think you had better go back to town." I was turning round to go to town, when my mother, from her bed room window, hearing my voice, called to me. She asked if I was going away without stopping. She told me not to try to ford the river at that time of night. Mother said to me: "I know who you are and you are in no condition to attempt to cross that river tonight. I know who it is with you." I said to the woman, "Well, get out and go into the house."

I came into the house and mother told my brother to show me a bed. That was the last thing I recollect till next morning, when I awoke. I remember that we were on a porch, not a bed room at all and I realized where we were and went down, shunning my own people as much as I could, and very soon left.

Q.—Did you not when you drove up to the house that night in answer to your mother, say that you had your wife with you?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—Did you ever subsequently visit the place with her?

A.—She came there while I was there.

Q.—Did any of your family address her at that time?

A.—I think they did.

Q.—How did they address her?

A.—My brother called her Cora.

Q.—Were you under the influence of liquor that morning?

A.—Not when I awoke.

Q.—Did you take any liquor?

A.—I think so.

Q.—You say you had a talk with your mother on the subject.

HIS MOTHER DISPLEASED.

A.—Yes. That was when that woman was there there two or three days. That was on the porch. My mother went into the dining room where this woman was, and addressing her, said: "I am not going to put up with this thing any longer; there is no use of your hanging around after Ben. You may think that he may marry you some time but he never will. He has lowered himself about as low as he can with you thus far. You are a woman capable of earning a living. You are a good dressmaker and now my advice to you is, to go and open up a shop somewhere where you are not known and quit the life that you have been leading. She replied by saying: "If you will see to it that I can get to Roberts' this afternoon I will take the stage, as it goes out this afternoon."

Q.—You have used the expression, you "were anxious to get rid of her." What was your experience with her?

A.—I suppose the experience of about every young man.

Q.—Then she was in fact following you up persecuting you?

A.—That is to a certain extent, yes sir.

Q.—Did you ever go to Mrs. Merry's place in Modesto with this plaintiff, your mother and your sister for the purpose of having them stay there?

A.—No, sir.

At this point a little sentiment is indulged in in the deposition to relieve the monotony of the dry questioning.

A PIECE OF POETRY.

"You had written a piece of poetry for a respectable young lady in Modesto, and this public woman got possession of knowledge that you had done so and insisted that you should copy it off for her. Is that a fact?" asked Mr. Terry.

A.—That was a piece for Miss Mollie Bridley.

Q—You seem to think that this is a piece that you wrote for a respectable woman in Modesto?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—And that afterwards that was changed to Millie?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—You know that it is an acrostic and that it reads, "Millie be true, B. F. H.," which are your initials?

A—It is a verse that I wrote to Miss Millie Bridley.

Mr. Terry then read the following acrostic:

Millie, remember that in the battles of life
I've felt her trials a few;
Longed to see the end of the strife—
Longed to be brought to you.
I now will make a wish; though small,
Enshrined in love's young dream;
By thee to stand, by thee to fall,
Entwined in thy heart's soft string.
Teach me the lesson I long to know,
Read it and throw to the wind;
I never shall find a fault, I trow,
Even of the smallest kind.
Be thou my darling, my only one dear,
Forgetting the faults of the past.
Hide for me a loved one's tear,
By holding me in your grasp.

Q—You did not write this voluntarily for her, but simply at her importunities?

A—It was occasioned by her raising a fuss over finding something that I had written to this young lady. I went down town from her presence and into this saloon (as I was accustomed to going into saloons quite frequently then) wrote this.

Q—I understand you to state that you never introduced that woman to anyone as your wife?

A—I never did. I have no recollection of such.

Q—If you ever did that you were under the influence of liquor when you did?

A—Yes, sir; I must have been.

Q—What was her purpose in staying up in the mountain with you?

A—I have every reason to belive that the woman was desperately infatuated with me. I have every reason to believe that. She would come up there and stay with me, go back to Modesto, and after a few weeks be back again.

The cross-examination brought out the fact that since his conversion the Rev. Hudelson has tread unflinching in the straight and narrow path of righteousness, and has at no time returned to the sins of his past life.

INHALING INSECTS.

Not a Careless but a Needless Thing to Do—How to Avoid It.

Hundreds of poisonous insects called "germs" are being drawn into the body with every breath. These small creatures at once begin to live upon the body and cause what is known as disease. They must be driven out. How much better it is, though, to kill these poisonous germs as soon as they come. And yet there is only one thing that will do this, and that is a pure stimulant, preferably whiskey.

Prof. Austin Flint of Bellevue College says: "The judicious use of alcoholic stimulants is one of the striking characteristics of progress in the practice of medicine during the last half century."

Prof. Henry Mott, Ph. D., F. C. S., says: "By a most careful analysis, I have found Duffy's pure malt whiskey free from adulterations or foreign substances, and it deserves to meet with great success."

The well known Dr. R. W. Hutchinson of New York says: "I highly recommend Duffy's pure malt whiskey and prescribe it extensively in my practice."

Rev. B. Mills of Princeton, Iowa, says: "I have used Duffy's pure malt whiskey with great benefit to my wife, who is a confirmed invalid. I know from experience it is a pure and most valuable medicine. I am also using it in the case of my son, who is threatened with consumption. I am a Presbyterian clergyman and a doctor of divinity, but I am not afraid to recommend Duffy's malt whiskey as the purest and most efficient tonic that I know of, and my experience is a large one."

claimed by defendant to have been married to the plaintiff, at the time of the alleged marriage set forth in the complaint, reads as follows:

Q.—Dou you know whether or not your brother, James T. Johnston was married in 1872?

A.—Well, he was married, yes.

Q.—Do you know to whom?

A.—Well I don't know that he was married in '72. Yes, he was married at that time.

Q.—To whom?

A.—She was still his wife when I came to California.

Q.—What was her name?

A.—Her name was Millie Ingram.

Q.—I-n-g-r-a-m?

A.—I don't know how she spells it.

Q.—After the marriage did you see them in California?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Where about?

A.—In Los Angeles.

Q.—When?

A.—I lived there with them the winter of '76 and '77.

Q.—Living in a home of their own?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—As husband and wife?

A.—Oh, yes.

Q.—Do you know how long they lived in Chico?

A.—They lived in Chico until '82, I think.

Q.—About how old is this wife, Millie?

A.—Well, I should judge she is 45 or 46 years of age.

Cross examination.

Q.—Do you know whether before your brother wrote you that he had married Millie Ingram, he had been married before?

A.—Oh, yes; he had been married before.

Q.—To whom?

A.—I don't know the lady's maiden name. He was married in Chicago.

Q.—About what year?

A.—'85 or '86.

Q.—How long was he married to this lady, to your own knowledge?

A.—Well he was married until she died in California.

Q.—About what year was that?

A.—I could not say. It must have been near '68 or '69.

Q.—How do you know she is dead?

A.—Only from what he told me.

Q.—Are you sure he told you she died before he wrote of the marriage to Millie Ingram?

A.—I will not say I am positive, but I saw him many times and he told me so.

Q.—Was he ever married to anyone else?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—To whom?

A.—His first wife was named Eliza Tabor.

Q.—What year did he marry her?

A.—That was away in the early '50's.

Q.—Do you know where she is now?

A.—I don't, I think she died, though they had been separated.

Q.—What did he say was the cause of the separation?

A.—Improper conduct.

Q.—He never said he had taken it in court and got a divorce?

A.—No sir, but I do know he sued her afterward for breaking up his family. There was quite a law suit pending for a long time.

Q.—Did you ever hear that your brother was divorced from anyone?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—Didn't you ever ask him when he told you of his subsequent marriages, what had become of his first wife?

A.—When he told me I did not ask any more questions.

During the cross-examination the counsel for the defendant tried to show that the plaintiff did not go by the name of Millie Hudelson at all. Reference was made to a contract she had made with the Southern Pacific Company for the purchase of a piece of land. At the time she signed herself "Mrs. Johnston."

The plaintiff admitted that she went commonly by the name of Cora Webster, though this was done she said because a great many people knew her by that name. It was shown that in the foregoing letters to Hudelson she did not sign them as the wife of the defendant, but instead with the name of Cora Webster.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At the opening of the afternoon session, Attorney Frick on re-direct examination was permitted to introduce the original copy of poetry written by Hudelson to the plaintiff.

It is an acrostic which reads, "Millie Be True, B. F. H." Frick read the jingle dramatically and then questioned the witness as to her reason for so many changes.

She declared it was to escape the attention of people who were following her.

"Has anyone followed you since this trial was commenced," asked Mr. Frick.

"Yes, sir. That man with long whiskers sitting over there. He has followed me to and from this court," was the repply, pointing to Mr. McCarran of Golden Gate.

MRS. HUDELSON'S TESTIMONY.

When the Tribune went to press last night, the last of the plaintiff's depositions had been read.

"Mrs. Hudelson, you will now take the stand?" asked Attorney Terry. The defendant looked up hastily, and then the plaintiff leisurely moved in her chair, seemingly not knowing that she had been addressed. Without further command, however, she stood up and was sworn.

"What is your name?" asked Attorney Terry.

"I am commonly known as Cora Webster," she said.

Q—What is your whole name?

A—Mrs. Millie Hudelson.

Q—Where did you get acquainted with the Rev. Benjamin Hudelson?

A—In Modesto, in 1884.

Q—Where were you living?

A—In a house called No. 5.

Q—Were you divorced from him?

A—No, sir.

Q—Were you married to him?

A—Yes. We decided to be husband and wife. We went up to the Mills and lived four or five days and decided to go on a quarter section of land. I was supposed to have rented my brother's ready furnished but I had a piano and some other things which I sold for $75.

Q—Was anything said about getting the marriage solemnized?

A—Yes; he said I should quit the house. He said it did not matter whether we were married by a minister, justice of peace, or by contract. Then I went to the Brooklyn Hotel and remained a short time, when he came to the hotel in a buggy and wanted me to ride with him. I said, no, for I thought he had been drinking, but I went. We drove to Roberts Ferry and he forded the river. I asked him where he was going. He said, "To my folks; they live just over there." I said, "Don't go there," and he said, "Yes, let's see the folks." So we stopped and met his mother and friends. His mother came out and said, "Who is that?" He said, "Mother, this is my wife." She said, "How and when did this happen?" He said, "Last night." I then stayed there. I made dresses for his sister and mother, cooked for them, and helped with the housework. Mrs. Hudelson addressed me as "daughter." He called me his "wife," while his sister called me "sister."

Q—Before that time you had consented to be his wife and supposed yourself to be occupying that position?

SUPPOSED TO BE MARRIED.

A—Yes, sir; I certainly did. I was introduced by him to the schoolmarms and many others as his wife. There was scarcely a meal when there was not company at the house, to whom I was introduced as his wife.

Q—When you left for Modesto, who was with you?

A—Mrs. Hudelson, Tom, and myself. When we went to Modesto I was to get some sewing. We went to a rooming house and the landlady said she did not want me there, so I left with Mrs. Hudelson and her daughter. I went to the Brooklyn Hotel where I had permanent quarters and Mrs. Hudelson and her daughter were taken home. Then we went to Oak Flat. Mrs. Hudelson was along. Mr. Hudelson, an old gentleman, furnished the rig. He gave us a spring wagon and a span of mules. He then sent us three turkeys, chickens, and a great many other things. We camped at the residence of Joseph Choate until we could get the shake cabin built. We stayed with Choate for about two weeks. I was introduced by Mr. Hudelson as his wife there. I cooked and did all I could to help along. Then we moved over to our place and lived for about eight months. It was quite an isolated place, there not being many visitors, though several came. I fed the chickens and did what any housewife would. Sometimes I hauled the water for the mules in a barrel, on a sled. Sometimes he would leave me for days. When they brought the thirty-five mules up there to pasture, his brother and another man came. They left the mules there to pasture on the burr clover patch. I watered them in the well and when Mr. Hudelson went to town all the work devolved on me. During the absence of Mr. Hudelson, I had to camp in the big wagon which I rolled down to the well and there fed and watered the mules myself to keep them alive. One night they broke through and I had to chase them back myself. For two or one days and nights I had to doctor the cow, which Mr. Hudelson brought up. It had been driven so fast with the young calf that its bag was caked and it came near dying. It was no longer good as a milk cow, so I made arrangements to trade it with a Mr. Nelson. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson came up and remained a couple of days. I tried to entertain them to the best of my ability for two days, cooking for them. Mr. Hudelson was there at the time. I had some money when I went there, but I could not tell how much. Something like $200. Mr. Hudelson did not have any money of his own, though his mother gave me $20. I put this all in for our living, but he did not turn in anything. I had to stand good for all the groceries and bills we ran up.

HUDELSON'S CONDUCT.

Q—What was Mr. Hudelson's conduct at that time?

A—He would go to Modesto occasionally and get drunk, coming home without any money. One day he said to me, "You go to Modesto and get some money out of your friends. You can stay there a while and I can get some work at my father's ranch."

Q—What did he want you to do? go back in the old business?

A—Yes, sir; that was the substance of it. Well, I went for a few days and then he sold the cow and chickens. He took me to the Brooklyn Hotel, which was a rather free and easy house. He made it his home, and also his father's ranch.

Q—Did you then go back into your old business?

A—Yes, of course I did. I had to. He came in when men called on me, but never left the room, and if I did have company he did not care. I paid for the bills. He then said he was going to his father's ranch to work, but I did not see him again for a long time. He went to San Luis Obispo. Then I started another place because I had to live. I have no money with which to live.

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

This ended the direct examination and then Attorney Hatton of Modesto started the cross-examination.

Q—What was your name when you met Mr. Hudelson in Modesto—your true name?

A—Millie Ingraham.

Q—What was your name before that?

A—Millie Johnston.

At this point Attorney Frick objected on the ground that the attorney was endeavoring to bring out facts not touched on in the direct examination. The objection was overruled and an exception was taken.

A—Because I was married to J. T. Johnston.

Q—You became acquainted with the defendant in Modesto? Where did you live prior to that? asked Attorney Hatton.

A—In San Francisco and Chico, where we (Johnston and I) lived as man and wife.

Q—When did you leave Chico to go to Modesto?

A—In August, 1883, and up to the time James T. Johnston and I lived as man and wife.

The witness was somewhat mixed as in her dates as to when she became acquainted with Hudelson, but she recollected that it was about two months after she left Johnston at Chico. Witness declared that it was at "No. 5" that Hudelson first broached the subject of marriage.

"What was Hudelson's condition the evening he took you for a ride from Modesto?" asked Attorney Hatton.

"Oh, he was feeling good," was the reply.

Q—Had he been drinking?

A—Well, he had been out with the boys on Front street.

The cross-examination continued going through the same line of testimony brought out as the direct examination.

Q—You knew all this time you were the wife of James T. Johnston?

"We object to this on the ground it is not proper cross-examination," interposed Attorney Frick.

The Court overruled the objection and the witness replied she did.

Q—Were you divorced from him?

A—No, sir.

A pretty ceremony has been started in Arizona that could well be followed elsewhere. On Decoration Day all the graves of the boys that used "to run with the machine" were decked with flowers.

The many permits for prize fights issued by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors have had a demoralizing effect on that body. They indulged in a little exhibition of the kind among themselves yesterday.

Berkeley's merchants must think they are in a world of their own. They have declined to participate in the Exposition because they think they will not receive any benefit from it. That is the sort of policy that never receives benefit from anything.

It may be a bull to say it, but they had a cow a public funeral while it was alive, in Oakland today. AMERICAN CHARITY.

A very pertinent remark was made by an editor the other day when he called attention to the incongruities of England spending millions of dollars on her jubilee festivities while America is raising money and food for the starving British subjects in India. While it is true that this looks like misapplied charity on our part, it is at least excusable in view of the fact that the mere reason that other people are hard-hearted should not also compel us to close our ears to the cries of suffering humanity. The ship load of wheat that we are sending to India will never be missed from our vast granaries and riches and outside of the fact that it has been donated out of pure charity it will show to the world at large that we have not lost our reputation for generosity and that an American will always play the part of a good Samaritan in the hour of need.

Then again who could withstand the fearful stories of starvation and privation that come continually pouring in from the stricken land. Here is a sample letter and those who know the conditions there say it is not exaggerated in the slightest:

"In many of the open enclosures called 'poor-houses' flour and salt only are furnished. The flour has been mixed with earth. The stronger rob the weaker of their rations; those who are too young or too weak to knead the flour endeavor to eat it raw. All fellow feeling is lost. Parents tear the food from their starving children. In some places a small quantity of porridge is given, made of wheat and peas. But there is not enough money to attend to all, fifty cents a month being about the highest sum expended per head. The English officials do what they can, but they are few in number, and must leave much to the native police, who rob the people and sell the handsomest of the women to keepers of houses of ill-fame. When the effect of bad food has begun to show itself by horrible sores on the mouth of the victim, recovery is almost impossible."

Who, in the face of this sort of thing would want to stay the hand of charity?

Police protection, a fire department, a street and sewer service, the benefits of our public schools, library and reading rooms—these are some of the boons that will be obtained if annexation wins.

Wine skins, made of the hides of pigs, goats, calves, or oxen, are still in use in the rural districts of Spain.

Intoxicating liquors have been made from the sap of the birch, the willow, the poplar, and the sycamore.

The modern drinking of "your health" arose from the ancient custom of dedicating cups of wine to divinities.

Students Expelled for Painting John Harvard's Statue.

A Prank That Caused Indignation in the College Circle.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 9.—A special committee which was appointed by the president of the Junior Class at Harvard to investigate the recent painting of John Harvard's statue has reported that a special student in his first year had confessed. He acknowledged that he decorated the statue with red paint on the night of May 29th in celebration of Harvard's victory over Princeton on the diamond.

The Commissioners refuse to publish the name of the guilty student, but acknowledge that he was requested to leave the University which he agreed to do.

Two members of the Freshmen Class, whose names the Committee also withheld, are implicated and when confronted with accumulated evidence, they handed in their resignations.

A fourth man it is said, may also be asked to explain what connection he had with the affair. The statue has been the mark of college vandals in times past and on this occasion, when it was found painted in red on three sides, with an "H" on the front and back and the score 7 to 4 on the side, indignation was intense.

After a thorough search of the local paint stores and the discovery of a suspicious spot of red paint on a young student's clothes, which resulted in a confession, the other men responsible were cornered.

Death of a Journalist.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Robert Johnstone Finley, Manager of the McClure Newspaper Syndicate, died last night, aged 29 years. He was associated with Dr. Albert Shaw in building up the American edition of the Review of Reviews. He was a native of Ottawa, Illinois, and a brother of President Finley of Knox College, Galesburg. He leaves a wife, formerly Miss Mary Lurton of Nashville, Tennessee.

ALL CIVIL SERVICE.

Frank A. Leach Says He Will Have No Appointments to Distribute.

F. A. Leach, the newly appointed Superintendent of the Mint says that he will do nothing in the way of considering applications for appointments until he is actually in the office, which will not be for a few weeks.

"A very mistaken idea," says Mr. Leach, "exists regarding the amount of patronage to be dispensed by the incoming superintendent. As a matter of fact there is not a single change that can be made except for cause. Every office is under the civil service rules, and even the present superintendent's secretary has a right to expect that he will be retained.

"It may be in the best interests of the department that some changes be made, but of this I cannot say anything at this time. When Mr. Daggett took office out of the 250 people in the Mint there were only thirty that did not come under civil service rules, and since that time even these thirty have been included. I have absolutely given no one any encouragement that he may look for a position. Of course I shall receive many petitions and shall consider them carefully. I would say, however, to anybody who expects an appointment that they had better pass the civil service examination at once and place themselves in line, so that they will have one more chance than the man who has not passed the examination.

"Being quite confident since my return from Washington that the President would make the appointment I have naturally inquired somewhat into the duties and responsibilities of the position. I have carefully looked over every position in the Mint, and I must say that I cannot see my way clear at this time to make a single appointment."

AIDING THE ORPHAN.

The Fred Finch Orphanage to Be Aided by Its Deceased Benefactor.

Almost the entire fortune of the late Duncan B. Finch will be given to the Fred Finch Orphanage of Fruitvale, which the deceased founded in memory of his son.

The estate is valued at $75,000. The widow has a life interest in the estate which will be controlled completely by the trustees, Dr. L. E. Kelly and J. B. Richardson.

The estate consists of lots in Brooklyn township, and property on Linden street, Oakland avenue and East Seventeenth street and the home place at 1263 Webster street. At the death of the widow the old home will be given to the neices, Ella and Kittie Gilbert.

Other bequests are made as follows: Emma Finch, daughter of E. S. Finch, $1,000; to Lenore W. Finch and Ethel Finch, daughters of W. H. Finch, $500 each; to Nettie Phelps, sister of D. B. Finch, $1,000; to Duncan Bigelow, Olympia, Wash., $1,000; to Grace Holts, Parker Holts, Edith Holts, $500.

The residue of the estate, the deed directs, shall be converted into cash and given to the orphanage. The estate is in excellent condition. The orphanage will receive, the trustees estimate, not less than $60,000.

BUNKER HILL.

The Bunker Hill Association, the Native Sons of Vermont Association and other patriotic organizations will unite in the celebration of the one hundred and twenty-second anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill, Thursday, June 17th at Los Gatos.

On the arrival of the train at Los Gatos, the Board of Trade of Los Gatos and the Sons of Veterans will act as guards of honor. Other patriotic organizations will follow. Hon. W. S.

NORDICA WANTS HER PAY.

She Will Bring Suit Against the Royal Opera Syndicate.

Jean de Reszcke Is Again Mixed Up In a Theatrical Trouble.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, June 9.—A dispatch from London to the Journal says:

Madame Nordica said today that she has placed her professional affairs in the hands of Colonel Henry Mapleson, and acting on his advice will at once sue the Royal Opera Syndicate, of which Maurice Grau is managing director, for her salary, amounting to about $5,000, and for heavy damages to her reputation as an artist in not being permitted to sing at Covent Garden during the present opera season.

In an interview with Colonel Mapleson, who said he spoke in behalf of Mme. Nordica, published in the Daily Mail Saturday he said with reference to her quarrel with Jean de Reszcke:

"Nothing could be further from Mme. Nordica's desire than to continue the quarrel. She is of forgiving and generous disposition and would not resist any settlement which could be consistent with her naturally offended 'amour propre.'

"Jean de Reszcke's generosity is almost proverbial and it does seem strange that between two such participants in dispute, no happy issues can be discovered. It may be that influence from the highest quarter is being employed to heal the quarrel, influence which must surely be in the long run prevail. One circumstance makes the affair especially unfortunate. This year is the tenth anniversary of the combined debut of Jean de Reszcke and Mme. Nordica in opera and it is a thousand pities that this happy jubilee season should be marred for them by this unfortunate division.

"I would say that Mme. Nordica has the utmost admiration for Jean de Reszcke and in order to have an opportunity for applauding his perfect performance has taken a box for Tristan and Isolde on Monday evening when her place on the stage will be taken by a new German artist.

"Tristan and Isolde" was not given at Covent Garden last night. Romeo and Juliet was substituted at the last moment owing to trouble with Jean de Reszcke's throat, and Mme. Nordica was not present. She said today that Colonel Mapleson was not wrong in attributing the kindly sentiments he had expressed on her behalf toward De Reszcke. Maurice Grau said that he had not yet heard that Mme. Nordica was contemplating legal action and declined to discuss the matter further.

COX CAN HAVE IT.

The Ohioan Offered the Post of Minister at Madrid.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, June 9.—A special to the Times-Herald from Washington says:

President McKinley has offered the post of Minister at Madrid to Ex-Governor Jacob D. Cox, of Ohio. The offer was made by the President after the meeting of the Cabinet, but so far no reply has been received from Mr. Cox.

General Cox is regarded as one of the ablest men in Ohio. He was Secretary of the Interior under President Grant in 1869. He has a fine war record and as lawyer, Judge, Governor and educator, he has won considerable distinction. He is regarded as one of the most eloquent public speakers in the country and years ago his voice was often heard upon the stump.

Ohio men here commend the selection, characterizing Governor Cox as a conservative and forceful man. Though without diplomatic experience, it is believed he has all the qualifications for the difficult role of Minister to Spain during the coming year or two.

TESTING THE TORRENS.

Illinois Will Give the New Land Act Another Ordeal.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, June 9.—A test case will be instituted at once to determine the constitutionality of the Torrence laws, adopted by the voters of Cook County on Monday.

County Recorder Simon and the Torrens Committee Real Estate Board, friends of the law will act in harmony to secure as early action in the case as possible.

It is hoped the case will be decided by January 1, 1898. No special office will be opened until the law is held valid.

The Recorder will qualify at once as Registrar. Proceedings will be brought either against the Recorder or the County Board. In case the law is pronounced good, the Recorder will employ sixteen experts to work under him as registrars.

BOYS FIGHT A DUEL.

One of Them Inflicts a Fatal Wound in the Other's Breast.

They Were Only Fooling and Did Not Realize What Would Result.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The sons of Clarence L. Nelson, secretary of the Newark Gas Company, fought a duel in play in their home, and as a result of one of the boys is dying from a bullet wound in his left breast.

The boys, Clarence 16 years of age and Bertram, 14, decided to prepare in part for the celebration on July 4th and went to their rooms to clean and oil the two revolvers which had been given them for use on the holiday. They laid the weapons aside after a short time and when they picked them up to replace them in the box, Bertram said to his elder brother, "Let's fight a duel."

Clarence was delighted with the novel suggestion and the lads, standing back to back with the revolvers by their sides, waited until Bertram counted "three" and then gravely took four paces in opposite directions.

"Bout face," called Clarence, and the brothers turned on their heels, weapons extended, and sailing at each other as they squinted along the glistening barrels.

Both hammers fell and from the muzzle of Clarence's weapon shot a little line of fire.

There was a report and Bertram clutching his chest fell forward on the floor.

Clarence was frightened and ran screaming down the stairs, and members of the family went to the boys playroom.

A physician was called and found that the bullet had entered Bertram's left breast, penetrating the lung. He said the wound was fatal.

A QUICK TRANSITION.

Mr. Jason Johnson was intensely and undeniably bored. It was really the only way open for his being uncomfortable, and he realized that he had traveled far along its monotonous paths.

His gaze wandered around the walls of his splendid library, and he sighed as he recalled the interest he had once taken in collecting those familiar volumes, and the fine pictures, bric-a-brac and statuary—souvenirs of his foreign pilgrimages.

Five years before his elderly sister had come to preside over his household and him. She brought with her a young girl, whose dead mother had been her intimate friend, and for whose sake she had undertaken the care and guardianship of the child, who had been the sunshine and comfort of her life—along with Providence and Jason. Indeed, it seemed that of these three it was Margaret Bright who usually ordered the affairs, domestic and social, in the establishment.

The master of the home was persistently endeavoring to discover why his life had become so uninteresting that no amount of variety seemed to impart spice thereto.

He drove and derived physical benefit from the air and the management of his horses. But he could not say he found pleasure in the pastime. He played pool every evening because his physician advised it, but he played with the demeanor of a martyr who does his special sort of martyrdom particularly well. Occasionally he lectured before some literary society. He talked anything from law to athletics, with the college youths who paid frequent visits to his brownstone mansion, when Margaret was at home. In winter he went South. In summer the Adirondacks or the Canadian forests yielded fish or game to his rod or gun. But of late he was obliged to confess that he was weary of these sports, and he did not consider it worth while to visit India and try tiger shooting as a last resource. So he bitterly reflected that he must have reached that time when some men discover that they are "no longer so young as they were."

This line of thought was interrupted by the entrance of his sister Delia and her ward.

"Your sister has been telling me that you did not live here when you were a boy and that you were not always wealthy. I wish you to tell me about it," concluded this imperious young woman.

"I was very poor and ambitious and—happy," he said with an odd little smile as though he were joking instead of uttering the solemn and amazing truth. "Perhaps you would not care to hear of the struggle and the results." (Again that queer flickering smile, and the very serious expression of the eyes seemed to contradict each other and puzzled the girl, who was watching his face.)

"But after I was graduated in law I found that I possessed just $10. After a tedious time I possessed 50 cents. I went to a prominent business man and told him I must have something to do. He might have given me a place as porter, but he gave me a less certain thing—a bad bill to collect. I called on the debtor. He was polite but unresponsive. I called again. He was suave, but, so far as yielding to my demands, as immovable as Gibralter. I met him when he came from breakfast, and I always visited him when he returned from lunch. He became indignant, but I was unremittingly persistent, and at last he gave me a bad debt promising to settle my claim if I could collect his money.

"I was discouraged, but by a plan similar to the one I had long rehearsed, I made myself so annoying that to be rid of me the man somehow got the money and paid me. I enjoyed a good dinner myself that day and since then have never wanted any necessity. That, my Meg, was not the kind of story you were expecting, was it?"

Margaret did not answer, for the maid announced a visitor and she passed into the drawing-room, where young Mr. Philip Warren was waiting. Jason Johnson rose and went to a bookcase and examined several old volumes. He dusted them carefully and replaced them tenderly—they were the first he had ever been able to purchase, and to him they represented much.

"Jason," said his sister, "I suspect that there is something serious between our little girl and this Mr. Warren. Don't you think him a fine young man and worthy of our approval? I won't say that anyone is worthy of Margaret," she added jealously.

stood facing him and looking greatly disturbed.

"What is it, Meggie? Are you—that is—it seems to me, he left rather early."—

"Yes, I sent him away. He asked me to marry him, and I am sorry he did. Somehow I never realised before how a man like him is dependent upon others, but to-night I thought if he were thrown on his own resources, as you were, once, he would never surmount all obstacles. I am sure he is not strong enough. And while he was speaking, he appeared so like a boy, so very young"—

"Oh, Meg," cried Jason Johnson. "Do you think me so very old?"

Margaret Bright was looking directly into his eyes, and I have often heard that there is magnetism in a glance. However that may be, I know he drew her to him and held her close to his hungry heart. And in that new and great happiness he found complete compensation for the many dreary, empty days that were past.—Cincinnati Post.

THOUSANDS CALLED

A Brilliant Opening of the New Acme Club Rooms.

EVERYTHING SHOWED UP WELL

The Guests Received by the Officers and the Men.

Congratulations to the Boys Come From All Sides.

The doors of the handsome new home of the Acme Club were thrown open last night, and fully 4,000 people availed themselves of the invitation to inspect the place.

It was a house warming long to be remembered by those present, while in the history of the club it can never be effaced.

Indeed, the night was a proud one for the members, who saw in the unusual interest taken by the general public a great incentive for encouragement. The thousands of people inspected each nook and corner, and their stamp of unstinted approval was enough to please any one.

It was shortly after 7:30 o'clock when the guests began to arrive, and from that time on a steady stream poured up and down the stairs, into the gymnasium, the billiard hall, reading rooms, parlors and offices.

On the first landing, President J. J. Allen and Secretary J. P. Cook received with both hands at once. They each wore a band of the club colors tucked in their dress suits. Behind them were a score of the members, present and past officers, each one doing the honors with becoming grace.

At first, small parties were escorted over the building and shown the many attractive features, but soon the gathering became so great that this was impossible to any extent, so the boys contented themselves with shaking hands and receiving the congratulations which poured in on all sides.

All the rooms were brilliantly lighted, and in the short space of time since the completion of the building had been elegantly furnished. This did not escape the attention of the visitors, and many ladies wondered at the exquisite taste shown by men, who, to the average feminine mind, are not supposed to know how to tastefully arrange apartments.

In the gymnasium upstairs, the Reliance orchestra, of twenty-five pieces, led by Charles Crist, gave a fine concert. The musicians proved themselves formidable rivals to many a professional orchestra. The numbers were excellently rendered and heartily appreciated.

Music always draws attention, so it is small wonder the gymnasium was the popular place. The spacious room, however, proved inadequate to accommodate all the guests at once, though several hundred remained during the entire programme.

Others came in, and after listening to a number or so walked around the building. The large number of ladies present was particularly noticeable. They seemed to enjoy inspecting the various machines for muscular development, even as much as the social features.

In all, the opening was a very auspicious one, and such a christening should be the harbinger of a bright and fruitful future. At all events, the thousands who did attend will remember the evening with pleasure, and will look hereafter with interest on the progress of the club.

During the evening the Reliance orchestra played the following numbers:

March, "My Darktown Gal"..Lee Johnson
Selection, "Loie Skirt Dance".Otto Bendix
March, "Directorate"...........J. P. Souza
Overture, "Lustspiel"...........Keler Bela
Waltz, "Rendezvous"...........Geo. Rosey
March, "Reliance"...............C. W. Crist
Intermezzo, "Cavalleria Rusticana"....
..............................P. Mascagni
Waltz, "Daughter of Love".C. W. Bennett
March, "Yeller Kid"............C. W. Crist
Waltz, "Robin Hood.........Reg. De Koven
March, "Viceroy"........Emile Katzenstein
March, "King Cotton"..........J. P. Sousa

President John J. Allen, Secretary J. P. Cook, A. P. Swain, C. W. Hawbecker, J. S. Shedd, Charles Hannon, Henry Tank, J. U. Bird, R. U. Revalk, Paul Carroll, Clarence Staples, Lou Hardie, Joe Champion, George Faulkner, George Humphreys, R. W. French, Charles Slamberg, Frank Cook, Fred Wallace and Harry Wager.

A Cuban Refugee Writes to Major Edwin A. Sherman.

THE SAD FATE OF A BROTHER.

Driven in Exile to Africa Because of Hatred to Spain.

MASONIC LODGES DESTROYED.

The Sad Effects of the War Now on the Wretched Island.

Major Edwin A. Sherman has received a letter from Francis de P. Rodriguez, a Cuban patriot and a prominent Mason. The letter is interesting, for it throws light on the distressing conditions existing in Cuba. Rodriguez' name is well known in California Masonic circles. A graduate of Cornell University and a civil engineer by profession, he attained great distinction in Cuba. He was an enthusiastic Mason and was made secretary general of the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite of Free Masons of Cuba, and was also secretary of the Masonic Veterans' Association of Cuba.

The letter from Rodriguez is as follows:

"Vera Cruz, Mexico; June 2, 1897. Major Edwin A. Sherman, Oakland, Cal. — My Dear Sir and Brother: Quite a long time ago, when the National Association of Veterans held a meeting at Boston, I addressed you a letter and another to the association on behalf of Cuban Masonic Veterans. Since then nothing at all have I heard from you. Perhaps you wrote to me, the letter failing to reach me. The condition of Cuba is so heart rending that I had to run away from there to save my life. A younger brother of mine, a promising physician of Havana and enthusiastic Mason, nearly being shot, was exiled to the Spanish penal colony of the Chaffarine Islands in Africa. Myself and family are here in Mexico waiting for better times to come. I see that Senator Clements and the past president of our association has voted in the Cuban side—good for the Mason!

"Please take notice of my new address, and wishing the association and all California Masons success, I remain yours in the sacred numbers.

"F. De P. RODRIGUEZ, 33°."

Major Sherman stated this morning that he had answered Rodriguez' previous letter, but the answer had evidently been confiscated by the Spaniards.

"I was very careful to say nothing concerning Cuban matters in my letters," said Major Sherman. "I wrote principally of Masonic matters, but my letters must have been opened and then destroyed. Senor Rodriguez is an excellent man, and I feel that he is giving authentic news of Cuba. The Masons were formerly flourishing in Cuba, but the war has broken up the lodges and scattered the Masons."

CAMPER'S PARADISE.

New Free Ground on the Russian River Opened to the Public.

Campers and people who desire to establish summer homes in a romantic section are offered a rare opportunity by the North Pacific Coast Railroad on the company's land at Mesa Grande, a fine plateau lying along the Russian river in Sonoma county. The company has piped water to the ground from magnificent mountain springs a mile from the mesa, and the water was turned on last week. The tract has been surveyed and mapped off in lots 40x80 feet, which campers may select and occupy free of charge, with free use of water and the privilege of taking wood free from the company's land adjoining. Any family that desires to erect a cabin for permanent use may lease a lot for a term of years at a nominal rental of $1 a year. The bathing and boating facilities are exceptionally fine, the climate is noted for its salubrity, fishing and hunting is good in the neighborhood and the attractions are so numerous that, combined with cheap railroad fares, Mesa Grande promises to become a popular summer camp resort. In order to give the public an opportunity to visit the grounds at small expense, there will be special excursions to Mesa Grande every Saturday and every Sunday this month, for which the low rate of $1.50 for the round trip has been made and tickets may be procured from Mr. Locke at the Sausalito ferry every Saturday morning before the departure of the steamer at 7 A. M. and Sundays at 8 A. M. Maps may be procured by addressing the N. P. C. R. R., 14 Sansome street, San Francisco.

THE SPIRITUALISTS.

The Adventists, who are camping at Bushrod Park, have elected their conference officers as follows: Elder W. T. Knox of Los Angeles, president; J. J. Ireland of Oakland, secretary; Pacific Press Publishing Company, treasurer. The following named persons were elected as an executive committee: W. T. Knox, N. C. McClure, M. C. Wilcox, R. S. Owen, E. E. Andross, H. F. Courter and G. W. Reaser.

During the meeting Dr. A. J. Sanderson made an earnest appeal in behalf of the St. Helena Sanitarium, and the principles of health reform as advocated by that institution.

Elder G. A. Irwin made an interesting address in the afternoon.

The Board of Trade Takes the Initiative in the Matter.

VIEWS OF LEADING CITIZENS.

Consideration of a Reception to the Advancing Endeavorers.

At the special meeting of the Board of Trade in its new rooms at Fourteenth and Washington streets yesterday afternoon, it was definitely decided to have a celebration in Oakland on the Fourth of July, and a committee of seven to take the matter in charge was ordered appointed by vice-president Breed.

This committee will be composed of citizens, and it iwll have full power to act without reporting back to the Board of Trade.

It was further decided at the meeting that the Christian Endeavorers may call upon the Board for assistance in entertaining the visitors on the 13th of July.

The following directors were present at the meeting: M. J. Keller, A. H. Breed, G. W. Fisher, A. D. Pryal, F. W. Spiars, H. L. Branthaver, W. E. Barnard, Albert Kayser, P. J. Keller, Fred Kahn, and H. C. Capwell.

The meeting was called to order by A. H. Breed.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with, and after the reading of several communications by Secretary Craigie Sharpe, Mr. Breed stated that the meeting was called to order that the Board might take action in regard to what it intended to do with reference to the celebration of the Fourth of July and the entertainment of the Christian Endeavorers on July 13th. The proposition was, he said, whether the Board of Trade would take any action toward celebrating the Fourth of July, or whether it would drop the celebration and co-operate with the other bodies in entertaining the Endeavorers. He then asked for Mr. Keller's views.

Mr. Keller thought they ought to carry out the original intention, but, whether the Board should take any action was a subject for discussion.

Mr. Fisher, being called upon, said he had not thought much of the matter. He was waiting till after the discussion, to form an opinion as to whether the Board should take the matter in hand or the whole people of Oakland should work for the success of the celebration.

Mr. Breed explained that a committee had been appointed from several organizations to take charge of the two events and that the committee, after a thorough canvass, had concluded that the two events could not be combined. Mr. Gier, chairman of the Finance Committee, had been criticized, and the Committee, becoming disgusted, had decided to abandon the whole thing.

MR. BARNARD'S VIEWS.

Mr. Barnard, one of the disbanded committee of seventeen explained that the committee had concluded that the joint committee could not work together, so it was decided to report back to the various organizations and disband. The opinion has been general in the committee, he said, that, owing to the hard times and the scarcity of funds, a celebration creditable to the city could not be made.

Mr. Bunce, another of the committee felt that it could not make a success of both the Fourth of July celebration and the entertainment of the Endeavorors, so it had been thought best to turn their attention to the entertainment of the Endeavorers. Mr. Gier, said Mr. Bunce, had promised to do all in his power, individually, to make successes of both affairs.

"What funds—and for what purpose would they be required—would he necessary for the 13th?" asked Mr. Capell. "I don't see why our national day should be set aside simply to sidetrack the cars of the Christian Endeavorers. San Francisco, not Oakland, is the Endeavorer's objective point. Simply co-operation on the part of the people is all that is required to get free transportation for those people. On the other hand, only a little celebration on the Fourth of July is likely to keep the people here, and that is what we want to do."

"As regards one committee handling both affairs," said Mr. Breed, "it is impossible, as there are different elements to be considered."

"Quite different," agreed Mr. Capwell. "When I first heard of the disbanding of the committee, I thought it was rather a petty proceeding, but I have since thought the matter over and I see that the different elements make it impossible to work in harmony."

TWO COMMITTEES.

Mr. Breed said there ought to have been two separate committees in the first place.

Secretary Craigie Sharp, E. E. Bunce and Albert Kayser spoke in favor of the celebration.

Mr. Kahn said that the principal thing before the subscribing public was the tunnel road and he thought it might be impossible to raise the money for the celebration.

Mr. Keller said that money would not be any great object. He thought there was enough patriotism in Oakland to give a good celebration. The Board could raise enough on July 3d to pay for bands and a little powder.

SENATOR WHITE.

The following letter from Senator White was read:

"Craigie Sharp, Esq.—Dear Sir: Yours of the 22d inst. favoring the enactment of the Torrey bill received. The Senate passed a bankruptcy bill widely different from the Torrey measure, and will not vote for a measure similar to the Torrey proposition. The times do not justify such a drastic understand that the failure to procure the adoption of a bill providing for the payment of five per cent to the State of the net proceeds of the sale of public lands, involving over $800,000, and the failure to pass the mineral lands bill, and the failure to accomplish anything of moment in the interest of our State, are due to the difficulties above mentioned."

"STEPHEN M. WHITE."

A BAD EXPLOSION.

One Miner Instantly Killed and Another Seriously Wounded.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

PEORIA, Ill., June 9.—Onno Eilts, a miner, was instantly killed in an explosion at Shell's coal mine, three miles south of this city. William Pelper, a companion laborer, was seriously injured.

While at work a mile from the mouth of the mine they set a blast and returned to the room just as the explosion occurred. An immense pile of stone, coal and earth was hurled against them.

Pelper crawled a mile on his hands and knees and notified those on the outside of the accident. Eilts was aged 44 and leaves a widow and six children.

TO SAVE MONEY.

The Wonderful Bargains to Be Had at the Hub Clothing Co.

The Hub Clothing Company of San Francisco has received an ejectment notice from the landlord of their temporary quarters, 220-224 Sutter street, to vacate the same on June 30th. Only three weeks remains in which to close out their mammoth stock of men's and boys' fine clothing, hats and furnishings. To do it they have cut prices in every department far below the actual cost of production. This is the one chance of a lifetime for the public at large to save from thirty-five to fifty per cent on their purchases made at this reliable house during the next twenty-one days. Nothing will be spared. What is left on the 1st of July will be closed out in bulk to other dealers or thrown away under the auctioneer's hammer. This sale is bonifide and it will pay our readers to make an early inspection of the grand bargains The Hub has now in store for their patrons. A word to the wise is sufficient.

F. M. Smith Returns.

F. M. Smith has returned from a flying trip to Europe.

Mr. Smith had a pleasant journey and was absent only five weeks.

He went directly to England where the stockholders of the borax company with which he is connected held a meeting. It was their annual gathering, and Mr. Smith declared that there was no project on hand to sell any stock or bonds on his part. He also stated that his trip was on purely private business connected with his borax interests, and had nothing to do with the Realty Syndicate, the street railroads, or any other Oakland matter.

On the journey across the country Mr. Smith met Colonel Crocker on board the train, and the two enjoyed the remainder of the journey in each other's company.

MR. BARNICKEL'S BAZAR.

One of the notable bargain stores of Oakland is the Golden Gate Bazar on Washington street, between Seventh and Eighth, at which P. Barnickel is the genial proprietor. He keeps a full stock of cutlery, tin and agate ware, bird cages, stoves, household sundries, and he does plumbing of all kinds. His prices dery local competition.

AFFLICTION OVERRIDDEN

Great Progress of the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Students.

HOW THEY ARE CARED FOR.

Use Made by Them of the Practical Education Imparted.

AN ADDRESS BY DR. LE CONTE.

A List of the Scholars Who Live to Make a Living.

Could Oliver Twist and his contemporaries step forth from the pages of history and visit some of the institutions which at the present day are devoted to the uplifting of the unfortunate, the former would doubtless imagine himself within the portals of heaven, while those in authority would unquestionably regard the establishment and maintenance of such institutions as too wide an outlet for the public moneys, and the prevalent spirit within their walls one at war with a true conception of discipline.

The Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind at Berkeley is not a charity, nor is the case of Oliver Twist exactly analogous to that of its inmates, except that affliction rested on him as on them, on the former that of poverty, on the latter of bodily ailment. Still the State institution shows the spirit of the age. Its aim is to educate, its associations refining and hope inspiring.

Its situation shows the united handiwork of man and nature—behind its buildings of red brick the hills, before it the hazy panorama of the town, the bay and the further heights, close by the garden terrace, with its gravel walks and beds of bright flowers, the driveway under the trees, the orchard just below, and clinging to the walls clusters of pink geraniums, roses, and, completely concealing the side of the central building, a deep green tapestry of vine of the ivy species.

Within the sunny walls is admirable order, clean, long carpeted corridors in finish of cedar, stairways of granite or sandstone and rooms well lighted and ventilated. To the left of the educational building is the boys' quarters—that is, the deaf and dumb boys. How our little friend Oliver would admire the large room in the basement, the boys' winter resort and the cool swimming tank in a room near by, the study room upstairs, sunny, with pictures on the walls, an open fireplace, pleasant tables and electric lights for the evening study. How much rather he would spend the night in one of the white beds in its separate alcove with its red and white curtain than in that dreadful coal cellar. The air in this large room is always fresh, the ventilation being exceptionally good.

The girls' building is on the same plan. The blind have their quarters further up the hill. The manual training department, the cooking school, etc., fit the student for practical life. The kitchen and dining room are in a separate building. The kitchen shines with cleanliness, and the great copper kettles are brilliant with polish. The cooking is done by steam. The dining room was formerly the chapel and is an attractive place with high ceiling and stained glass windows. It looks like a place where Oliver need not tremble to ask for "more." A massive side-board is a piece of work by the students which really reflects credit upon themselves and their instructors.

METHOD OF INSTRUCTION.

The schooling given at the institution prepares the students for the University. Some of them continue their studies, others turn to farming or become carpenters, and a great many become printers. The children may spend seven years after their twelfth in the institution. A deaf mute pupil receives his first instruction by seeing an object represented by signs, then spelled out, then written. The process is long and laborious. Articulation is also taught.

Three systems of raised print for the blind are in use. The first is the line system, in which the letters are formed of short lines.

The second is the New York system, or the horizontal, where the letters are only two dots deep. The third is the Braille system, or the vertical, in which the letters are three dots deep. The last named is now coming quickly into use, mainly because of the invention of a machine resembling a typewriter simplified in its appearance, which prints this alphabet by combinations of six dots. Professor Chas. Wilkinson, who for thirty years had charge of the blind department of the institution, is compiling books to make a library of his own for the use of the blind people. The plates are of zinc, and then impressions from these are taken on paper. Professor Wilkinson has already printed a book of selected poems, a book of logic and a geography, and is now engaged with a work on etymology.

The number of pupils at present in the institution aggregates 230, with a teaching force of eighteen.

Last year three of the former pupils of the school graduated from the University. This year two, namely Anna Matilda Lindstrom and Frances Amelia Norton, will probably enter the Gallaudet College at Washington, D. C., which is the national institution for deaf mutes.

YESTERDAY'S CLASS.

A class of fifteen bright young people graduated from the institution yesterday afternoon. The assembly hall was crowded to the doors. The platform was very prettily decorated with roses and plants. The exercises opened with a prayer by Rev. Dr. Willy, followed by a chorus by the blind songsters, "When Early Dreams O'er Us."

The salutation was delivered by Florence Alexander. Though the young lady lost her voice, in spite of a certain lisp, was clear and distinct. In the course of her address she said: "The object of the school is to promote the education of the deaf and dumb and the blind.

The chair made vacant by death is always a sad reminder. It is especially sad when it is mother's chair. All over this broad land there are vacant chairs that would still be occupied by healthy, happy, radiant mothers if women would but realise the importance of keeping well in a womanly way. Women cannot too soon understand that it is little less than a crime to neglect the health of the organs to which are intrusted the perpetuation of a healthy, robust race of human beings. By neglect of these organs a woman ruins her own health, destroys the happiness of her home, and fails in the performance of the most sublime duty that she owes to the world.

The best medicine for women who are weak where Nature demands the most strength is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly upon the organs that make motherhood possible. It cures all weakness and disease that exists there and stops all distressing, debilitating drains. It prepares a woman for motherhood and insures a healthy baby. It makes the coming of baby easy and almost painless. Druggists who offer something "just as good" are either ignorant or dishonest and in either case are not to be trusted.

"I had been a great sufferer for years with female weakness," writes Mrs. John Downie, of No. 243 Lexington Avenue, Eddystone, Delaware Co., Pa. "Could not walk three squares without terrible suffering. I also had a pain in my left side for seven years—until I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' My pain has left me altogether. Have had no symptoms of it at all for two years. Can walk two or three miles at a time and it does not hurt me. I cannot recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines highly enough. My daughter also has used your medicines with great benefit. She was operated upon for appendicitis and had fainting spells from it. She took the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Extract of Smart-Weed,' and the 'Pleasant Pellets' and has not had any fainting spells for one year. When she commenced to take it she weighed 95 pounds now she weighs 140 pounds."

Constipation! It is the fountain-head of many diseases. It causes impure blood and all manner of disorders are the result. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Promptly. Surely. Permanently. They never gripe. Druggists sell them.

spelling and reading from the raised print. Two of the little ones showed great quickness in the multiplication table and a thorough knowledge of the geography of the United States.

The senior deaf pupils answered questions put to them by the audience on the blackboard. Their answers showed great intelligence.

Illustrations of speech, lip reading and sign language were given by a number of deaf pupils under the direction of Mr. Whipple.

DR. LE CONTE.

A baritone solo, "Simon the Cellarer," by William Brooks, was followed by the address to the graduates by Dr. Joseph Le Conte.

"My young friends and fellow students," he said, "for I am also a student, we are never too old to study. The culture of the intellect is the highest pursuit of man. I came not to speak words of pity or of compassion, or even of sympathy, but rather of encouragement.

"We are all more or less handicapped in the struggle of life, by sickness or by poverty or by ignorance, or, as you, by bodily affliction.

"The object of this institution is to place you on a level with others. Some people are apt to think of you as hopeless, helpless, and that this is a charity asylum. It is not—it is a noble educational institution, not of charity, but justice. I am inclined to think that the difficulties with which you have to struggle are often exaggerated. The effort caused by obstacles gives rise to strength. When there are too many obstacles, it is apt to prove disastrous to our lives, but if our life is too easy, that is also disastrous.

"A certain amount of difficulty is necessary for our highest development. This is true also in regard to education.

"Modern education seems to me too easy—there is not effort required to stir the energies of the student. The old adage comes true, 'beware of the man of a few weeks.' The Bible, Shakespeare and a few other books, if pondered over and studied, develop strength which the superficial reading of all literature will not bring. The great sculptor, if not a deaf mute, do you suppose he would have been great? No, he would have dissipated his strength in communication with others. As it was, he concentrated all his strength in his work.

"Continue to rely upon yourselves. The State has done its share. The rest depends upon yourselves."

AWARDS.

On the conclusion of Professor Le Conte's address, the diplomas were awarded the students. The musical numbers were as follows:

DR. TOM SHE BIN.

CHINESE TEA AND HERB Sanitarium. For over 300 years my family have been renowned for the most famous doctors in China.

Tom She Bin has in his possession hundreds of testimonials of those who suffered from chronic diseases and who were cured under the established method in constant use in China for over 5,000 years.

All diseases described from the pulse without asking a question.

There are 600 different kinds of herbs that cure 400 kinds of diseases. All persons afflicted with any kind of malady whatsoever invited to call. 615 Kearny st., bet. Sacramento and Commercial sts., San Francisco, Cal., U. S. A.

Dr. Tom She Bin sells Chinese herbs and tea. Sanitarium. Price by week or month. Take herbs once a day, a big ten-ounce bowl, or one package of herbs, seven packages a week. Price, six dollars a week. Two times each day, two ten-ounce bowls, or two packages of herbs. Price, ten dollars a week.

The undersigned, after seven years' suffering, without being able to obtain any relief, resolved to see Dr. Wong, but I did not obtain any help. I then determined to see Dr. Tom She Bin, and in three months I was completely cured. I commenced feeling better soon after commencing his treatment, and I was all cured.

MRS. JENNIE SAUNFERS,
1016 West 7th st., Los Angeles, Cal.

This is to certify that Dr. Tom She Bin has cured me of that dreadful disease known as heart disease, and also of weak lungs. I do make this deposition for the especial benefit of those suffering similar ailments. I must say that I was treated by the best doctor in Chicago, and after I lost all hopes I concluded to come to San Francisco for a change of climate, and immediately I heard of the wonderful cures of Dr. Tom She Bin, so I consulted him, with such good luck that after one month and a half from the time he started to treat my case I felt entirely well.

MRS. E. FRENCK,
409 Thomas Street, Chicago, Ill.

I, the undersigned, do recommend Dr. Tom She Bin as one of the best doctors to cure rheumatism, having been suffering for three years, and also been under the treatment of six skillful doctors for four months without feeling any relief. I determined to set myself under the care of Dr. Tom She Bin, who gave me immediate relief, and in the course of five weeks I was enjoying good health.

PANFILO MURILLO,
Pomona, California.

My son, nine years of age, utterly prostrated with typhoid fever for six weeks, he was under the explicit care of hospital doctors, but without avail. All his body was declared incurable. I heard the name of Doctor Tom She Bin, and at once was induced to see him, and I left my son to his absolute care. Fifteen days after my son was able to play around the yard. I fully believe Doctor Tom She Bin saved my son's life.

CARRIE CONTRERAS,
630 Mission Road, Los Angeles, Cal.

San Francisco, February 14th, 1897.

The undersigned does hereby recommend Dr. Tom She Bin as the only competent doctor. He has cured me entirely from throat disease, which many doctors declared incurable. J. A. OWENS,
Euclid Block, N. Los Angeles, Cal.

San Francisco, January 31st, 1897.

I, John A. Fain, do hereby certify that I suffered with piles for over twelve years. Dr. Tom She Bin cured me in very short time.

San Francisco, February 26th, 1897.

I have been suffering under the most dreadful disease for two years past and lost all hopes of recovering, being unable to move for four months. At last I concluded to take Dr. Tom She Bin's Wonderful Chinese herbs, and in six weeks after my health was completely restored.

J. E. MEDRAN,
756 Workmain St., East Los Angeles, Cal.

Montenzou, Cal., March 1st, 1897.

I write this letter for the benefit of any one who may be in trouble, as I have been. About fourteen years ago I was taken sick. The doctors pronounced it ulceration of the stomach and said it would end in a cancer.

At times I would vomit a black and bloody looking matter, also a great deal of white mucus. The disease would make me very nervous and despondent. At different times during my ailment I would get some relief for a few months, then it would come back as bad or worse than ever. I doctored with several as good doctors as I could find in the East and also here in California, but none of them effected a cure.

I was advised to consult Dr. Tom She Bin, which I did about the 1st of October, 1892.

He said my trouble was the cancer of the stomach. I commenced taking his medicine immediately. For the first three or four months there seemed to be but a very little change. After that time I improved very fast and am now able to do quite a good day's work. I have every reason to believe he has effected a permanent cure for me. J. L. CARPENTER.

San Francisco, March 2, 1897.

I saw Dr. Tom She Bin's advertisement. I first come up to 615 Kearny street to feel my pulse. He tell me what trouble, I had, was true. I had a pain over my body, and chilly. I put my case to him; first week I take Chinese Herb; one week I was great deal better. I been sick for six years. I go to white physician, cannot do me any good. I take Dr. Tom She Bin's Herbs six week; I was all well. I was cured about one year and never pain again.

MRS. J. SANGALL,
17 Lafayette Place, between Green and Union, Kearny and Dupont, San Francisco, Cal.

San Francisco, March 4th, 1897.

By these presents I do hereby recomment Dr. Tom She Bin as a successful doctor to cure the dreadful disease styled consumption, so common among all classes. He has restored my health in the short term of twenty days, for the trifling amount of $2.50 per day.

Signed, L. C. FLORES,
608 Upper Main St., Los Angeles, Cal.

San Francisco, March 5, 1897.

This is to certify that I have taken treatment from Dr. Tom She Bin for stomach trouble, and was cured in four weeks.

W. J. MORRISON,
1412½ Baker St., San Francisco, Cal.

San Francisco, March 6, 1897.

This is to certify that I have been entirely cured of stomach trouble by Dr. Tom She Bin in two months. I had tried several American physicians and they had failed to cure me.

MABEL BARBARER,
Milpitas, San Jose, Cal.

I have taken treatment for my kidneys, that have bothered me for a long while, and also catarrh of the stomach, and also chronic diarrhoea, and was cured in two weeks by Dr. Tom She Bin, also blood poison in my thumb.

WM. E. BRYAN,
No. 6 Martha place, San Francisco.

San Francisco, March 6, 1897.

I had gravel and kidney trouble four years. My friends sent me to Dr. Tom She Bin. He felt my pulse, and he told me what trouble I had. I put my case in his hands, and took herbs twice a day. In four weeks my troubles were all cured. Now my flesh is all good. The last three or four years I went to white doctors, but never did me any good. Now I have got well and am in good health.

JENS J. JENSEN,
213½ Clara St., San Francisco, Cal.

Geo. Osgoodby, author of the world-famous Murchison letter to Lord Sackville West, the English Embassador, in 1888, writes concerning Dr. Tom She Bin, now selling Chinese Teas and Herbs at the Sanitarium, 615 Kearny street, San Francisco, Cal., and says:

Pomona, Los Angeles Co., Cal.,
March 7, 1897.

For the benefit of those who are suffering with chronic diseases, I will say that many years of severe suffering and futile treatment ended in Bright's disease of the kidneys, of which Dr. Tom She Bin completely cured me, after correctly and minutely describing my malady from the pulse, without asking a question. He is a medical marvel, and without a peer in his profession. Respectfully,

GEO. OSGOODBY.

San Francisco, March 13th, 1897.

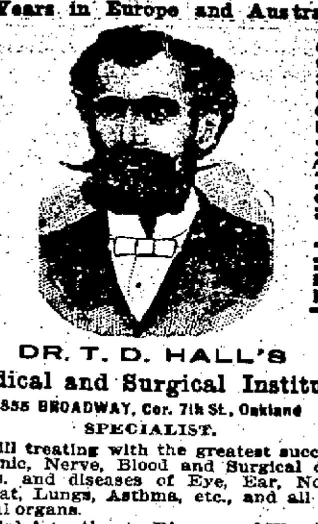

I wish to give my testimony in behalf of Dr. Tom She Bin. It is about two months ago that I fell sick with influenza, being unable to procure no other help than that of domestic remedies. I fell worse and worse, until I was totally paralyzed. I was induced to consult Tom She Bin, and he, by the aid of his wonderful Chinese herbs. I felt somewhat relieved in twenty-four hours, and he agreed to treat me for the sum of two hundred dollars, and now I feel grateful to the doctor for his efforts. Very truly,

HILARIO PRECIADO.

SUMMONS.

In the Superior Court of the County of Alameda, State of California.

Department No. —

Dora S. Clark, plaintiff, vs. George R. Clark, defendant.

Action brought in the Superior Court of Alameda County, State of California, and the complaint filed in the said Alameda County in the office of the Clerk of said Superior Court.

The people of the State of California send greeting to George R. Clark, defendant.

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above-named plaintiff, in the Superior Court of Alameda County, State of California, and to answer the complaint filed therein within ten (10) days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons, if served within this county; or, if served elsewhere, within thirty days.

The said action is brought to obtain a judgment and decree of this Court dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between plaintiff and defendant, upon the following grounds:

(1st) On the ground of the defendant's wilful desertion of the plaintiff.

(2nd) On the ground of defendant's extreme cruelty inflicted upon the plaintiff, and that the plaintiff may be allowed to resume her maiden name of Dora S. Baker.

That the real estate, described in the complaint, may be assigned and awarded wholly to the plaintiff, also for a general relief, as will more fully appear in the complaint on file, to which special reference is hereby made.

All of which will more fully appear in the complaint on file herein, to which you are hereby referred.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, as above required, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief therein demanded.

Given under my hand and seal of said Superior Court, at Alameda County, State of California, this 15th day of April, in the year of our Lord, One thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven.

(Seal) FRANK C. JORDON,
Clerk.
By J. CAL EWING,

Notice of Special Election.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a special election in and for the City of Oakland, and in and for that certain territory, lying and being in the Township of Oakland, hereinafter described and proposed to be annexed, all in the County of Alameda, State of California, to determine whether the boundaries of the City of Oakland shall be altered and new territory annexed and made a part of said city, will be held in said city of Oakland, and in said territory proposed to be annexed, all in the County of Alameda, State of California, on THURSDAY, THE 10TH DAY OF JUNE, 1897.

Whereas, The Council of the City of Oakland, County of Alameda, State of California, did, by a certain Ordinance, No 1801, passed by said Council on the 11th day of May, 1897, and approved by the Mayor of said City of Oakland, on the 11th day of May, 1897, proposed that there be submitted to the electors of said city and to the electors residing in certain new territory situate in the Township of Oakland, County of Alameda, State of California, and in said ordinance described, which territory was proposed to be annexed to the City of Oakland, the question whether said new territory which is hereinafter described and was proposed to be annexed shall be annexed to and incorporated in and made a part of said city of Oakland, which said ordinance was entitled "An Ordinance providing for a special election to determine whether the boundaries of the City of Oakland shall be altered and new territory annexed and made a part of said City," to which said ordinance reference is hereby expressly made.

And, Whereas an act entitled "An act to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of and for the annexation of territory to incorporated towns and cities, and for the incorporation of such annexed territory, in and as a part of such municipalities and for the districting, government and municipal control of annexed territory," approved March 19th, 1889, provides that the boundaries of any incorporated town or city, whether heretofore or hereafter formed, incorporated, reincorporated, organized or re-organized, may be altered, and new terrritory annexed thereto, incorporated and included therein, and made a part thereof, upon proceedings being had and taken as in the act provided

Now, therefore, in conformity with the provisions of the statute hereinbefore cited, and the said ordinance, notice is given that a special election for the purpose of determining the question herein submitted, is hereby called and will be held in the said City of Oakland, and in the said new territory proposed to be annexed thereto (which said territory so proposed to be annexed is in said Ordinance and hereinafter specifically described), on Thursday, the 10th day of June, 1897.

For the purpose of submitting to the electors of said municipal corporation and to the electors residing in said territory by said ordinance so proposed to be annexed to said city and corporation the question whether such territory shall be annexed to and incorporated in and made a part of said city and municipal corporation and for no other purpose. Which said new territory so asked and proposed to be annexed to said City of Oakland is situated in the County of Alameda and State of California, and is bounded and described as follows, to wit;

By E. F. HOLLAND, Deputy.
Oakland, May 12th, 1897.

Assessor's Poll Tax and Road Poll Tax Notice.

Poll Tax and Road Poll Tax must be paid on demand.

Oakland, March 1st, 1897.

Notice is hereby given that the State Poll Tax and Road Poll Tax for two dollars each for the year 1897, is now due and payable at the Assessor's office, room one, Court House, or to a Deputy Assessor.

Section 3529 of the Political Code reads as follows.

Every male inhabitant of the State over twenty-one and under sixty years of age, except paupers, insane persons and Indians, must annually pay a Poll Tax of two dollars, provided the same be paid between the

First Monday in March and the First Monday in July,

then it shall be three dollars.

Sec. 3846 of the Political Code makes it the duty of the Assessor to "demand Poll Tax of every person liable therefor, and on the neglect or refusal of such person to pay, he must collect by seizure and sale of any personal property owned by such person."

Under Sections 429 to 435 every person who refuses to give his own name or the name of any person in his employ, or who in any manner obstructs the Assessor or any of his deputies in the collection of the State Poll Tax, is guilty of a misdemeanor and liable to a fine of $500 or imprisonment in the County Jail, or both such fine and imprisonment.

Only those persons under twenty-one or over sixty years of age are exempt. Poll tax must be paid on demand.

The same laws apply to the collection of Road Poll Tax as to the collection of State Poll Tax.

HENRY P. DALTON,
Assessor of Alameda County.
Oakland, California.

ASSESSOR'S Notice to Taxpayers!

Oakland, March 1st, 1897.

All Persons, Firms, Companies, Corporations and Associations are required to deliver at the Assessor's office, at the Court House, City of Oakland, County of Alameda, on or before March 15, 1897, a statement under oath of all the property, both real and personal, owned or claimed by him, her or them, or in their possession or held in trust for others, at 12 o'clock meridian on the

First Monday of March, 1897

In accordance with Sec. 3629, Political Code.

Every person who refuses or neglects to furnish the statement as provided for in Section 3629 Political Code becomes liable to a fine of one hundred dollars, and the value fixed by the Assessor on their property must not be reduced by the Board of Equalization.

All persons owning real estate that has been assessed in the wrong name or errors have appeared on their tax bills, are requested to call at the Assessor's office or notify the Assessor by mail on or before March 15th, 1897, so that the proper corrections may be made on the assessment roll for the year 1897.

Assessment blanks may be obtained at the Assessor's office, room one, Court House, or from any Deputy Assessor.

HENRY P. DALTON,
Assessor of Alameda County.
Oakland, California.

No. 4203.

In the matter of the estate of Phillip Boogar, deceased.

Order to show cause why order of sale

LEGAL.

PROPOSALS for furnishing meat, [illegible] groceries, bread, clothing, hay, grain, wood and coal, blank books, hardware, electrical supplies, [illegible] lumber, building materials, [illegible] supplies required by the various departments of the city government of the city of Oakland, not including the educational department.

Department of Public Works, City of Oakland, Cal.

In accordance with resolution No. [illegible] of the Board of Public Works, sealed proposals will be received in open session by the Board of Public Works, at their office in the City Hall on Wednesday, the 16th day of June, from 10 to 11 o'clock A. M., for furnishing meat, vegetables, groceries, bread, clothing, hay and grain, wood and coal, blank books, [illegible] hardware, electrical supplies, station[illegible] lumber, building materials and other supplies to the various departments of the city government of the city of Oakland, not including the educational department for the period of one year, commencing July 1, 1897, and ending June 30, 1898.

The said supplies to be in accordance with the specifications or samples now on file in the Department of Public Works, to which reference is hereby made for particulars and description of the supplies required.

Bidders will estimate separately on any or all supplies enumerated, as per denomination, with the understanding that the Board of Public Works reserves the right to accept the lowest bid on each article of each class.

Wherever in proposal samples are requested to be furnished, the said samples must be placed in the office of the Superintendent of Public Works, not later than 5 P. M. on June 15th, 1897. All samples furnished to be properly marked, with name of bidder and class and number of said class as shown on proposals.

The city of Oakland reserves the right to use greater or less quantities than enumerated in proposal. All supplies to be delivered at such times, in such quantities and in such quantities as may be required by the various departments of the city government of the city of Oakland.

All supplies and materials furnished to be subject to the approval of the department ordering the same, and to the satisfaction of the Board of Public Works.

All bids must be made upon the blank forms of the Board, which will be furnished upon application, by the secretary.

All bids must be accompanied by a check certified by some responsible bank, made payable to the order of J. W. Tompkins, clerk of the Council, for not more than ten per cent of the proposal, which check shall be forfeited to the city of Oakland, should the bidder receiving the award fail, within ten days to enter into a contract and furnish a good and sufficient bond in a sum not to exceed [illegible] for the faithful performance of the same.

The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

By order of the Board of Public Works.
H. W. THOMAS,
Secretary.

ADJUDICATION OF INSOLVENCY.

In the Superior Court of the county of Alameda, State of California.

In the matter of Mollie C. Robinson, insolvent debtor.

Mollie C. Robinson having filed in this Court her petition, schedule and inventory in insolvency, by which it appears that she is an insolvent debtor, the said Mollie C. Robinson is hereby declared to be insolvent.

The Sheriff of the county of Alameda is hereby directed to take possession of the estate, real and personal, of the said insolvent debtor, except such as may be by law exempt from execution, and all her deeds, vouchers, books of account, papers, and to keep the same safely till the appointment of an assignee herein.

All persons are forbidden to pay any debts to the said insolvent debtor or to deliver any property belonging to the said insolvent debtor to her, or to any person, firm or corporation, or association for her use.

The said debtor is hereby forbidden to transfer or deliver any property, until further order of this Court, except as herein ordered.

It is further ordered, that all the creditors of said debtor whose claims have been placed on file in the office of the Clerk of this Court at least two days prior to the 14th day of June, 1897, be and appear before the Superior Court of the county of Alameda, State of California, in open Court, at the Court-room of said Court, Department No. 1, in the county of Alameda, on the said 14th day of June, 1897, at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day, to prove their debts and choose an assignee of the estate of said debtor.

It is further ordered, that this order be published in the Oakland Tribune, a daily newspaper of general circulation, published in the county of Alameda, as often as the said newspaper is printed before the said day set for the meeting of creditors.

And it is further ordered, that, in the meantime, all proceedings against the said insolvent debtor be stayed. Dated in open Court.

Dated June 5th, 1897.

The Acme Club Revels in Its Beautiful Rooms.

GOODFELLOWSHIP IS SHOWN.

Appreciated Courtesy on the Part of Reliance Boys.

ENLARGED DOG SHOW PURSES.

The Latest Developments in the Wheelman's League Dispute.

The most interesting events in the sporting world during the past week will be found recorded blow.

THE UMPIRE.

The auspices opening of the Acme Club was of course, the event of importance this week. The initial bow of the club in its new home will long be remembered by those who attended. The guests, hundreds in number, were escorted about the fine building and shown its many attractive features, while the clever orchestra from the Reliance Club discoursed sweet music.

It was pleasing indeed to see the two clubs join hands in such a fraternal spirit and it is to be hoped that this feeling of brotherhood will be maintained as long as two clubs exist. Though there has been an outward semblance of friendship between the two for years past, it has not been as it should. Indeed the natural club rivalry has on some occasions, advanced to a stage of enmity between some of the members, though of course, the clubs themselves have taken no cognizance of it.

Now, however, what little differences there have been in the past are blotted out and a union of interests will in future promote a greater feeling of friendship, not only between the two organizations, but among members who have been a little bitter.

When the Acme Club prepared to enter its new home, a house warming was planned, with the necessary promenade concert as an important feature. As soon as the Reliance Club became apprised of the fact that an orchestra would be in need, an almost spontaneous expression came from the musicians to offer their services. This was done and right graciously did the Acme managers grasp the hand held out to them and a simple "thank you, boys, we'll gladly accept and hope to be able to return the favor," did the rest. Everybody was pleased, even to the auditors who enjoyed the fine music immensely.

Now it is to be expected that receptions will follow. It might be that the Acme will set aside an evening in the near future for the exclusive entertainment of the Reliance members and it is sure to follow that the Reliance will reciprocate.

But to return to the house warming. There were nothing but expressions of pleasurable surprise at the fine new home, complete in all its appointments. The members of the club were congratulated repeatedly on the excellent quarters and the managers who made it all possible were complimented highly on their fine financeering and executive ability.

In this connection President J. J. [illegible] and Secretary J. P. Cook came in for a big share of praise. The two have worked side by side indefatigably with one or two others have done the major portion of the hard work. How faithfully they have handled the club's affairs, the new home, increased membership and bank account tell better than words. The treasury is rapidly on its way toward certain prosperity and all branches of the club are in keeping.

With the fine big gymnasium and all modern appliances, including the swimming tank, the athletes have everything they could possibly desire, while the members who enjoy the social features of club life more, are amply supplied with all manner of pastimes.

Indeed the future of the Acme Club is bright. It has everything at hand for a reign of peace, plenty, prosperity and success. Long live the Acme!

The action of the Pacific Kennel Association is virtually trying to make it imperative that bench shows in this state shall follow the Eastern idea and put up at least $1,000 in prizes, before the class of entries known as "prize winners" can be placed on the list, is [illegible] by every association in the state exclusive of San Francisco. If it is forced through, the result will simply be that Oakland and the smaller cities will be compelled to do without dog shows in the future, as it is certain no such sum can be raised for prizes.

It is well known that up to the last year exhibitions have run behind financially. Whether the last one paid is another question, but it could not if the $1,000 prize rule was in effect.

There has recently been a disruption in a very powerful organization, the L. A. W. owing to compelling Pacific coast members to stand by rules made in the East. If such another attempt is made a similar outcome may reasonably be expected. In fact the National Association realized the hardship of the rule in California and so practically excluded California. It certainly seems ill-advised for the few [illegible] dog men to demand that such a rule be made operative under the circumstances. "Make haste slowly" would be a good motto.

[illegible] the Acme Club opening is [illegible] the past the Reliance Club [illegible] attention. Tonight another of [illegible] enjoyable entertainments for ladies will be given, at which the wives, mothers, sisters and sweethearts will be given a glimpse, through the stereopticon of their relatives and friends on the Sunday wheel outings, which they have only so far heard of in guarded talk.

Some surprises are promised—wild, laughable surprises and this will heighten the interest.

On the following night the boxing exhibition for gentlemen is scheduled. This promises to be one of the best yet arranged and fun galore can be anticipated.

On the 15th, the Acme Club boxing contests take place. Much local interest is attached to this as two Oakland boys, Tye and Smith are to face very formidable rivals from San Francisco.

Baseball has taken a fresh spurt, owing to the determined efforts of a few enterprising enthusiasts. Of course the present activity is solely among the amateur and semi-amateur class of players, but they have come to the center, with a rush. In nearly every town on the coast these clubs have suddenly sprung into existence and the enthusiasm displayed by the devotees of the sport, indicates that they are not all of the mushroom type.

It is generally conceded that a professional league on a par with those of former days is a risky venture, for the general public has too clearly shown that it is not a paying proposition. However, the semi-amateurs fill the bill excellently and they may be the means of re-educating the backsliders into a genuine appreciation again for the sport.

If the good old baseball days of yore could be revived no one would be sorry, while many would be glad. Let us live in patient hope.

In this month's Munsey, under the department entitled "Vanity Fair," the editor endeavors to take a sarcastic slap at out door sports in an article as follows:

"If the spectacle of an able bodied man swinging by chains from the ceiling in a so-called oriental divan—dangling for all the world like a side of beef in a meat shop—is pathetic, we can balance it by a story that comes from the South of something new in the way of races. The latest and most solidly intellectual pastime is nothing less than a crab race. The gleeful participants in this exhillarating contest supply themselves with live and wriggling crabs, which, at a given signal, are unleashed to bound away along their only avenue of escape. Those that fail to win, forfeit to the possessor of the speediest crustacean.

"Watch the faces of the excited crowd cheering the fleet little creatures as they speed along sideways over the course. What a stirring contest! What a field is here for the development of a new and healthy sport? Before the end of the century we shall have 'two forty' crabs, and perhaps pedigree lobsters.

"The sight of a party of sober business men on horseback in breathless pursuit of an aniseed bag is enough to bring tears of unholy mirth to the eyes of the onlooker; but in the crab race, we have the acme of unwitting farce, the height of cultivated absurdity and the depth of pathos. Perhaps these are essential elements to sport. At any rate it does not do to bring too sharp a focus upon any amusement that takes people out of doors. In such a light even golfing shows up as nothing more than 'chasing a quinine pill around a cow pasture.'"

FOR THE LADIES.

A Special Entertainment at the Reliance Club Tonight.

This evening the Reliance Club will throw open its newly frescoed rooms to entertain with another ladies' night. The programme will consist of stereopticon views. They are all local being taken by the camera boys of the club. Some of them are fine and are sure to bring down the house. The Reliance orchestra, under the leadership of Chas. Crist will render the following pieces during the entertainment:

"El Capitan" .... Sousa
March, "Reliance" .... Crist

Prof. Billy Durand and partner will entertain the audience with guitar and banjo specialties. After this there will be a promenade concert. The orchestra will be stationed in the upper hall while the audience promenades through the building and sees the many new things that have lately been added to the club.

On Thursday evening will be given the boxing exhibition. There will be two eight-round contests for decisions, between Frank McConnell of the S. F. A. C. and Joseph Kane of the Manhattan Club, each to weigh 145 pounds; and Jimmy Reilly of the Manhattan Club and Frank Schuler of the S. F. A. C. each to weigh 125 pounds.

These men are well known in the amateur ranks, having fought many battles as amateurs. Knowing the clubs they come from, good fights are assured.

There will also be preliminaries by some of the best men on the coast.

The Reliance Gun Club will hold a shoot for members next Sunday, when the Heeseman cup and Kellogg medal will be contested for. There is always a big delegation of club shooters on hand member's day and some lively shooting can be expected.

The bicycle boys will hold a run to Centerville Sunday, having dinner there. They wheel over to Mission San Jose where a barbacue will be held and then returning by moon-light by the way of Niles. A fine time will be enjoyed by those making the trip.

The boys are now talking up the Baker & Hamilton race. They expect to put in a winning team this season.

ALL KINDS OF SPORTS.

A Brief Resume of the Interesting Events of the Week.

Encinals have selected a skipper and crew to man the Fawn in her cup contest with the Aeolus June 19th. Captain McCullough will handle the tiller and his crew consists of Messrs. F. O'Connor, Dillon, George Leonard and J. F. Woodrum.

The basket ball tournament of the Oakland and San Francisco Y. M. C. A. teams has been won by the Business Men's team from across the bay. The two games remaining to be played cannot alter the result. At present the score stands: Business Men, San Francisco—Won 11, lost 1; Athens, Oakland—Won 7, lost 3; Cyclones, Oakland—Won 5, lost 6; Rushers, San Francisco—Won 4, lost 7; Ninety-Seven, San Francisco—Won 0, lost 10.

The Oakland Monarch won the ball game with the S. N. Wood team of San [illegible] the local men who outplayed their opponents at almost every point.

The tennis players are actively preparing for the July 4th doubles tournament at San Rafael.

A Good Catch.

Striped bass are becoming plentiful in the waters of the bay and are caught in considerable numbers off the Bay Farm Island shore. Fred Binder, the Alameda pharmacist, in company with Dr. Reynolds hooked a large specimen a few days ago. It weighed fourteen pounds and was at least two feet in length.

DOINGS OF OUR LEGAL LIGHTS.

City Attorney E. K. Taylor of Alameda has one great hobby, and that is yachting. His cruiser the Emerald is one of the tautest crafts on the bay, and although once an illicit trader she has been thoroughly reformed by her present owner.

Harry Melvin is a favorite baritone and a spell-binder when it comes to story telling. When he seeks relaxation from the trammels of his legal practice he is a royal companion.

W. J. Robinson is a camera fiend and is the possessor of an outfit that would do der among amateurs. credit to a large sized professional gallery. He turns out some splendid work and is regarded as a star of the first order among amateurs.

Ex-Mayor Melvin C. Chapman is a reservoir of good humored stories concerning the law as "she is practiced and distorted" in some of the outlying Justices' courts. How he worsted Eugune Deuprey up at San Pablo is a story worth relating.

Jos. B. Barber is a gourmant, and he is constantly in search of new places where he can satisfy the cravings of his inner man for something novel in the art of cookery.

Judges Ellsworth and Greene sit in banc on the question of horseflesh. Both are fond of driving fast horses and when they obtain respite from their official duties both Judges hasten for their favorite steeds.

LIFE AND DEATH.

Valuable Statistics Compiled by the City Health Department.

The mortuary report of the city Health Department for May shows the following: Deaths from zymotic diseases, 3; constitutional diseases, 12; local diseases, 36; developmental, 4; violence, 4. The total number of deaths for the month was 60, of which 28 were males and 32 were females.

There were 63 births in May, 25 being male and 38 being female.

In May there were 14 clear days, 12 fair days, 5 cloudy days, 2 rainy days, and 9 mornings when there was a high fog. There were no mornings when frost was seen, and no mornings when there was a low fog. During the month .29 of an inch of rain fell, making 30.70 inches since July 1, 1896. The mean temperature was 59.60 degrees.

To Die for Murder.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 9.—Division No. 2 of the Supreme Court has affirmed the sentences of the St. Louis Circuit Court in the cases of George Thompson (colored) and Andrew Warton, and sentenced them to hang on July 8th. Thompson killed Thomas Cunningham, sexton of a colored church, in St. Louis, in an attempt to poison the organist. Warton is a gypsy who killed his wife in a flatboat on the Mississippi river at St. Louis.

A Midget's Death.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 9.—C. W. Sparling, a midget, is dead here of throat trouble. He was 34 years of age and was only 42 inches in height and weighed 53 pounds. Sparling was a drummer for a Dowagiac, Michigan, firm, and had been in the city for a year. His remains will be sent to Dowagiac, where he was born and where relatives survive him.

Testimonial Benefit.

A testimonial benefit is to be tendered to Master Archie Donaldson by the pupils of Mrs. Anna Donaldson at Fraternal Hall, Washington street, Friday evening next. There will be recitations, Delsarte exercises and fancy dancing, with a social dance at the close.

THE MAKER

of Deviled Crabs Asks a Question.

The following correspondence between Mr. McMenamin, the well known producer of hermetically sealed sea food, of Hampton, Virginia, and the Postum Cereal Company, may interest some as it touches a point upon which there have been some queries:

"Hampton, Va.—Postum Cereal Company, Battle Creek, Mich.—Gentlemen: Replying to your letter I beg to say that your health coffee has a flavor, so far as I can remember, of the best coffee, and this coffee flavor was so pronounced it very excellent coffee. One fee was mixed with the other grains. I served it to some of my guests without telling them what it was, and they pronounced it very excelent coffee. One of them was a coffee drinker who had to have it three times a day. I would like to know if there is any coffee in it. Very truly yours, James McMenamin."

"Battle Creek, Mich.—Mr. James McMenamin, Hampton, Virginia. Dear Sir: We have your esteemed favor of the 28th, and in reply to your inquiry as to the ingredients, will say that we are willing to stake every penny we can get together that Postum not only does not contain coffee, but that it is composed strictly and entirely of pure cereals of the field, the greater portion being the various parts of wheat. It took us nearly a year of experimenting to produce Postum the health coffee. It is an easy matter to make a weak sort of drink from browned rye, wheat or malt but to produce a liquid from the cereals that has the color, taste and nourishing properties of our present product, taxed our best energies and that of one of the most expert analytical chemists in America.

We felt a desire to demonstrate the principal that man's drink at meals should be made from grains, without any sort of adulteration or chemical preparation, aside from simple cooking. It may be further explained, that in order to produce Postum the cereals are cooked in different ways and the final mixing of the proper proportions is what gives us the desired result.

There is no possible argument that can be brought forward that will raise the question for a moment regarding the fixed fact of the healthful, nour-

LADIES' LEAGUE ENDORSED.

A Celebration Will Be Held on the Fourth of July.

A number of ladies attended the meeting of the Merchants' Exchange last evening at the invitation of the directors. They composed a delegation of the Ladies' Home Trade League and were ushered into the Exchange rooms by Director W. V. Witcher.

The ladies took seats in the ante-room when they first entered, but after the reading of the minutes and several communications Mr. Witcher was appointed a committee of one to escort them to the front. This Mr. Witcher gallantly did, Messrs. Gier and Howe ably assisting him in supplying the necessary chairs. When the ladies, four in number, had been comfortably seated in a group around Director Brown, who seemed much interested in the proceedings, President Arper said that the Exchange would be pleased to hear what the ladies had to say.

"I believe," said Mrs. Smedley, one of the ladies, "that we are here by invitation of this body, but as to our wishes from this body I will say that, in the early part of our work, it was thought well to have the endorsement of the leading organizations of the city."

Mrs. Smedley then went on to explain that the League's object was to encourage home trading, and told of the entertainments to be given for that purpose, stating that the one which had already been given proved a decided success.

Mr. Arper said he had heard that Mrs. Wood, who was present, was a good talker. He knew that she was a good writer, and, being a woman, she must be a good talker.

Mrs. Wood said that she had known Mr. Arper for some time, consequently his speech was all right. She really, though, did not know why they had been invited to be present.

Mr. Arper said that Mr. Farwell would explain that when she had finished.

"We'll hear Mr. Farwell now," said Mrs. Wood, resuming her seat.

Mr. Farwell said he had met the ladies on the street, and that they had expressed a desire to be invited.

THE LADIES GRIEVED.

Then Mrs. Wood explained that the League had been grieved because the Exchange had failed to endorse it. It was not then too late, however, for an endorsement.

Mrs. Smedley also wished the Exchange's endorsement of the League.

Mr. Brown wished to know what constituted an endorsement, and Mrs. Smedley explained that the Exchange might express its confidence in the League and say that it was a worthy organization.

In answer to a number of questions from Mr. Fish, Mrs. Smedley stated that the League expected no gain from the entertainments it intended to give; that the ticket system was used, as that was the only way to get an audience; that the expense to the merchants in buying the tickets for the entertainments was the only way to pay for the talent.

Mr. Champlin asked how much the ladies could make out of the entertainments, and Mrs. Remsen said they had worn out their shoes getting up the entertainments with no thought of gain.

"On, I'll make you a present of a pair of shoes," offered Mr. Champlin.

Under cover of the laughter that followed, the ladies retired. Later in the evening Mr. Witcher moved "that the Exchange heartily endorse the movement of the Ladies' Home Trade League, and that the members of the Exchange assist and encourage the ladies in every possible way." His motion was carried.

Mr. Fish of the Committee on the New Hotel and of the Committee on the Tunnel reported progress from both committees. The Committee on the Tunnel, he said, would meet as soon as Mr. Adams returned.

Mr. Sohst said the matter was being pushed in Contra Costa county, and Mr. Arper said the press of both Contra Costa county and Oakland was taking the matter up and was doing good work.

The report of the committee of three appointed by the Exchange on the committee of seventeen was approved down to the part recommending that another committee be appointed, and the $30.90 expense incurred by the committee was ordered paid out of the old Fourth of July fund.

SIDEWALK STORES.

Then George L. Fish brought up the matter of corner stands.

"I have been requested," said he, "to call the attention of this Exchange to a practice that is not only detrimental to the welfare of Oakland, but is a burning shame to civilization. The smaller store keepers are going along striving to eke out an existence and barely getting enough to eat. A large percentage of these smaller concerns are insolvent or are on the verge of insolvency. The idea of the landlords in renting sidewalk premises to sidewalk merchants is outrageous. Honest men and women, some widows, are being crowded to the wall by these people who go to such men as Delger and rent corners on sidewalks for $10 or $15 a month and build stores there. No citizen has a right to rent one inch of the sidewalk. When men like Mr. Blank, a good, honest, reputable citizen can hardly make a living down on Broadway I believe it is time for this body to request the Street Superintendent to abate this nuisance. They have all sorts of stores on the sidewalks. On Fourteenth street here you can even buy flowers. There are florists belonging to this Exchange. They can't pay rent and compete with these men who practically pay nothing. I want to see the Exchange take this matter up and [illegible] State law to govern the matter." He said that on Broadway and Washington merchants were not allowed to exhibit goods for more than two hours at a time on the sidewalk more than eighteen inches from the building. On the side streets a clear space of eight feet was required.

Mr. Witcher also spoke in favor of keeping the streets clear and the secretary was instructed to request the Superintendent of Streets to enforce the law in every particular.

ON ANNEXATION.

Mr. Knickerbocker brought up the annexation election to be held tomorrow, stating that he was present at the meeting because he had read in the Tribune that the matter was to be discussed. He asked that a committee of three be appointed to interview Superintendent Hays of the Home of the Adult Blind, who was opposed to the annexation; Sam Bell McKee and R. M. Fitzgerald, who had interests and influence in the outside district and the Grove street railway magnates, who, by allowing their men time to vote at the election, over sixty votes could be gained for annexation. Mr. Knickerbocker said he thought the election would result in annexation by from 150 to 300 majority.

MR. SOHST SPEAKS.

Mr. Sohst followed with a speech showing the advantages to be gained by annexation both inside and out. He dwelt on the advantages from a sanitary standpoint for the outside district.

The chair appointed W. V. Witcher, J. F. W. Sohst and F. Sinclair a committee to interview the gentlemen named.

Secretary Sharp of the Board of Trade explained the action of that body yesterday afternoon in regard to the celebration of the Fourth of July and asked that the Exchange direct its president to appoint jointly with the Board's president the Committee of Seven to have charge of the affair.

On motion of Mr. Witcher the following was adopted:

"Resolved, That the Merchants' Exchange heartily endorses the proposition of the Board of Trade to give a Fourth of July celebration and that it do everything in its power to assist in carrying the thing along."

Those present at the meeting were: Directors Brown, Sohst, Schlueter, Sinclair, Champlin, Farwell, Coward, Wixson, Cushing, Fish, Gier, Howe, Burtchael, Knickerbocker, Sanborn, Meese and Messrs. P. J. Keller and Craigie Sharp of the Board of Trade.

A Chicago Woman Investigating the Death of Her Husband.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Mrs. Anna Ely, a colored woman, is looking into the facts surrounding the death of her husband, which took place in the railroad yards at St. Louis last summer.

Mrs. Ely considers the death of her husband to be due to a mysterious murder, and it is her intention she says to unravel it.

Mrs. Ely thinks there is no doubt that Ely was struck by a cleaver in the hands of a fellow cook on board an excursion train at Desoto, Mo.

She believes he died from the effects of the wound, and his body was thrown into the yards at St. Louis to make it appear that he had accidentally been run over by a passing engine.

CUTTING RATES.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 9.—At the meeting of the Western Trunk Line Freight Committee the cut of 2 cents per hundred pounds made on lumber by the Chicago and Great Western was discussed. No fault was found with the rate, but a subcommittee was directed to inquire into the particulars and advise the committee as to the desirability of asking a change in the schedule on lumber. The rates on flour and grain by roads and water connections were referred to a special committee.
